THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 26, Number 157 | Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association | BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1926 | Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd | Price Three Cents

CAUGHT IN BEWILDERING MAZE OF POLITICS

OLD CONGRESS BACK FOR THREE MONTHS' SESSION

TO WRESTLE WITH SOME LEGISLATIVE PROBLEMS OF SERIOUS CONTENT

TAX REDUCTION, FARM RELIEF, PROHIBITION, WATER POWER DEVELOPMENT

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 6. — Caught in a bewildering blizzard of politics and legislation, the 69th congress ushered in its final three months' session here today with accustomed ceremonies.

Flurries of perplexing questions of taxation, prohibition, radio, farm relief policies and presidential aspirations swept about the capitol like yesterday's sleet and snow. Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Speaker Nick Longworth summoned both houses to business when the clocks struck noon.

The formal function of bringing the national legislatures into session in accordance with the rules of the constitution was followed out before brilliant galleries.

Washington, Dec. 6—The old congress came back today for a three months' session to wrestle with some legislative problems and pave the way for the 1928 presidential campaign.

Provisions of the constitution — rather than any energetic zeal to solve national problems—summoned the national legislature elected two years ago back into session to face the issues of tax reduction, farm relief, prohibition, water power development, river navigation and politics.

Opening day found leaders of both houses somewhat more confused than usual about what their members will do with pending legislation. They have mapped a preliminary course which will assure consideration of President Coolidge's suggestion for a temporary tax reduction on payments to be made in March but they are doubtful what, if anything, will be done.

They are offering the farm bloc an opportunity to bring forward the McNary-Haugen price stabilization bill or any other measure. But the blocs are not certain that they can find sufficient votes to reverse the action of congress in killing the bill last session.

They are skeptical about pending dry and wet bills, particularly in the senate. There is little chance of adoption of any wet measures this session, but the leaders are dubious about prospects of precipitating the wet congressional insurrection which threatens if enforcement measures sought by the drys are passed.

One decisive action they have taken. The way is cleared for adoption of the imperative government appropriation bills in the first part of the session. The leaders are doing this to reduce the danger of a filibuster to force President Coolidge to call an extra session of the new congress after March 4.

Politically the session bears more ominous portent than the legislative situation indicates.

There is keen interest in what influences the session will have on Mr. Coolidge's expected decision on whether to seek another presidential term. His tax reduction proposal is expected to provide the outstanding controversy of the session. Likewise activities of the farm blocs are being closely watched for possible effects upon the preliminary booms of former Governor Lowden of Illinois, Vice President Dawes and others.

From the democratic view, there is even more interest in what influence prohibition and perhaps underlying religious differences will have upon the prospective candidacy of Governor Al Smith of New York. They also are anxiously watching to see how the William G. McAdoo backers in the party will swing.

Socially, the session will be just about what all "lame duck" sessions are. Nine prominent names will be scratched from the senate roll and the Washington social register when this congress ends March 4.

But the White House dinner season already has opened. The night clubs are hiring more waiters. The mansions on Massachusetts Avenue, which house the social elite for a few months each year, are being reopened.

Plans call for only a short opening session of congress at noon today.

Tomorrow the message of President Coolidge upon the state of the nation will be read and Wednesday the president's budget message probably will be presented. The houses then will get to work on the treasury and post office department appropriation bills, while the senate will start in upon the rivers and harbors bill.

Ice Jam Unequalled in History of Great Lakes

SHOULD AVOID STRANGERS WHO MATCH PENNIES

Chicago, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Visitors in this city known as the "capital of crime" would do well to avoid strangers who want to "match pennies."

M. W. Muhsam, who says he is a doctor of law from the University of Berlin, complained to police that two strangers enticed him into a penny matching game and relieved him of $100—one penny at a time.

BEWILDERED BY CONFLICTING REPORTS GIVEN

ROCHESTER POLICE UNABLE TO LOCATE SATURDAY BANK BANDITS

COUNTRYSIDE REPORTS CLAIM THE ROBBERS WERE SEEN IN ALL DIRECTIONS

Rochester, Minn., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Bewildered by conflicting reports, Rochester police today continued the search for the bandits who robbed the Olmsted County Bank & Trust Company of $32,000 in a sensational daylight raid Saturday.

If reports received from all surrounding counties are to be believed, the bandits went in every direction after leaving Rochester, but police discount most of these and cling to the theory that the gang headed for the Minnesota-Iowa border line.

The only new clue to which any credence was given was the story of a taxi-driver who said he picked up two men near the bank shortly after the robbery and drove them out into the country where they transferred to another automobile.

This automobile did not fit the description of that used by the bandits in escaping but police believe it might have been a reserve motor car and the taxi-driver's two fares "lookouts."

The taxi-driver could not say how many men were in the waiting automobile. Officers believe that in addition to the chauffeur of the bandit motor car and the five men who raided the bank, perhaps a half dozen were involved, posted as watchers and held in reserve in case plans did not succeed.

Two suspects arrested at Cannon Falls where they arrived on a Rochester-Twin Cities bus, are still being held, but probably will be released today.

The men gave their names as Olson and Brown and said they were from Minneapolis. They gave a satisfactory account of their whereabouts at the time of the robbery. Police know them as "card sharps" who operated in Rochester.

Policemen Chester Fellows and W. A. Hutchins who were wounded in an exchange of shots as the bandits left the bank, are reported recovering.

A final check of the loot showed $7,500 to $8,000 in cash and $22,000 to $24,000 in Liberty bonds missing.

TWO DIE FROM INJURIES IN CAR ACCIDENTS

Minneapolis, Dec. 6—(UP)—William Haarlo, 51, of St. Cloud, died in Minneapolis General hospital Sunday of injuries suffered earlier in the week when his automobile and a street car collided. He received a fractured skull. The body will be removed to St. Cloud for burial.

St. Paul, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Glen Holm, 13, of St. Paul, struck by an automobile while playing in the street Thursday, died Sunday.

Burglars Blow 2 Safes in St. Paul Department Store and Escape With $50,000 Cash Booty

WITNESSES SWARM TO THE INQUEST

COME FOR MILES AROUND TO TESTIFY AT DEATH OF CLARA OLSON

EVIDENCE EXPECTED TO AID IN SOLUTION OF OLSON-OLSON LOVE TRAGEDY

By BERT M. DENBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., Dec. 6.—Over the snow drifted roads of this hill country today swarmed witnesses and spectators from miles around to attend the inquest over the death of pretty 22-year-old Clara Olson.

Evidence expected to aid in the solution of the Olson-Olson love tragedy is to be presented and authorities also hope to find some clue to the whereabouts of Erdman Olson, the missing suitor, who is accused of Clara's murder. The inquest is to start at 9 A. M.

Many of the roads running through the picturesque valleys near Prairie Du Chien were so heavily drifted with snow that automobiles could not break through. Horses and sleighs with occasional old fashioned bob sleds, were conspicuous. These hill people are aroused by the case as nothing in recent years has aroused them.

New evidence discovered last night, pointed to the theory that Erdman, if he killed his sweetheart as her father charges, had an accomplice. This came in the statements of Merle Murray and Parke Morse that they had seen Erdman with a stranger at a dance at Seneca, Wis., the night of the murder.

Shortly before midnight, these men stated, Erdman and the stranger left the dance in Erdman's automobile and it is the theory of the state that the two were still together—the stranger probably concealed from view—when Erdman and Clara kept their tryst. Erdman, it is believed, may have hired the stranger to commit the murder. This evidence linked with other established facts, presents the following chain of events on which District Attorney J. S. Earll is working:

Erdman and Clara—not related, although their family names are the same—met and fell in love. Clara was a timid country girl and did not relish the public dances which most of the boys and girls attended. Instead she and Erdman went on long drives alone through the wooded hills.

After a time Clara confessed to her father that she was to become a mother. Her father, old Chris Olson, went to Erdman and promised him "some cows and a piece of land" if he would marry Clara and settle down. The boy asked for a time to "think it over."

Shortly thereafter, on the night of September 9, Clara received a pencil note written from Erdman summoning her to meet him in the middle of the night. Leaving a note on her dresser, she slipped out of her father's house after midnight, and was never seen again until her body was found last Thursday, buried face down in a narrow, hastily dug grave up on the slopes of Battle Ridge. It was just as her father had seen it in a "vision" which directed him to swear out a warrant for Erdman's arrest.

Erdman, meanwhile, appeared at his father's home the morning of September 10, went back to his college classes; received a visit from Clara's father at which time old Chris Olson asked the boy where his daughter was; then Erdman disappeared.

It is the letter which Erdman wrote to Clara just before she met her death—a letter which was found Saturday tucked down in Clara's garments—that is expected to furnish the most direct path to the solution of the crime. Prosecutor Earll says the message "is most important evidence" but refused to disclose its contents until today's inquest.

Fathers of the two lovers are to be closely questioned. Clara's father, Chris Olson, will be asked in detail about the vision he had concerning the body. Earll is at a loss to explain how Chris knew the body would be found "face downward in a grave upon Battle Ridge." Erdman's father, Albert Olson, will be questioned about his knowledge of the romance. He is reported to have stated that he "didn't even know they were going together." The letter, found Saturday, is believed to disclose that he did have knowledge of the affair.

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., Dec. 6.—The heart broken parents of Erdman Olson, missing college student, who is accused of murdering his sweetheart, Clara Olson, tried valiantly today to defend their son from the charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson, parents of the missing college boy, took the witness stand in succession at the coroner's inquest into Clara's death. They frankly admitted knowledge of the fact that Erdman had been intimate with his sweetheart, but they professed confidence that he was not guilty of murder.

Before a crowded court room, Albert Olson took the stand. Contrary to interviews he is purported to have given, the father said he did not know of Erdman's whereabouts the night of the murder. (The interviews quoted him as saying Erdman had come home and tuned in on the radio).

"Clara Olson came to me in the middle of August," Olson testified, "and said she wanted my boy to marry her. I sent Erdman down to see her and get a doctor's examination made."

That, according to Erdman's father, was the last knowledge he had of the relations between his son and Clara. He testified, however, that after his son disappeared from college, he wrote home asking whether Clara had been found.

Olson then told how old Chris Olson, father of the murdered girl, had come to him before Clara's body was

(Continued on Page 3)

REPORTED THAT KING FERDINAND OPERATED UPON

Vienna, Dec. 6.—(UP)—It was reported from Bucharest today that King Ferdinand of Rumania had been operated upon and that the operation had been successful.

Further advices from the Rumanian capital said that Dr. Hartmann, after performing the operation this morning, had issued a favorable bulletin.

HUERTA SAYS HE'S MARKING TIME FOR ENTRY

EXPECTS TO ENTER MEXICO AND ASSUME CHARGE OF THE UPRISING

SAYS HE KNOWS AMERICAN NEUTRALITY LAWS AND IS OBSERVING THEM

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 66.—(UP)—Adolfo De La Huerta, one time provisional president of Mexico, asserted here today that he is "marking time" for an opportunity to go into Mexico and assume charge of an uprising in that country.

Although the Mexican consulate announced that De La Huerta had been arrested on charges of violating American neutrality laws, United States authorities denied that the famous Mexican was being sought and he was located with his secretary and a companion in a dingy hotel.

"The United States authorities are acquainted with my aims and I am keeping in touch with department of justice agents in Los Angeles," he said. "I know the neutrality laws of this country and I am keeping within them.

"My relations with the United States are perfectly friendly and as soon as the revolutionists capture a certain border town, I am going to return to my country and lead the movement against the Calles government."

WATCHMAN AND PORTER WERE OVERCOME

RELEASED TO MAKE HIS USUAL ROUNDS OF CALL BOXES AT POINT OF GUN

SAFE BLOWERS WORKED UNMOLESTED 4 HOURS, USING SIX BLASTS

St. Paul, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Three young safe blowers blew open two safes in a department store here and escaped with $50,000 in Christmas receipts and jewelry early today.

The firm was the Schuneman's & Mannheimer's department store. A watchman and a porter were overcome by the burglars and handcuffed for four hours to an iron post. They were released only to make the usual rounds of call boxes at the point of a gun.

Stephen Wells, 40, the watchman, and I. A. Gravel, 52, the porter, said the bandits broke into the store at 8 P. M. Sunday and overpowered them.

Six charges of a powerful explosive were used to blast open the two safes and gain access to the contents.

The safes contained $35,000 in cash taken in from holiday shoppers Saturday and $15,000 in jewelry. This was placed in four sacks and taken outside to where a fourth member of the gang waited at the wheel of an automobile.

The gang made its escape shortly after midnight. No one saw them enter and no one witnessed their escape.

Failure of the watchman to ring his call boxes caused the American District Telephone Company to investigate and at 1:30 A. M. Gravel and Wells were found on the fourth floor handcuffed to an iron post. The watchman said he had been handcuffed and forced to ring call boxes at half hour intervals for four hours while the safe blowers worked unmolested.

Store officials said the loss was fully covered by insurance with the exception of $200 damage to the store, caused by explosives.

Four suspects were under arrest at noon today.

Although the watchman and porter saw only three burglars, police believe three others were stationed as lookouts.

No finger prints were found.

LEAGUE NATIONS COUNCIL SESSION ADJOURNS TO TUESDAY

Geneva, Dec. 6.—(UP)—After a public session of unusual brevity the opening session of the council of the League of Nations today adjourned until Tuesday afternoon to give the "Big Three" of the council time to privately discuss the German disarmament. Aristide Briand of France, Austen Chamberlain of England and Gustav Stresemann of Germany, all foreign ministers, will dominate the conference which will take up an agenda embracing some 30 questions.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS IS OPERATIVE

Washington, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Charges of conspiracy to defraud the government by evasion of federal tax laws are outlawed by the statute of limitations after three years, the United States supreme court ruled today.

The ruling was given on a government appeal from Chicago district court which quashed indictments against James W. McElvain and Frank Crozier, of the Freeman Coal Mining company, Chicago, holding that the three year statute governed. The prosecution supported the six year statute which the supreme court had held applied to perjury indictments arising from income tax cases.

100 POLICEMEN SEARCH FOR WRITER, AGATHA CHRISTIE

London, Dec. 1.—(UP)—A hundred policemen were searching today for Mrs. Agatha Christie, novelist, who left her home at Sunningdale, Berkshire, last Friday and has not been seen since.

Her automobile containing feminine clothes had been found near Guildford. Five nearby ponds have been dragged.

Mrs. Christie is a daughter of the late Frederick Miller of New York City and wife of Colonel Archibald Christie.

ALLEGED "YELLOW PERIL" ALWAYS IN BACKGROUND

APPEARS IN FALL-DOHENY OIL CONSPIRACY TRIAL AT WASHINGTON

ADMIRAL J. K. ROBINSON RESUMES WITNESS STAND IN INQUIRY

By HERBERT B. LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 6—With the alleged "Yellow Peril" of 1921-1922 constantly in the background of the Fall-Doheny oil conspiracy trial, Admiral J. K. Robinson, defense witness, today sought to justify the disputed Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, oil storage tank contracts and the Elk Hills oil leases because of the advantages derived by the navy.

Robinson, resuming the witness stand as the trial reopened, testified the government got much it did not pay for in the deal. Speaking of the contract by which Edward L. Doheny was to build the Pearl Harbor tanks in exchange for the Elk Hills oil reserves, the admiral specified the following additional advantages which accrued to the navy:

1. A continuous option on 3,000,000 barrels of oil in Atlantic coast storage.

2. Another 1,000,000 barrels of free storage facility on the Pacific coast.

3. A 15-year right to purchase petroleum products at 10 per cent below market price.

Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, tried to bring out in cross examination that the contracts were kept secret for fear of congressional objection. Robinson asserted, however, that secrecy was observed because it was in the public interest.

Roberts then read part of the Robinson testimony to the Los Angeles civil suit over the leases in which the admiral said there had been a desire to keep the matter from congress.

U. S. SUPREME COURT RECESS DEC. 13 TO JAN. 3

Washington, Dec. 6—(UP)—The United States supreme court today announced it would recess from next Monday, December 13, until Monday, January 3.

NEW SHERIFF ARRESTS OLD ONE HE SUCCEEDS

Marion, Ill., Dec. 6.—(UP)—As his first act in office today Sheriff Oran Coleman of Williamson county arrested George Galligan, the man he succeeded just a few minutes before.

Galligan was arrested on a murder charge preferred by Mrs. Charles Woolad, who alleged that Galligan was responsible for the death of her husband and six others during the S. Glenn Young regime in 1924.

Mrs. Woolard swore before Justice Davis that Galligan was in the group that shot and killed Woolard and his six companions during the riots of August 30, 1924, here.

Galligan, who had given Coleman his best wishes not 30 minutes before the latter arrested him, characterized himself as "heart broken" and declared he did not "know what to think" of the charge.

120 FREIGHT VESSELS ARE HELD CAPTIVE

INDICATIONS ARE IT MAY TAKE WEEKS TO RELEASE SHIPS

AFTER 2 DAYS' WORK FLEET OF TUGS AND CAR FERRY RELEASE FIVE

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 6.—(UP)—An ice jam unequalled in the history of the Great Lakes today held captive 120 freight vessels in the channels of St. Mary's river.

Indications were that it might take weeks to complete the rescue task.

After two days work with a fleet of tugs and the great car ferry Sault Ste. Marie in charge of Captain Fred C. Bailey of Cleveland, only five of the ships had been clipped free.

Unless the present sub-zero weather moderates, Captain Bailey said today, the best that can be hoped is the liberation of three ships daily. He admitted there was a possibility some of the vessels might be forced to spend the winter in the ice. Suffering among the crews is not yet acute.

The traffic snarl, according to best estimates includes 66 ships in the down bound line in West Neebush cut and 54 ships in the east end. Combined efforts of the tugs and ferry Sault Ste. Marie resulted yesterday in freeing the Assiniboia, Haggerty and Lake George.

Altogether 11 ships have been released since the fleet became locked in the ice. Thursday the tugs freed the McNaughton, Robbins, Nettison and Vega and Friday the Superior and Joseph Wood.

Work of freeing the ships at best a slow task, was further retarded by the zero weather which once Sunday froze in the Sainte Marie, requiring the aid of tugs to rescue the rescuer.

While food aboard the beleaguered ships was believed adequate for present needs, the fuel situation on the down bound ships, which are loaded mainly with grain and ore was cause for concern today. The upbound ships are well loaded with coal and a fuel shortage among them is not feared.

Emergency food supplies are available here, but additional supplies of coal are both low here and at a nearby Canadian port. As a result offiifficials in charge of rescue operations were considering today the advisability of commandeering the coal cargo of the Lake George which was freed late last night.

Meanwhile more than 2,000 Great Lakes seamen in the crews of the ice locked ships were making preparations for a protracted stay aboard their ships and today many looked forward to a Christmas in their "city of ice."

When active rescue work was temporarily abandoned last night, scores of riding lights blinked picturesquely against the Canadian shore line, while aboard the ships crews huddled around radio sets which brought a measure of enjoyment out of a situation fraught with potential danger. Because of the closely packed ice, communications between some of the ships was possible, and today the tug crews planned to gather up mail to relatives of the stranded men.

WISCONSIN LAKES ARE FROZEN OVER

Madison, Wis., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Lakes Mendota and Momona here were frozen over Sunday, the earliest date that they have become ice bound for the past 33 years, the United States weather bureau announced today.

The temperature was seven above zero early today with prediction that it would become warmer tonight and that more snow would be added to the six inches already hindering traffic.

DESPONDENT OVER DEATH OF DAUGHTER

Madison, Wis., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Despondent since the death of her daughter a year ago Mrs. Grace Meek committed suicide early today by locking herself in a bath room with her two months old son and turning on the gas. It is believed the child will recover.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 26, Number 157 | Full Leased Wire Service of United Press Association | BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1926 | Printed on Paper Made in Brainerd | Price Three Cents

CAUGHT IN BEWILDERING MAZE OF POLITICS

OLD CONGRESS BACK FOR THREE MONTHS' SESSION

TO WRESTLE WITH SOME LEGISLATIVE PROBLEMS OF SERIOUS CONTENT

TAX REDUCTION, FARM RELIEF, PROHIBITION, WATER POWER DEVELOPMENT

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 6. — Caught in a bewildering blizzard of politics and legislation, the 69th congress ushered in its final three months' session here today with accustomed ceremonies.

Flurries of perplexing questions of taxation, prohibition, radio, farm relief policies and presidential aspirations swept about the capitol like yesterday's sleet and snow. Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Speaker Nick Longworth summoned both houses to business when the clocks struck noon.

The formal function of bringing the national legislatures into session in accordance with the rules of the constitution was followed out before brilliant galleries.

Washington, Dec. 6—The old congress came back today for a three months' session to wrestle with some legislative problems and pave the way for the 1928 presidential campaign.

Provisions of the constitution — rather than any energetic zeal to solve national problems—summoned the national legislature elected two years ago back into session to face the issues of tax reduction, farm relief, prohibition, water power development, river navigation and politics.

Opening day found leaders of both houses somewhat more confused than usual about what their members will do with pending legislation. They have mapped a preliminary course which will assure consideration of President Coolidge's suggestion for a temporary tax reduction on payments to be made in March but they are doubtful what, if anything, will be done.

They are offering the farm bloc an opportunity to bring forward the McNary-Haugen price stabilization bill or any other measure. But the blocs are not certain that they can find sufficient votes to reverse the action of congress in killing the bill last session.

They are skeptical about pending dry and wet bills, particularly in the senate. There is little chance of adoption of any wet measures this session, but the leaders are dubious about prospects of precipitating the wet congressional insurrection which threatens if enforcement measures sought by the drys are passed.

One decisive action they have taken. The way is cleared for adoption of the imperative government appropriation bills in the first part of the session. The leaders are doing this to reduce the danger of a filibuster to force President Coolidge to call an extra session of the new congress after March 4.

Politically the session bears more ominous portent than the legislative situation indicates.

There is keen interest in what influences the session will have on Mr. Coolidge's expected decision on whether to seek another presidential term. His tax reduction proposal is expected to provide the outstanding controversy of the session. Likewise activities of the farm blocs are being closely watched for possible effects upon the preliminary booms of former Governor Lowden of Illinis, Vice President Dawes and others.

From the democratic view, there is even more interest in what influence prohibition and perhaps underlying religious differences will have upon the prospective candidacy of Governor Al Smith of New York. They also are anxiously watching to see how the William G. McAdoo backers in the party will swing.

Socially, the session will be just about what all "lame duck" sessions are. Nine prominent names will be scratched from the senate roll and the Washington social register when this congress ends March 4.

But the White House dinner season already has opened. The night clubs are hiring more waiters. The mansions on Massachusetts Avenue, which house the social elite for a few months each year, are being reopened.

Plans call for only a short opening session of congress at noon today.

Tomorrow the message of President Coolidge upon the state of the nation will be read and Wednesday the president's budget message probably will be presented. The houses then will get to work on the treasury and post office department appropriation bills, while the senate will start in upon the rivers and harbors bill.

Ice Jam Unequalled in History of Great Lakes

SHOULD AVOID STRANGERS WHO MATCH PENNIES

Chicago, Dec. 6. — (UP) — Visitors in this city known as the "capital of crime" would do well to avoid strangers who want to "match pennies."

M. W. Muhsam, who says he is a doctor of law from the University of Berlin, complained to police that two strangers enticed him into a penny matching game and relieved him of $100—one penny at a time.

BEWILDERED BY CONFLICTING REPORTS GIVEN

ROCHESTER POLICE UNABLE TO LOCATE SATURDAY BANK BANDITS

COUNTRYSIDE REPORTS CLAIM THE ROBBERS WERE SEEN IN ALL DIRECTIONS

Rochester, Minn., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Bewildered by conflicting reports, Rochester police today continued the search for the bandits who robbed the Olmsted County Bank & Trust Company of $32,000 in a sensational daylight raid Saturday.

If reports received from all surrounding counties are to be believed, the bandits went in every direction after leaving Rochester, but police discount most of these and cling to the theory that the gang headed for the Minnesota-Iowa border line.

The only new clue to which any credence was given was the story of a taxi-driver who said he picked up two men near the bank shortly after the robbery and drove them out into the country where they transferred to another automobile.

This automobile did not fit the description of that used by the bandits in escaping but police believe it might have been a reserve motor car and the taxi-driver's two fares "lookouts."

The taxi-driver could not say how many men were in the waiting automobile. Officers believe that in addition to the chauffeur of the bandit motor car and the five men who raided the bank, perhaps a half dozen were involved, posted as watchers and held in reserve in case plans did not succeed.

Two suspects arrested at Cannon Falls where they arrived on a Rochester-Twin Cities bus, are still being held, but probably will be released today.

The men gave their names as Olson and Brown and said they were from Minneapolis. They gave a satisfactory account of their whereabouts at the time of the robbery. Police know them as "card sharps" who operated in Rochester.

Policemen Chester Fellows and W. A. Hutchins who were wounded in an exchange of shots as the bandits left the bank, are reported recovering.

A final check of the loot showed $7,500 to $8,000 in cash and $22,000 to $24,000 in Liberty bonds missing.

TWO DIE FROM INJURIES IN CAR ACCIDENTS

Minneapolis, Dec. 6—(UP)—William Haarlo, 51, of St. Cloud, died in Minneapolis General hospital Sunday of injuries suffered earlier in the week when his automobile and a street car collided. He received a fractured skull. The body will be removed to St. Cloud for burial.

St. Paul, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Glen Holm, 13, of St. Paul, struck by an automobile while playing in the street Thursday, died Sunday.

Burglars Blow 2 Safes in St. Paul Department Store and Escape With $50,000 Cash Booty

WITNESSES SWARM TO THE INQUEST

COME FOR MILES AROUND TO TESTIFY AT DEATH OF CLARA OLSON

EVIDENCE EXPECTED TO AID IN SOLUTION OF OLSON-OLSON LOVE TRAGEDY

By BERT M. DENBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., Dec. 6.—Over the snow drifted roads of this hill country today swarmed witnesses and spectators from miles around to attend the inquest over the death of pretty 22-year-old Clara Olson.

Evidence expected to aid in the solution of the Olson-Olson love tragedy is to be presented and authorities also hope to find some clue to the whereabouts of Erdman Olson, the missing suitor, who is accused of Clara's murder. The inquest is to start at 9 A. M.

Many of the roads running through the picturesque valleys near Prairie Du Chien were so heavily drifted with snow that automobiles could not break through. Horses and sleighs with occasional old fashioned bob sleds, were conspicuous. These hill people are aroused by the case as nothing in recent years has aroused them.

New evidence discovered last night, pointed to the theory that Erdman, if he killed his sweetheart as her father charges, had an accomplice. This came in the statements of Merle Murray and Parke Morse that they had seen Erdman with a stranger at a dance at Seneca, Wis., the night of the murder.

Shortly before midnight, these men stated, Erdman and the stranger left the dance in Erdman's automobile and it is the theory of the state that the two were still together —the stranger probably concealed from view—when Erdman and Clara kept their tryst. Erdman, it is believed, may have hired the stranger to commit the murder. This evidence linked with other established facts, presents the following chain of events on which District Attorney J. S. Earll is working:

Erdman and Clara—not related, although their family names are the same—met and fell in love. Clara was a timid country girl and did not relish the public dances which most of the boys and girls attended. Instead she and Erdman went on long drives alone through the wooded hills.

After a time Clara confessed to her father that she was to become a mother. Her father, old Chris Olson, went to Erdman and promised him "some cows and a piece of land" if he would marry Clara and settle down. The boy asked for a time to "think it over."

Shortly thereafter, on the night of September 9, Clara received a pencil note written from Erdman summoning her to meet him in the middle of the night. Leaving a note on her dresser, she slipped out of her father's house after midnight, and was never seen again until her body was found last Thursday, buried face down in a narrow, hastily dug grave up on the slopes of Battle Ridge. It was just as her father had seen it in a "vision" which directed him to swear out a warrant for Erdman's arrest.

Erdman, meanwhile, appeared at his father's home the morning of September 10, went back to his college classes; received a visit from Clara's father at which time old Chris Olson asked the boy where his daughter was; then Erdman disappeared.

It is the letter which Erdman wrote to Clara just before she met her death—a letter which was found Saturday tucked down in Clara's garments—that is expected to furnish the most direct path to the solution of the crime. Prosecutor Earll says the message "is most important evidence" but refused to disclose its contents until today's inquest.

Fathers of the two lovers are to be closely questioned. Clara's father, Chris Olson, will be asked in detail about the vision he had concerning the body. Earll is at a loss to explain how Chris knew the body would be found "face downward in a grave upon Battle Ridge." Erdman's father, Albert Olson, will be questioned about his knowledge of the romance. He is reported to have stated that he "didn't even know they were going together." The letter, found Saturday, is believed to disclose that he did have knowledge of the affair.

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., Dec. 6.—The heart broken parents of Erdman Olson, missing college student, who is accused of murdering his sweetheart, Clara Olson, tried valiantly today to defend their son from the charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson, parents of the missing college boy, took the witness stand in succession at the coroner's inquest into Clara's death. They frankly admitted knowledge of the fact that Erdman had been intimate with his sweetheart, but they professed confidence that he was not guilty of murder.

Before a crowded court room, Albert Olson took the stand. Contrary to interviews he is purported to have given, the father said he did not know of Erdman's whereabouts the night of the murder. (The interviews quoted him as saying Erdman had come home and tuned in on the radio).

"Clara Olson came to me in the middle of August," Olson testified, "and said she wanted my boy to marry her. I sent Erdman down to see her and get a doctor's examination made."

That, according to Erdman's father, was the last knowledge he had of the relations between his son and Clara. He testified, however, that after his son disappeared from college, he wrote home asking whether Clara had been found.

Olson then told how old Chris Olson, father of the murdered girl, had come to him before Clara's body was

(Continued on Page 3)

REPORTED THAT KING FERDINAND OPERATED UPON

Vienna, Dec. 6—(UP)—It was reported from Bucharest today that King Ferdinand of Rumania had been operated upon and that the operation had been successful.

Further advices from the Rumanian capital said that Dr. Hartmann, after performing the operation this morning, had issued a favorable bulletin.

HUERTA SAYS HE'S MARKING TIME FOR ENTRY

EXPECTS TO ENTER MEXICO AND ASSUME CHARGE OF THE UPRISING

SAYS HE KNOWS AMERICAN NEUTRALITY LAWS AND IS OBSERVING THEM

Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 66.—(UP) — Adolfo De La Huerta, one time provisional president of Mexico, asserted here today that he is "marking time" for an opportunity to go into Mexico and assume charge of an uprising in that country.

Although the Mexican consulate announced that De La Huerta had been arrested on charges of violating American neutrality laws, United States authorities denied that the famous Mexican was being sought and he was located with his secretary and a companion in a dingy hotel.

"The United States authorities are acquainted with my aims and I am keeping in touch with department of justice agents in Los Angeles," he said. "I know the neutrality laws of this country and I am keeping within them.

"My relations with the United States are perfectly friendly and as soon as the revolutionists capture a certain border town, I am going to return to my country and lead the movement against the Calles government."

WATCHMAN AND PORTER WERE OVERCOME

RELEASED TO MAKE HIS USUAL ROUNDS OF CALL BOXES AT POINT OF GUN

SAFE BLOWERS WORKED UNMOLESTED 4 HOURS, USING SIX BLASTS

St. Paul, Dec. 6.—(UP) — Three young safe blowers blew open two safes in a department store here and escaped with $50,000 in Christmas receipts and jewelry early today.

The firm was the Schuneman's & Mannheimer's department store. A watchman and a porter were overcome by the burglars and handcuffed for four hours to an iron post. They were released only to make the usual rounds of call boxes at the point of a gun.

Stephen Wells, 40, the watchman, and I. A. Gravel, 52, the porter, said the bandits broke into the store at 8 P. M. Sunday and overpowered them.

Six charges of a powerful explosive were used to blast open the two safes and gain access to the contents.

The safes contained $35,000 in cash taken in from holiday shoppers Saturday and $15,000 in jewelry. This was placed in four sacks and taken outside to where a fourth member of the gang waited at the wheel of an automobile.

The gang made its escape shortly after midnight. No one saw them enter and no one witnessed their escape.

Failure of the watchman to ring his call boxes caused the American District Telephone Company to investigate and at 1:30 A. M. Gravel and Wells were found on the fourth floor handcuffed to an iron post. The watchman said he had been handcuffed and forced to ring call boxes at half hour intervals for four hours while the safe blowers worked unmolested.

Store officials said the loss was fully covered by insurance with the exception of $200 damage to the store, caused by explosives.

Four suspects were under arrest at noon today.

Although the watchman and porter saw only three burglars, police believe three others were stationed as lookouts.

No finger prints were found.

LEAGUE NATIONS COUNCIL SESSION ADJOURNS TO TUESDAY

Geneva, Dec. 6.—(UP)—After a public session of unusual brevity the opening session of the council of the League of Nations today adjourned until Tuesday afternoon to give the "Big Three" of the council time to privately discuss the German disarmament. Aristide Briand of France, Austen Chamberlain of England and Gustav Stresemann of Germany, all foreign ministers, will dominate the conference which will take up an agenda embracing some 30 questions.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS IS OPERATIVE

Washington, Dec. 6.— (UP) — Charges of conspiracy to defraud the government by evasion of federal tax laws are outlawed by the statute of limitations after three years, the United States supreme court ruled today.

The ruling was given on a government appeal from Chicago district court which quashed indictments against James W. McElvain and Frank Crozier, of the Freeman Coal Mining company, Chicago, holding that the three year statute governed. The prosecution supported the six year statute which the supreme court had held applied to perjury indictments arising from income tax cases.

100 POLICEMEN SEARCH FOR WRITER, AGATHA CHRISTIE

London, Dec. 1.—(UP)—A hundred policemen were searching today for Mrs. Agatha Christie, novelist, who left her home at Sunningdale, Berkshire, last Friday and has not been seen since.

Her automobile containing feminine clothes had been found near Guildford. Five nearby ponds have been dragged.

Mrs. Christie is a daughter of the late Frederick Miller of New York City and wife of Colonel Archibald Christie.

ALLEGED "YELLOW PERIL" ALWAYS IN BACKGROUND

APPEARS IN FALL-DOHENY OIL CONSPIRACY TRIAL AT WASHINGTON

ADMIRAL J. K. ROBINSON RESUMES WITNESS STAND IN INQUIRY

By HERBERT B. LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 6—With the alleged "Yellow Peril" of 1921-1922 constantly in the background of the Fall-Doheny oil conspiracy trial, Admiral J. K. Robinson, defense witness, today sought to justify the disputed Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, oil storage tank contracts and the Elk Hills oil leases because of the advantages derived by the navy.

Robinson, resuming the witness stand as the trial reopened, testified the government got much it did not pay for in the deal. Speaking of the contract by which Edward L. Doheny was to build the Pearl Harbor tanks in exchange for the Elk Hills oil reserves, the admiral specified the following additional advantages which accrued to the navy:

1. A continuous option on 3,000,000 barrels of oil in Atlantic coast storage.

2. Another 1,000,000 barrels of free storage facility on the Pacific coast.

3. A 15-year right to purchase petroleum products at 10 per cent below market price.

Owen J. Roberts, government counsel, tried to bring out in cross examination that the contracts were kept secret for fear of congressional objection. Robinson asserted, however, that secrecy was observed because it was in the public interest.

Roberts then read part of the Robinson testimony to the Los Angeles civil suit over the leases in which the admiral said there had been a desire to keep the matter from congress.

U. S. SUPREME COURT RECESS DEC. 13 TO JAN. 3

Washington, Dec. 6—(UP)—The United States supreme court today announced it would recess from next Monday, December 13, until Monday, January 3.

NEW SHERIFF ARRESTS OLD ONE HE SUCCEEDS

Marion, Ill., Dec. 6.—(UP)—As his first act in office today Sheriff Oran Coleman of Williamson county arrested George Galligan, the man he succeeded just a few minutes before.

Galligan was arrested on a murder charge preferred by Mrs. Charles Woolad, who alleged that Galligan was responsible for the death of her husband and six others during the S. Glenn Young regime in 1924.

Mrs. Woolard swore before Justice Davis that Galligan was in the group that shot and killed Woolard and his six companions during the riots of August 30, 1924, here.

Galligan, who had given Coleman his best wishes not 30 minutes before the latter arrested him, characterized himself as "heart broken" and declared he did not "know what to think" of the charge.

120 FREIGHT VESSELS ARE HELD CAPTIVE

INDICATIONS ARE IT MAY TAKE WEEKS TO RELEASE SHIPS

AFTER 2 DAYS' WORK FLEET OF TUGS AND CAR FERRY RELEASE FIVE

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 6.—(UP)—An ice jam unequalled in the history of the Great Lakes today held captive 120 freight vessels in the channels of St. Mary's river.

Indications were that it might take weeks to complete the rescue task.

After two days work with a fleet of tugs and the great car ferry Sault Ste. Marie in charge of Captain Fred C. Bailey of Cleveland, only five of the ships had been clipped free.

Unless the present sub-zero weather moderates, Captain Bailey said today, the best that can be hoped is the liberation of three ships daily. He admitted there was a possibility some of the vessels might be forced to spend the winter in the ice. Suffering among the crews is not yet acute.

The traffic snarl, according to best estimates includes 66 ships in the down bound line in West Neebush cut and 54 ships in the east end. Combined efforts of the tugs and ferry Sault Ste. Marie resulted yesterday in freeing the Assiniboia, Haggerty and Lake George.

Altogether 11 ships have been released since the fleet became locked in the ice. Thursday the tugs freed the McNaughton, Robbins, Nettlson and Vega and Friday the Superior and Joseph Wood.

Work of freeing the ships at best a slow task, was further retarded by the zero weather which once Sunday froze in the Sainte Marie, requiring the aid of tugs to rescue the rescuer.

While food aboard the beleaguered ships was believed adequate for present needs, the fuel situation on the down bound ships, which are loaded mainly with grain and ore was cause for concern today. The upbound ships are well loaded with coal and a fuel shortage among them is not feared.

Emergency food supplies are available here, but additional supplies of coal are both low here and at a nearby Canadian port. As a result offifficials in charge of rescue operations were considering today the advisability of commandeering the coal cargo of the Lake George which was freed late last night.

Meanwhile more than 2,000 Great Lakes seamen in the crews of the ice locked ships were making preparations for a protracted stay aboard their ships and today many looked forward to a Christmas in their "city of ice."

When active rescue work was temporarily abandoned last night, scores of riding lights blinked picturesquely against the Canadian shore line, while aboard the ships crews huddled around radio sets which brought a measure of enjoyment out of a situation fraught with potential danger. Because of the closely packed ice, communications between some of the ships was possible, and today the tug crews planned to gather up mail to relatives of the stranded men.

WISCONSIN LAKES ARE FROZEN OVER

Madison, Wis., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Lakes Mendota and Momona here were frozen over Sunday, the earliest date that they have become ice bound for the past 33 years, the United States weather bureau announced today.

The temperature was seven above zero early today with prediction that it would become warmer tonight and that more snow would be added to the six inches already hindering traffic.

DESPONDENT OVER DEATH OF DAUGHTER

Madison, Wis., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Despondent since the death of her daughter a year ago Mrs. Grace Meek committed suicide early today by locking herself in a bath room with her two months old son and turning on the gas. It is believed the child will recover.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Items for this column will be gladly received. Telephone 74.

WEATHER

Minnesota — Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, not so cold tonight and in extreme east portion Tuesday.

Dec. 5.—Maximum 3 above, minimum 4 below. In evening 6 below. Cloudy. Northeast wind. Snowfall 4 inches.

Dec. 6.—Maximum 10, minimum 19 below. At 8 a. m. 3 above. Northwest wind. Clear.

O. A. Peterson left for St. Paul this noon on a short business trip.

Robert J. Potter left for Minneapolis to receive medical attention.

T. B. Jones, Cass county commissioner, left this afternoon for Walker.

Miss Myrtle Munson of Murphy's spent the week end in Rochester with friends.

Oh Boy—What a Girl! Corinne Griffith in "Syncopating Sue," Lyceum last time tonight. 1t

Clyde E. Parker returned Saturday evening from a business visit in Minneapolis.

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Rosenfield of Pequot were visitors in the city last evening.

Mrs. Ed. Day returned this noon to St. Paul after spending the week end in the city.

George W. French left for Minneapolis where he will receive medical attention.

Dr. Palmer of Pine River was a guest at the home of Joseph Kiebler, yesterday.

Miss Mary Elsenpeter spent the week end at the home of her parents in Buffalo.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogt, 315 Second St. So., on December 4, a baby girl.

The American Legion will hold their regular meeting this evening in the Juel block.

There you are! Conrad Nagel will be at the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday in a big comedy hit. 1t

Mrs. R. B. Johnson arrived from Bemidji to visit with relatives and friends in the city.

Notice Degree of Honor—Regular meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 7th, Elks hall. Election of officers and memorial services. Members please attend. A. Benson, secretary. 1t

Miss Katharine Silkey of Hill City was a guest of Mis Norma Hagberg over the week end.

Mrs. Thomas Brisbane left for Randall this noon where she will be the guest of her son.

Mrs. Frank Novak is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dougherty.

Only two more vaudeville nights at the Park, tomorrow and Dec. 14. Five great acts. 1t

Mike Barrett and Leonard Sauers of the Nash Finch Co. spent the week end with relatives in St. Cloud.

F. W. Rush, district superintendent of the Nash Finch Co., transacted business in the city Thursday.

Alfred Zahn has accepted a position in the office of General Foreman D. K. Fullerton in the N. P. shops.

Mrs. C. R. Nash and daughter of Washington, D. C., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cook.

The advisory council of the Order of De Molay will hold a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic hall.

A baby girl was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Larson. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Bergstrand left last night for Bemidji where they will attend the funeral of Mrs. Johnson.

Gifts of Distinction. Imported Linens—Laces—Pottery at the Mary-Elizabeth Gift Shop. 401 Juniper St. 157t6

Walter P. Tyrholm left this morning for Appleton, Minn., where he was called by the death of Mrs. Tyrholm's father.

Miss Doris Edd of Bemidji returned today after visiting at the homes of her uncles, G. E. and Ed. Hedstrom.

E. A. Tyrholm of the Tyrholm Motor Co. returned Friday evening from Minneapolis where he attended a Ford clinic.

Don't fail to take advantage of our 6 days special ending December 8. The Linder Rug and Carpet Co. Phone 41. 1t

Laef Nygard of Pequot who has been employed in Detroit, Mich., arrived last evening and is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Anna L. Carney had the misfortune of falling yesterday and fracturing her hip. She was taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Montgomery left this noon on their honeymoon to Minneapolis. Mrs. Montgomery was formerly Miss Hylah Martin.

Dean White has one of the famous "Oakland" heat circulars for $60, a beautiful piece of furniture for less than the price of a common heating stove. Phone 624-W. 502 Laurel street. 156t2

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Buslee of Minneapolis, December 4, a baby girl. Mrs. Buselee was formerly Miss Ethel Thomas of this city.

Mrs. Charles R. Chapman has returned to her home in Bismarck, N. D., after visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lind.

Rebekahs please take notice. Meeting will be called at 7:30 sharp tonight. 1t

E. J. Egan, court reporter, left today for Baudette, Minn., where he will report the term of court there. Judge Edward Freeman, of Hibbing, Minn., will preside.

E. F. Gates left for Minneapolis this noon from where he will leave for Fort Dodge, Iowa, called there by the death of his brother, E. P. Gates. Mrs. Gates left yesterday for Minneapolis.

At Last—The Seasons Stellar attraction. What? The Yeoman Masquerade Ball. Where? Elks Hall. When? December 15th. Lou's Band will officiate. Nuff said. 75c a couple, 25c extra lady. 155t3eod

Miss Marye Pulkrabek, who is attending the Brainerd Commercial college, left Saturday for Appleton, where she was called by the death of her father. Miss Pulkrabek is a sister of Mrs. Walter Tyrholm.

There will be a party for children of all Rebekahs on Monday evening, December 6, at I. O. O. F. hall. 1t

Carl Holmstrom of the University of Minnesota spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Holmstrom. Calvin Orth, Bernard and Gregory Mraz accompanied him as far as Little Falls by motor on his return.

Entertains at Bridge

Mrs. E. T. Fleener entertained Saturday evening at bridge at her apartments in the Ohio block.

Lowell P. T. A.

The special meeting of the Lowell Parent Teachers' association will be held at Zimmerman's store at 3 o'clock, Thursday afternoon instead of Tuesday afternoon as was first planned on account of the ladies who will attend the Health Service society tomorrow afternoon.

Vanishing Party

Mrs. William Graham and Miss Josephine Graham entertained at a vanishing party, Saturday afternoon at their home, 703 Sixth street N. Three tables of bridge were played.

OPERATED WEHR FORDSON

Grader and Plow Used to Clear Snow Off Streets by Company

On Sunday morning, after the Saturday's snowfall, Al Weideman of the Walter P. Tyrholm company appeared on the streets at 7 a. m. with a Wehr Fordson grader and plow and plowed the streets in the business section, the new and modern way. Instead of shoving the snow against the curb he shoved the snow away from the curb into the streets.

INSIST UPON KEMP'S BALSAM for that COUGH!

U. C. T. AUDITORIUM
For dances, political meetings, musicales, theatricals, etc.
See Secretary, Dispatch Office

RESIDENT OF CITY 36 YEARS DIES

John Hill, Aged 73 Years, Died Saturday at Son's Residence, Pine River

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Was an Employee of the N. P. Shops Here for 35 Years

John Hill, aged 73 years, a resident of Brainerd for 36 years, passed away Saturday at the home of his son, Herman Hill at Pine River.

Born in Finland, in 1853 Mr. Hill emigrated to America and came directly to Brainerd 36 years ago. He had been an employee of the Northern Pacific railway in the shops here for the past 33 years.

Mr. Hill was father to 15 children, seven of them being dead. His wife predeceased him in December, 1916. Those surviving are eight children, five sons, Herman, Pine River; Andrew, Iron Mountain, Mich.; John and Matt, of Brainerd; Robert, of Minneapolis; and three daughters, Mrs. I. Vredenburgh, Brooklyn, New York; Mrs. J. C. Moore, South Norwalk, Conn.; and Mrs. Sanford Hill, Hibbing, Minn. There is also one brother, Matt Hill, of Brainerd; and one sister, Mrs. John Payunpaa, New York Mills; and 23 grandchildren.

The funeral will be conducted Tuesday afternoon, December 7, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Niemi, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church, officiating.

Entertains at Vanishing Party

Mrs. Mary Donant entertained on Saturday evening at her home on South Park street at a vanishing party. Five hundred was played at three tables. The head prize for the ladies was won by Mrs. J. L.Hartell and Chester O'Conner won the head prize for the men. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the evening.

Musical Club Study Class

The Study Class of the Brainerd Musical club will meet Tuesday evening, December 7 ,at the home of Mrs. Thomas Jones, 401 North Broadway at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Jones and Miss Cora Rickard will tell of their trip to Alaska and Miss Katherine Anderson will speak on life in Honolulu where she spent two years.

Men's Club

The Men's club of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will meet in the church assembly this evening at 8 o'clock. The hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Carl N. Olson.

J. C. Congdon Circle

The regular meeting of the J. C. Congdon circle No. 89, Ladies of the G. A. R., will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday, December 7, at 2:30 p. m. There will be election of officers.

Alpha Class

The Alpha class of the First Baptist church will be entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Wm. Anderson, 915 North Bluff Avenue. All members are urged to attend and bring amounts received for "Mile of Pennies," also gifts for home missionary box. Visitors are cordially invited.

Monthly Church Meeting

The members of the Bethlehem Evangelical church, corner Bluff and Main will hold their regular monthly business meeting in the church parlors Tuesday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock. Much business of great importance for the congregation will come up at this session and every member is urged to attend. Lunch and a social time will follow at the close of the business meeting.

GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS

Prepare Your Christmas Packages Early!

Dennison's Gift Dressings

are here in full variety. Select now your Wrappings, Tyings, Tags, Cards, Seals and Labels.

A double welcome awaits the gift attractively wrapped. The Christmas Book (price 10 cents) tells you of many ways to wrap packages. For sale here.

Brainerd Office Supply Co.
"Our City's Stationery Store"
Phone 300 208 Anna Block

★ GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS- ★

GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS

FUNERAL OF M. NEVILLE

Conducted at Grand Forks; Wife's Parents Are Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brady

Funeral services were held Friday of last week at Grand Forks, N. D., for M. Neville, Great Northern ticket agent who died suddenly last Tuesday.

Mr. Neville is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Lillian May Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brady, of Brainerd; and four children. Mr. and Mrs. Brady were among the many to attend the funeral.

The funeral was attended by members of the Knights of Columbus and Elks lodges, to which Mr. Neville belonged, also delegations of railroad officials.

CONCORDIA SOCIETY

Young People of Bethlehem Lutheran Church Meet This Evening at the Church

The Concordia Young Peoples society of the Bethlehem Lutheran church will meet this evening and will be entertained by Mrs. M. J. Reis and Mrs. E. Olson. The following program will be given:

Talk—Rev. Morris Eversz.

Vocal solo—Mrs. Hemsworth accompanied by Mrs. Eversz.

Istrumental quartet—Arden Miller, Howard Giles, Victor Bushway, Evelyn Fink.

Saw solo—Charles Miller with violin obligato by Mrs. Louis Johnson.

Vocal solo, "Oh Holy Night"—Mrs. Ben Anderson, violin obligato by L. Johnson.

Instrumental quartet—Miss Esther Nelson, Mrs. Ethel Fox, Mr. and Mrs. L. Johnson.

Everyone welcome.

Observes 7th Birthday

Miss Maxine McCulloch entertained Saturday afternoon at her home, 610 Tamarack street for a group of fifteen little friends the occasion being her seventh birthday.

Bentley-Wadsworth

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Hazel Wadsworth was united in marriage to Earl W. Bentley at the Presbyterian manse, Rev. Patterson officiating. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bentley were the only attendants. Both young people are residents of the city and will make their home here, where the groom is employed in the N. P. shops.

Montgomery-Martin

This morning Miss Hylah E. Martin became the bride of Lewis E. Montgomery at the Presbyterian Parsonage at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. A. G. Patterson officiating. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morcomb. Both are residents of Brainerd and will make their home here. They left this noon for a short honeymoon in Minneapolis.

Dec. 6, 1926.

Dear friends:

Only 16 M. S. D. U. C. If you don't know what those initials mean, I'll tell you. They mean you'll have to hurry now if you get your Christmas shopping done in time.

A jewelry store during the Christmas season is a mighty interesting place. Everybody in Brainerd seems to like jewelry. As a matter of fact, did you ever meet anybody who didn't?

The boss is mighty busy, but not too busy to give your gift selections his very best attention. I'm helpin' a little bit myself. Some of you may not know that it was Tick who waited on you.

Anyhow, just remember that this store is filled with beautiful gift articles and I hope you'll come in and look around.

Watches, silverware, rings, necklaces, pins—everything, almost, in the Christmas jewelry line.

TICK.

S. LUNDBORG, Jeweler
614 Laurel St. Brainerd, Minn.

'Murphy's Beautiful Gift Shop'

We Want You to Know

That we have definitely opened the Christmas season and that

This Great Christmas Store Is Ready Now

in each and every department, as well as with our pretty decorations. The gayety and brilliancy of the gift things displayed are of such merit as to repay you fully and well for coming.

The advantages of early selections cannot be emphasized too strongly.

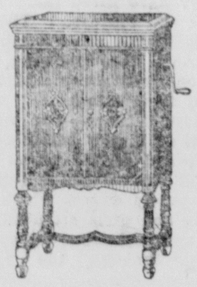

Start your Christmas shopping tomorrow—and start it here. Don't let a day go by without buying at least one gift. Come down and see our pretty windows.

Murphy's

USE THE OLD DR. MARSHALL'S CATARRH Snuff
30c at all Druggists, or sent prepaid by WILLIAMS MFG. CO., CLEVELAND, O.
For sale at Dunn Drug Store.

WINDSHIELDS AND BODY GLASS
For Every Make of AUTOMOBILE
Installed While You Wait
Drive in Comfort
Alderman-Maghan Co.

New Brunswick

Price $115

If you haven't as yet heard and enjoyed this latest in Brunswick Phonographs with Light-Ray Electric Records, we shall be pleased to demonstrate them. New Records every Thursday.

FOLSOM MUSIC COMPANY
A Safe Place to Buy

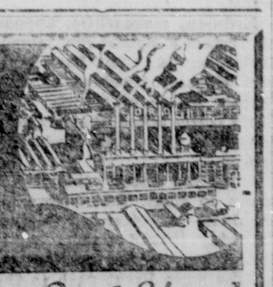

The Spirit of Christmas

It is especially noticeable here at the bank, for people of all ages are doing some extra Christmas saving this month. Many prosperous people have gotten the steady deposit habit from their Christmas saving plans.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Forty-four Years of Safe Successful Banking

Standard Coal
Means a Comfortable Home
Easier Firing and More Heat
Less Ashes and No Cinders
Standard Lumber Co.

HEAT WITH Ford COAL

The Same High-test Coal Used by the Ford Industries

WALTER P. TYRHOLM COMPANY

JAS. H. WARNER
Attorney-at-Law
Walverman Building, Front St.
Telephone 971

D. E. WHITNEY
DIRECTOR OF FUNERALS
720 Front St.
BRAINERD, MINN.

L. W. SHERLUND
Plumbing and Heating
All kinds of pipes, fittings and valves.

Painting and Paper Hanging SIGNS
CLAUDE C. BOWEN
Phone 982-W 617 Main St.

VALET AutoStrop Razor sharpens itself

W. F. WIELAND
ATTORNEY AT LAW
3rd Floor Court House

DR. NESMITH NELSON
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
211 Citizens State Bank Bldg.
Telephone 913 Brainerd, Minn.

Rheumatism

BAUME BENGUÉ (Ba.-Gay) gives quick relief from the agonizing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, and every ache and pain! Its penetrating warmth relieves the congestion and soothes the inflamed nerves.

GET THE ORIGINAL FRENCH
BAUME BENGUÉ
(ANALGÉSIQUE)

Babies Love It

For all stomach and intestinal troubles and disturbances due to teething, there is nothing better than a safe Infants' and Children's Laxative.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Items for this column will be gladly received. Telephone 74.

WEATHER

Minnesota — Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, not so cold tonight and in extreme east portion Tuesday.

Dec. 5.—Maximum 3 above, minimum 4 below. In evening 6 below. Cloudy. Northeast wind. Snowfall 4 inches.

Dec. 6.—Maximum 10, minimum 19 below. At 8 a. m. 3 above. Northwest wind. Clear.

O. A. Peterson left for St. Paul this noon on a short business trip.

Robert J. Potter left for Minneapolis to receive medical attention.

T. B. Jones, Cass county commissioner, left this afternoon for Walker.

Miss Myrtle Munson of Murphy's spent the week end in Rochester with friends.

Oh Boy—What a Girl! Corinne Griffith in "Syncopating Sue," Lyceum last time tonight. 1t

Clyde E. Parker returned Saturday evening from a business visit in Minneapolis.

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Rosenfield of Pequot were visitors in the city last evening.

Mrs. Ed. Day returned this noon to St. Paul after spending the week end in the city.

George W. French left for Minneapolis where he will receive medical attention.

Dr. Palmer of Pine River was a guest at the home of Joseph Kiebler, yesterday.

Miss Mary Elsenpeter spent the week end at the home of her parents in Buffalo.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogt, 315 Second St. So., on December 4, a baby girl.

The American Legion will hold their regular meeting this evening in the Juel block.

There you are! Conrad Nagel will be at the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday in a big comedy hit. 1t

Mrs. R. B. Johnson arrived from Bemidji to visit with relatives and friends in the city.

Notice Degree of Honor—Regular meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 7th, Elks hall. Election of officers and memorial services. Members please attend. A. Benson, secretary. 1t

Miss Katharine Silkey of Hill City was a guest of Mis Norma Hagberg over the week end.

Mrs. Thomas Brisbane left for Randall this noon where she will be the guest of her son.

Mrs. Frank Novak is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dougherty.

Only two more vaudeville nights at the Park, tomorrow and Dec. 14. Five great acts. 1t

Mike Barrett and Leonard Sauers of the Nash Finch Co. spent the week end with relatives in St. Cloud.

F. W. Rush, district superintendent of the Nash Finch Co., transacted business in the city Thursday.

Alfred Zahn has accepted a position in the office of General Foreman D. K. Fullerton in the N. P. shops.

Mrs. C. R. Nash and daughter of Washington, D. C., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cook.

The advisory council of the Order of De Molay will hold a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic hall.

A baby girl was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Larson. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Bergstrand left last night for Bemidji where they will attend the funeral of Mrs. Johnson.

Gifts of Distinction. Imported Linens—Laces—Pottery at the Mary-Elizabeth Gift Shop. 401 Juniper St. 157t6

Walter P. Tyrholm left this morning for Appleton, Minn., where he was called by the death of Mrs. Tyrholm's father.

Miss Doris Edd of Bemidji returned today after visiting at the homes of her uncles, G. E. and Ed. Hedstrom.

E. A. Tyrholm of the Tyrholm Motor Co. returned Friday evening from Minneapolis where he attended a Ford clinic.

Don't fail to take advantage of our 6 days special ending December 8. The Linder Rug and Carpet Co. Phone 41. 1t

Laef Nygard of Pequot who has been employed in Detroit, Mich., arrived last evening and is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Anna L. Carney had the misfortune of falling yesterday and fracturing her hip. She was taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Montgomery left this noon on their honeymoon to Minneapolis. Mrs. Montgomery was formerly Miss Hylah Martin.

Dean White has one of the famous "Oakland" heat circulars for $60, a beautiful piece of furniture for less than the price of a common heating stove. Phone 624-W. 502 Laurel street. 156t2

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Buslee of Minneapolis, December 4, a baby girl. Mrs. Buselee was formerly Miss Ethel Thomas of this city.

Mrs. Charles R. Chapman has returned to her home in Bismarck, N. D., after visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lind.

Rebekahs please take notice. Meeting will be called at 7:30 sharp tonight. 1t

E. J. Egan, court reporter, left today for Baudette, Minn., where he will report the term of court there. Judge Edward Freeman, of Hibbing, Minn., will preside.

E. F. Gates left for Minneapolis this noon from where he will leave for Fort Dodge, Iowa, called there by the death of his brother, E. P. Gates. Mrs. Gates left yesterday for Minneapolis.

At Last—The Seasons Stellar attraction. What? The Yeoman Masquerade Ball. Where? Elks Hall. When? December 15th. Lou's Band will officiate. Nuff said. 75c a couple, 25c extra lady. 155t3eod

Miss Marye Pulkrabek, who is attending the Brainerd Commercial college, left Saturday for Appleton, where she was called by the death of her father. Miss Pulkrabek is a sister of Mrs. Walter Tyrholm.

There will be a party for children of all Rebekahs on Monday evening, December 6, at I. O. O. F. hall. 1t

Carl Holmstrom of the University of Minnesota spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Holmstrom. Calvin Orth, Bernard and Gregory Mraz accompanied him as far as Little Falls by motor on his return.

Entertains at Bridge

Mrs. E. T. Fleener entertained Saturday evening at bridge at her apartments in the Ohio block.

Lowell P. T. A.

The special meeting of the Lowell Parent Teachers' association will be held at Zimmerman's store at 3 o'clock, Thursday afternoon instead of Tuesday afternoon as was first planned on account of the ladies who will attend the Health Service society tomorrow afternoon.

Vanishing Party

Mrs. William Graham and Miss Josephine Graham entertained at a vanishing party, Saturday afternoon at their home, 703 Sixth street N. Three tables of bridge were played.

OPERATED WEHR FORDSON

Grader and Plow Used to Clear Snow Off Streets by Company

On Sunday morning, after the Saturday's snowfall, Al Weideman of the Walter P. Tyrholm company appeared on the streets at 7 a. m. with a Wehr Fordson grader and plow and plowed the streets in the business section, the new and modern way. Instead of shoving the snow against the curb he shoved the snow away from the curb into the streets.

INSIST UPON KEMP'S BALSAM for that COUGH!

U. C. T. AUDITORIUM
For dances, political meetings, musicales, theatricals, etc.
See Secretary, Dispatch Office

RESIDENT OF CITY 36 YEARS DIES

John Hill, Aged 73 Years, Died Saturday at Son's Residence, Pine River

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Was an Employee of the N. P. Shops Here for 35 Years

John Hill, aged 73 years, a resident of Brainerd for 36 years, passed away Saturday at the home of his son, Herman Hill at Pine River.

Born in Finland, in 1853 Mr. Hill emigrated to America and came directly to Brainerd 36 years ago. He had been an employee of the Northern Pacific railway in the shops here for the past 33 years.

Mr. Hill was father to 15 children, seven of them being dead. His wife predeceased him in December, 1916. Those surviving are eight children, five sons, Herman, Pine River; Andrew, Iron Mountain, Mich.; John and Matt, of Brainerd; Robert, of Minneapolis; and three daughters, Mrs. I. Vredenburgh, Brooklyn, New York; Mrs. J. C. Moore, South Norwalk, Conn.; and Mrs. Sanford Hill, Hibbing, Minn. There is also one brother, Matt Hill, of Brainerd; and one sister, Mrs. John Payunpaa, New York Mills; and 23 grandchildren.

The funeral will be conducted Tuesday afternoon, December 7, at 2 o'clock, Rev. Niemi, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church, officiating.

Entertains at Vanishing Party

Mrs. Mary Donant entertained on Saturday evening at her home on South Park street at a vanishing party. Five hundred was played at three tables. The head prize for the ladies was won by Mrs. J. L.Hartell and Chester O'Conner won the head prize for the men. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the evening.

Musical Club Study Class

The Study Class of the Brainerd Musical club will meet Tuesday evening, December 7 ,at the home of Mrs. Thomas Jones, 401 North Broadway at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Jones and Miss Cora Rickard will tell of their trip to Alaska and Miss Katherine Anderson will speak on life in Honolulu where she spent two years.

Men's Club

The Men's club of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church will meet in the church assembly this evening at 8 o'clock. The hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Carl N. Olson.

J. C. Congdon Circle

The regular meeting of the J. C. Congdon circle No. 89, Ladies of the G. A. R., will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday, December 7, at 2:30 p. m. There will be election of officers.

Alpha Class

The Alpha class of the First Baptist church will be entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Wm. Anderson, 915 North Bluff Avenue. All members are urged to attend and bring amounts received for "Mile of Pennies," also gifts for home missionary box. Visitors are cordially invited.

Monthly Church Meeting

The members of the Bethlehem Evangelical church, corner Bluff and Main will hold their regular monthly business meeting in the church parlors Tuesday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock. Much business of great importance for the congregation will come up at this session and every member is urged to attend. Lunch and a social time will follow at the close of the business meeting.

Prepare Your Christmas Packages Early!
Dennison's Gift Dressings
are here in full variety. Select now your Wrappings, Tyings, Tags, Cards, Seals and Labels.
A double welcome awaits the gift attractively wrapped. The Christmas Book (price 10 cents) tells you of many ways to wrap packages. For sale here.
Brainerd Office Supply Co.
"Our City's Stationery Store"
Phone 300 208 Anna Block

GIFTS-GIFTS-GIFTS-

CUT EVERGREENS FOR YULETIDE

Annual Harvest for Christmas Trees in This District Has Started

CARS ARE LADEN

Trees Will Not be Missed if Cuttings Are Made With Discretion

With the holiday Christmas season nearing and people flocking to the woods in quest of Christmas trees and decorations for stores and hames of evergreen boughs, the forestry department are faced with the problem of conducting a campaign against any wanton cutting of trees.

The forestry department are not prejudiced aginst the people in cutting Christmas trees except in cases where trees are cut without provocation.

The following statement was issued this morning by Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes regarding this matter:

"The holiday season is near at hand and already the annual harvest of Christmas trees has begun. Hunters from the south, who were in the north woods for the big game hunt, carried home with them, thousands of trees to be used at Christmas time and we are glad each will have one of our beautiful trees to bring Christmas cheer into their homes. It makes them appreciate more, our living trees and when cut here and there using a little discretion in the cutting, the trees are not missed and if cutting be done as a thinning or selective process, is a benefit to the remaining stand.

"But we have with us, also, the man who comes along with a truck, goes in on the unoccupied land, along our highways, lakeshore property, etc., cuts, slashes, and destroys without thought of selective cutting or caring on whose property he trespass.

"With the hundreds of truck loads of trees that were hauled or shipped from the forests last year and the indiscriminate cutting which took place along our lakes and highways, not to mention the oversupply of trees which were carried into our cities and burned later, on the vacant lots, there should be some steps taken to protect private property as well as our forests.

"But you say, 'how can this be prevented? What can our city do to help check this vandalism?' Our city might pass an ordinace requiring that every Christmas tree vendor in the city purchase a license, that the trees be cut under the supervision of the city or State Forest Service, unless cut on private land, in which case the exact location and ownership of the land, with a paid up tax receipt to be shown.

"The names of those in the country who have Christmas trees for sale, for reasonable prices, are clearing land for agricultural purposes or as a thinning process, might be secured by the county agent, the ranger, or the local papers, where one might drive out and secure his tree. The tree bought from such a source, would bring happiness, undiminished by any feeling of regret that growing forests were diminished or destroyed to satisfy a time honored custom, but would be increased by the knowledge that these symbols of cheer and goodwill, originated in an act of benefit to the forest."

P. A. OF BAND ELECT OFFICERS

Al C. Ebert Named Head of Parents Asscoiation of Brainerd Concert Band

PLAN ANNUAL CONCERT

Other Officers Include John Holvick, W. E. Paul, V. Peterson and Ole D. Larson

The Parents Association of the Brainerd Concert Band held their regular monthly meeting and annual election of officers Saturday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President Al C. Ebert, Vice President John Holvick, Secretary W. E. Paul, Treasurer Victor Peterson, Manager Ole D. Larson.

The parents are looking forward with much interest to the annual concert to be given in February, as they feel that their boys are in better shape this winter than ever before to give the public a real musical treat.

King's Heralds, M. E. Sunday School

The girls of the King's Heralds of the M. E. Sunday school met at the home of Miss Lillian Soliday, 711 Seventh Street North on Saturday afternoon. After the regular business session a large box was packed for the Erie school at Olive Hill, Ky. The sending of the box was a part of home missionary work and was great fun. Mrs. Soliday, assisted by her daughter and Arthur Cuskey, served refreshments.

The boys' division of the King's Heralds met this afternoon at the home of David Schrader, 510 Fourth Street North to pack a Christmas box for the boys at the same school. They have made folders containing continued stories and each boy at the school will receive a folder and a nice pair of stockings. The box will be shipped tomorrow.

Whon a Feller Needed a Friend — by Briggs

PARENT-TEACHERS MAGAZINE OUT

REVIEWS OUTSTANDING RESULTS OF ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN ST. PAUL

Copies of the new Minnesota Parents' and Teachers' Magazine are being mailed to every member of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Bulletins of various descriptions have been sent out by the state organization from time to time. This edition, containing 20 pages of reading matter, is of special interest to parents.

In addition to an introduction to the new state president, Mrs. A. A. Mendenhall of Duluth, and a review of outstanding results of the fourth annual state convention conducted recently at St. Paul, there are articles offering suggestions to parents and local parents and teachers organizations.

In an interview with Dr. M. L. Stiffler, director of the Child Guidance Clinic, parents are urged to give their children toys which will aid in forming their character, mind and body.

"Above all they should be things which can be used in making things," Dr. Stiffler said. "Sand boxes, beads, colored paper for tiny folk; tools, garden sets, sewing materials and paints for older children are always good. A boy will get more fun out of a piece of old canvas and the equipment to fashion it than he will out of the finest tent you can buy. A girl will take more pride in a crude doll dress fashioned by her own hands than in the finest creation of her mother's needle. And tools are not sufficient in themselves—the young workers need materials as well. A few old boards, some wheels and odds and ends from junk shops will keep the average boy occupied for a long time."

A summary of activities of the last year is published to serve as a guide and inspiration for the work of the local organization for this year. Each is urged to select a worthwhile project and "then do it." The accomplishments which the La-Crescent, Minn., association achieved through cooperation are described.

A "Children's Bookshelf," is conducted on one page by Miss Grace Arthur Ph. D., psychologist at the St. Paul Child Guidance Clinic. In another article J. R. Batchelor, field secretary of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, suggests chances which parents and teachers have to contribute to the health of their children by developing the love of winter sports.

The new publication will go to every member without further cost, according to plans adopted at the state convention. Carl L. Anderson is managing editor, and Mrs. E. G. Quamme and Miss Alma O. Schmidt, associate editors. The board of governors includes Mrs. A. A. Mendenhaill, Mrs. Theodore C. Blegen, Mrs. Thomas Canfield and Mrs. C. L. Simmers. The magazine will be issued monthly.

Corinne Griffith Scores Again in "Syncopating Sue"

It's a treat for most film fans just to watch Corinne Griffith's blonde beauty move across the screen, follow her graceful movements, note the charm of her manner and the style of her clothes.

But when this actress whom "Liberty Weekly" has declared the most beautiful woman in the world appears in a story as absorbing and yet humorously spun as "syncopating Sue" an evening of unrivaled entertainment is achieved at the Lyceum, last showing tonight.

"There You Are" Produces Laughs Without Number

"There You Are," a hilarious filmization of the novel by F. Hugh Herbert, noted humorist, introduces Conrad Nagel in a new vein of whimsical comedy, akin, in a way, to his role in "Dance Madness," but going several steps further in the matter of producing laughs. The new picture, playing at the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday is the hilarious adventure of elopers beset by an angry father, a police force, a dog—and tangled identities and a misplaced baby. It is laid in modern New York, and was directed by Edward Sedgwick, at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

DAUGHTER OF PIONEER DIES

Mrs. Amanda L. Spies Passed Away Saturday Following Operation

IN COUNTY 25 YEARS

Preserved Broadax Father Used in Building Brainerd's First Buildings

The death took place Saturday at the St. Joseph's hospital of Mrs. Amanda L. Spies folowing an operation for gall bladder.

Mr. and Mrs. Spies had resided in the county for 25 years, having a farm at White Sand Lake, later moving to West Brainerd. She was born in Pennsylvania. Her maiden name was Hockenbery and her father held the distinction of hewing the logs for the first buildings in Brainerd and also for the ties for the entrance to the city by the railroad. Mrs. Spies had preserved throughout her life the broadax her father used in this pioneer work.

Surviving are a husband and two children. The funeral will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church. Rev. Damon, officating.

FOR RENT—CALL 74

WITNESSES SWARM TO THE INQUEST

(Continued from page 1)

found and asked him what he knew of it.

"Chris seemed terribly worried," Erdman's father testified, "but I told him not to take it so hard. I told him that Clara probably had just gone away for a while and would return home the first of the year with the baby."

Erdman's mother was the next witness. She was stylishly dressed and spoke in soft tones.

Mrs. Olson's testimony presented virtually nothing but previously disclosed by her husband. She said she was unable to tell what time Erdman returned on the night of September 9, the night on which Clara was murdered.

Erdman's mother testified that Erdman wrote her saying that Chris Olsen had visited him at the college and "threatened me with everything under the sun and I had to cook up a story for my own protection."

The story he cooked up, Mrs. Olson testified, was the one about the girl's going to St. Paul.

"Erdman told me he had asked her to have a doctor examine her and she would not allow it," the youth's mother continued. "That's the reason why he did not want to marry her."

Edwin Knutson, a farm hand at the Albert Olson farm, took the witness stand just before court recessed for luncheon.

Death Claimed Victor

In 1813 Gen. Zebulon M. Pike commanded the brigade that landed at York, now Toronto, and captured the stronghold. After the worst of the fighting was over and the commander was sitting on a log waiting for the surrender, a rock from an exploded powder magazine crushed him to death.

THAT THE AMERICAN FAMILY MAY HAVE, AT A MODERATE INVESTMENT, A CAR... THAT GRATIFIES THEIR FINER TASTES AS WELL AS SATISFIES THEIR EVERY NEED..."

The Sherlund Co.

OLDSMOBILE SIX

Lyceum

"The Pick of All Pictures"

TONIGHT LAST TIME

—for the rag-time, jagg-time, best time you ever heard!

CORINNE GRIFFITH

Syncopating Sue

Tuesday & Wednesday

CONRAD NAGEL and EDITH ROBERTS in

Here! The Best in Radio

★

THE AMAZING NEW

FREED EISEMANN RADIO

—Metal shielded from outside interference.

—Built on a chassis of pressed steel for permanence.

$75.00 and up

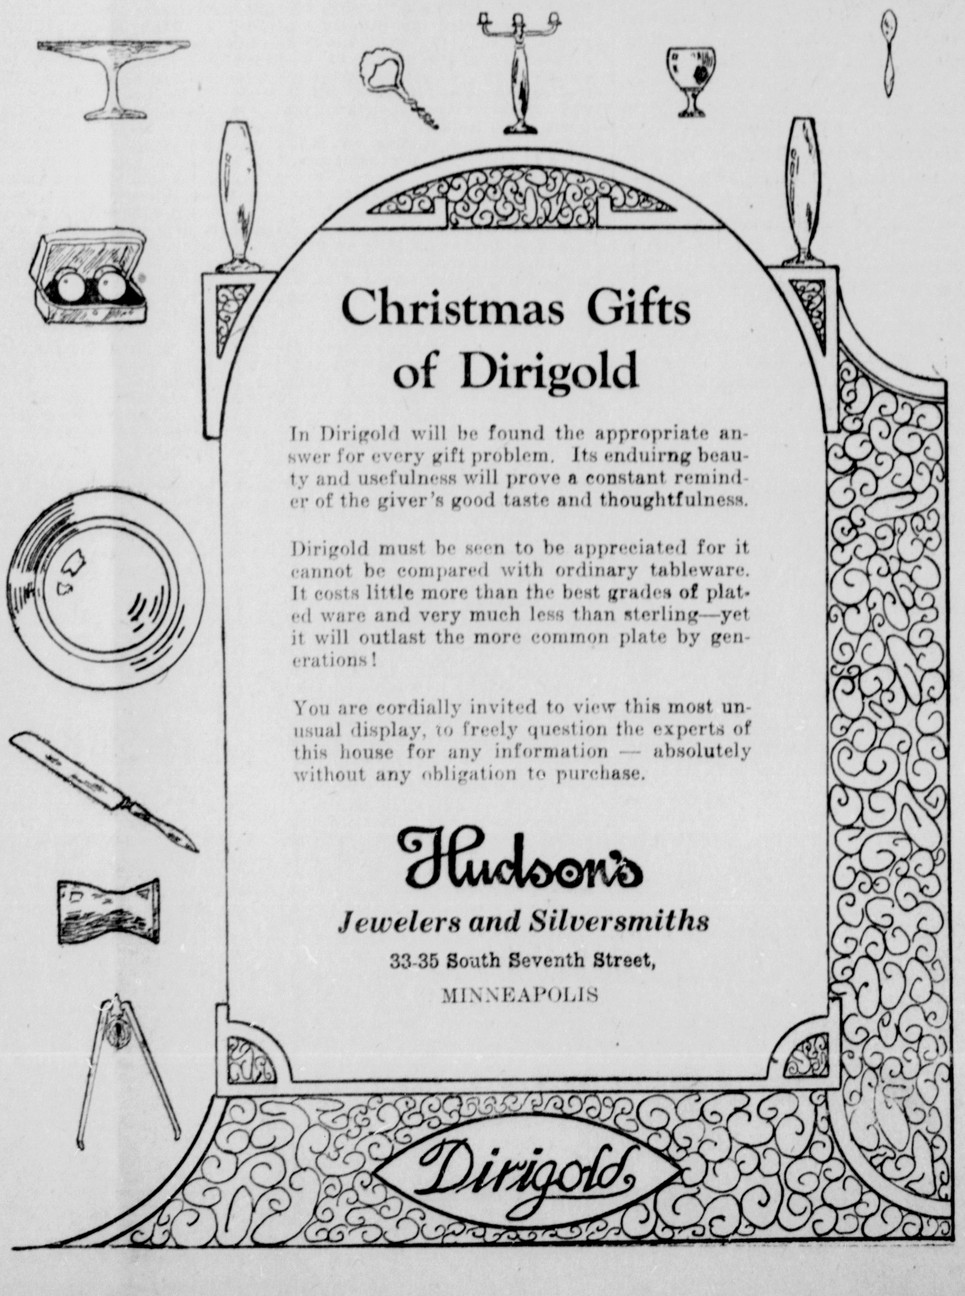

The new range of low prices will surprise you. See these sets today!

TERMS IF DESIRED

Free demonstration in your own home.

Electric Garage

Phone 11 — 716 Front St.

Christmas Gifts of Dirigold

In Dirigold will be found the appropriate answer for every gift problem. Its enduirng beauty and usefulness will prove a constant reminder of the giver's good taste and thoughtfulness.

Dirigold must be seen to be appreciated for it cannot be compared with ordinary tableware. It costs little more than the best grades of plated ware and very much less than sterling—yet it will outlast the more common plate by generations!

You are cordially invited to view this most unusual display, to freely question the experts of this house for any information — absolutely without any obligation to purchase.

Hudson's

Jewelers and Silversmiths

33-35 South Seventh Street,

MINNEAPOLIS

Dirigold

We Have Moved

To the Lyceum Building

Entrance on Laurel St.

Tailoring and Dry Cleaning Suits to Order

Philip D. Watson

Free

FREE—from castor taste and odor.

FREE—from after-nausea. Not flavored.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is the original tasteless castor oil, made for medicinal use only.

FREE—literature on request to WALTER JANVIER, Inc., 417 Canal St., New York

Two sizes—25c and 50c at all good drug stores

Zonite

For feminine hygiene

Enlightened women are now using Zonite instead of poisonous compounds for this important purpose. Zonite is thoroughly effective but harmless to delicate tissues.

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

CUT EVERGREENS FOR YULETIDE

Annual Harvest for Christmas Trees in This District Has Started

CARS ARE LADEN

Trees Will Not be Missed if Cuttings Are Made With Discretion

With the holiday Christmas season nearing and people flocking to the woods in quest of Christmas trees and decorations for stores and hames of evergreen boughs, the forestry department are faced with the problem of conducting a campaign against any wanton cutting of trees.

The forestry department are not prejudiced aginst the people in cutting Christmas trees except in cases where trees are cut without provocation.

The following statement was issued this morning by Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes regarding this matter:

"The holiday season is near at hand and already the annual harvest of Christmas trees has begun. Hunters from the south, who were in the north woods for the big game hunt, carried home with them, thousands of trees to be used at Christmas time and we are glad each will have one of our beautiful trees to bring Christmas cheer into their homes. It makes them appreciate more, our living trees and when cut here and there using a little discretion in the cutting, the trees are not missed and if cutting be done as a thinning or selective process, is a benefit to the remaining stand.

"But we have with us, also, the man who comes along with a truck, goes in on the unoccupied land, along our highways, lakeshore property, etc., cuts, slashes, and destroys without thought of selective cutting or caring on whose property he trespass.

"With the hundreds of truck loads of trees that were hauled or shipped from the forests last year and the indiscriminate cutting which took place along our lakes and highways, not to mention the oversupply of trees which were carried into our cities and burned later, on the vacant lots, there should be some steps taken to protect private property as well as our forests.

"But you say, 'how can this be prevented? What can our city do to help check this vandalism?' Our city might pass an ordinace requiring that every Christmas tree vendor in the city purchase a license, that the trees be cut under the supervision of the city or State Forest Service, unless cut on private land, in which case the exact location and ownership of the land, with a paid up tax receipt to be shown.

"The names of those in the country who have Christmas trees for sale, for reasonable prices, are clearing land for agricultural purposes or as a thinning process, might be secured by the county agent, the ranger, or the local papers, where one might drive out and secure his tree. The tree bought from such a source, would bring happiness, undiminished by any feeling of regret that growing forests were diminished or destroyed to satisfy a time honored custom, but would be increased by the knowledge that these symbols of cheer and goodwill, originated in an act of benefit to the forest."

P. A. OF BAND ELECT OFFICERS

Al C. Ebert Named Head of Parents Asscociation of Brainerd Concert Band

PLAN ANNUAL CONCERT

Other Officers Include John Holvick, W. E. Paul, V. Peterson and Ole D. Larson

The Parents Association of the Brainerd Concert Band held their regular monthly meeting and annual election of officers Saturday evening. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President Al C. Ebert, Vice President John Holvick, Secretary W. E. Paul, Treasurer Victor Peterson, Manager Ole D. Larson.

The parents are looking forward with much interest to the annual concert to be given in February, as they feel that their boys are in better shape this winter than ever before to give the public a real musical treat.

King's Heralds, M. E. Sunday School

The girls of the King's Heralds of the M. E. Sunday school met at the home of Miss Lillian Soliday, 711 Seventh Street North on Saturday afternoon. After the regular business session a large box was packed for the Erie school at Olive Hill, Ky. The sending of the box was a part of home missionary work and was great fun. Mrs. Soliday, assisted by her daughter and Arthur Cuskey served refreshments.

The boys' division of the King's Heralds met this afternoon at the home of David Schrader, 510 Fourth Street North to pack a Christmas box for the boys at the same school. They have made folders containing continued stories and each boy at the school will receive a folder and a nice pair of stockings. The box will be shipped tomorrow.

Whon a Feller Needed a Friend — by Briggs

PARENT-TEACHERS MAGAZINE OUT

REVIEWS OUTSTANDING RESULTS OF ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN ST. PAUL

Copies of the new Minnesota Parents' and Teachers' Magazine are being mailed to every member of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Bulletins of various descriptions have been sent out by the state organization from time to time. This edition, containing 20 pages of reading matter, is of special interest to parents.

In addition to an introduction to the new state president, Mrs. A. A. Mendenhall of Duluth, and a review of outstanding results of the fourth annual state convention conducted recently at St. Paul, there are articles offering suggestions to parents and local parents and teachers organizations.

In an interview with Dr. M. L. Stiffler, director of the Child Guidance Clinic, parents are urged to give their children toys which will aid in forming their character, mind and body.

"Above all they should be things which can be used in making things," Dr. Stiffler said. "Sand boxes, beads, colored paper for tiny folk; tools, garden sets, sewing materials and paints for older children are always good. A boy will get more fun out of a piece of old canvas and the equipment to fashion it than he will out of the finest tent you can buy. A girl will take more pride in a crude doll dress fashioned by her own hands than in the finest creation of her mother's needle. And tools are not sufficient in themselves—the young workers need materials as well. A few old boards, some wheels and odds and ends from junk shops will keep the average boy occupied for a long time."

A summary of activities of the last year is published to serve as a guide and inspiration for the work of the local organization for this year. Each is urged to select a worthwhile project and "then do it." The accomplishments which the La-Crescent, Minn., association achieved through cooperation are described.

A "Children's Bookshelf," is conducted on one page by Miss Grace Arthur Ph. D., psychologist at the St. Paul Child Guidance Clinic. In another article J. R. Batchelor, field secretary of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, suggests chances which parents and teachers have to contribute to the health of their children by developing the love of winter sports.

The new publication will go to every member without further cost, according to plans adopted at the state convention. Carl L. Anderson is managing editor, and Mrs. E. G. Quamme and Miss Alma O. Schmidt, associate editors. The board of governors includes Mrs. A. A. Mendenhaill, Mrs. Theodore C. Blegen, Mrs. Thomas Canfield and Mrs. C. L. Simmers. The magazine will be issued monthly.

Corinne Griffith Scores Again in "Syncopating Sue"

It's a treat for most film fans just to watch Corinne Griffith's blonde beauty move across the screen, follow her graceful movements, note the charm of her manner and the style of her clothes.

But when this actress whom "Liberty Weekly" has declared the most beautiful woman in the world appears in a story as absorbing and yet humorously spun as "syncopating Sue" an evening of unrivaled entertainment is achieved at the Lyceum, last showing tonight.

"There You Are" Produces Laughs Without Number

"There You Are," a hilarious filmization of the novel by F. Hugh Herbert, noted humorist, introduces Conrad Nagel in a new vein of whimsical comedy, akin, in a way, to his role in "Dance Madness," but going several steps further in the matter of producing laughs. The new picture, playing at the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday is the hilarious adventure of elopers beset by an angry father, a police force, a dog—and tangled identities and a misplaced baby. It is laid in modern New York, and was directed by Edward Sedgwick, at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

DAUGHTER OF PIONEER DIES

Mrs. Amanda L. Spies Passed Away Saturday Following Operation

IN COUNTY 25 YEARS

Preserved Broadax Father Used in Building Brainerd's First Buildings

The death took place Saturday at the St. Joseph's hospital of Mrs. Amanda L. Spies folowing an operation for gall bladder.

Mr. and Mrs. Spies had resided in the county for 25 years, having a farm at White Sand Lake, later moving to West Brainerd. She was born in Pennsylvania. Her maiden name was Hockenbery and her father held the distinction of hewing the logs for the first buildings in Brainerd and also for the ties for the entrance to the city by the railroad. Mrs. Spies had preserved throughout her life the broadax her father used in this pioneer work.

Surviving are a husband and two children. The funeral will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the First Baptist church. Rev. Damon, officating.

FOR RENT—CALL 74

WITNESSES SWARM TO THE INQUEST

(Continued from page 1)

found and asked him what he knew of it.

"Chris seemed terribly worried," Erdman's father testified, "but I told him not to take it so hard. I told him that Clara probably had just gone away for a while and would return home the first of the year with the baby."

Erdman's mother was the next witness. She was stylishly dressed and spoke in soft tones.

Mrs. Olson's testimony presented virtually nothing but previously disclosed by her husband. She said she was unable to tell what time Erdman returned on the night of September 9, the night on which Clara was murdered.

Erdman's mother testified that Erdman wrote her saying that Chris Olson had visited him at the college and "threatened me with everything under the sun and I had to cook up a story for my own protection."

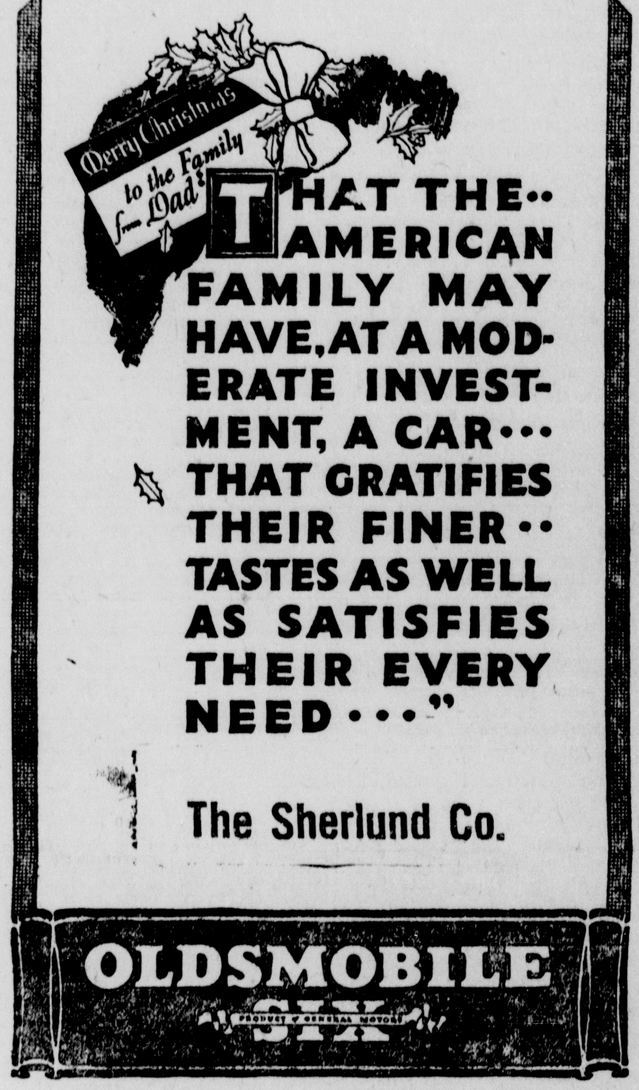

The story he cooked up, Mrs. Olson testified, was the one about the girl's going to St. Paul.

"Erdman told me he had asked her to have a doctor examine her and she would not allow it," the youth's mother continued. "That's the reason why he did not want to marry her."

Edwin Knutson, a farm hand at the Albert Olson farm, took the witness stand just before court recessed for luncheon.

Death Claimed Victor

In 1813 Gen. Zebulon M. Pike commanded the brigade that landed at York, now Toronto, and captured the stronghold. After the worst of the fighting was over and the commander was sitting on a log waiting for the surrender, a rock from an exploded powder magazine crushed him to death.

We Have Moved
To the Lyceum Building
Entrance on Laurel St.
Tailoring and Dry Cleaning
Suits to Order
Philip D. Watson

Lyceum
"The Pick of All Pictures"
TONIGHT LAST TIME
—for the rag-time, jagg-time, best time you ever heard!

CORINNE GRIFFITH
Syncopating Sue

Tuesday & Wednesday
CONRAD NAGEL
and EDITH ROBERTS
in

Here!
The Best in Radio
★
THE AMAZING NEW
FREED EISEMANN RADIO
—Metal shielded from outside interference.
—Built on a chassis of pressed steel for permanence.
$75.00 and up
The new range of low prices will surprise you. See these sets today!
TERMS IF DESIRED
Free demonstration in your own home.
Electric Garage
Phone 11 — 716 Front St.

free
FREE—from castor taste and odor.
FREE—from after-nauses. Not flavored.
Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is the original tasteless castor oil, made for medicinal use only.
FREE—literature on request to WALTER JANVIER, Inc., 417 Canal St., New York
Two sizes—25c and 50c at all good drug stores

Zonite
For feminine hygiene
Enlightened women are now using Zonite instead of poisonous compounds for this important purpose. Zonite is thoroughly effective but harmless to delicate tissues.

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month, 50c; three months $1.25; 1 year, $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00; one year, $4.00
Weekly Dispatch—One year, $1.50.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1926

GETTING ACQUAINTED WITH THE UNITED PRESS

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH has taken the United Press service for many years, in fact it is the only press association news the paper has received and dates back to the time when a short telegram service was received. This was followed by a pony service, when the stenographer at the office took down a 15 minutes telephone call three times a day, and transcribed the call from her notes.

This was succeeded about a year ago by a complete leased wire service recorded on modern printer-telegraph machines, a service starting at 7 a. m each day and continuing to 3 p. m. The Dispatch machines are now housed in a specially built room, making the typewriters' gyrations almost sound proof. You may be able to hear a faint tap-tap, but that is all. Glass encased sides enable you to see the operations of the machines as they record copy. The carriage switches automatically, the spacer works regularly, the machine automatically operates by electric impulse guided by the tape punched at the St. Paul Northwest headquarters of the association.

The United Press service will be explained Tuesday, Dec. 7, at the luncheon of the Rotary club and many of the Rotarians will invite extra guests so that all may have the opportunity to hear the explanation of C. R. Zeininger. The talk will deal with methods of world news gathering and transmission, the chief aim being to impress upon the community the service which the local publisher purchases from a world-wide press association in order to bring up-to-the-minute news from all quarters of the globe to his subscribers.

Mr. Zeininger is a field representative of the United Press and for the past 13 years has been engaged in the newspaper business in Manila, Philippine Islands, the last eight years as managing editor of the Manila Daily Bulletin, the largest paper in English in the Orient and of which he is still part owner.

Mr. Zeininger is acquainted with the aims and aspirations of Rotary, having served as President of the Manila Rotary club. He is a Minnesota boy, born at Owatonna, and educated in this state.

Shortly after Mr. Zeininger's 20 minutes talk, the club and its friends will adjourn across the street to the Park theatre where two reels running approximately 20 minutes will be shown. The films will show how news is gathered in all sections of the globe and eventually transmitted to the Brainerd Dispatch.

Tuesday evening the films will be shown at the second show of the Lyceum theatre. Many theatre parties are being formed to see the film.

THE SMALL TOWN IS NEEDED

THE Aitkin Independent Age prints this defense of the small town and draws the conclusion that farmers and towns people are very shortsighted when they fail to patronize home merchants and their home institutions. The editorial follows:

There is a debt you owe to your home town but whatever the bill is, none will be presented to you for payment. If you do not realize the size of it, nobody will try to tell you. You know what the town has done for you, and you should know better than anybody else what you ought to do for the town.

For instance, what part does this community have in making you a living? Or when you lost your job who gave you credit—not the big city business men—oh, no. Again, it's the growth and prosperity of your town that make it convenient to find a doctor, a bank, amusements, churches, schools, and business houses prepared to meet your every need.

When you find high class public schools located accessible to your children; when you find a community of fine churches; when you find all the conveniences of modern life at your elbow, just stop and think that this is the result of successful home trade which has made it possible to create a splendid center of civilization in your locality. If everybody had decided to trade away from home these things could not exist in your neighborhood. They might exist in some remote city where your welfare is never considered, and you might as well be in the wilds of Africa, for all those who had profited by the money you sent them would care.

The small town is needed, and farmers and townspeople are exceedingly shortsighted when they fail to patronize home merchants and their home institutions. Be a home town man all along the line—patronize home-town business exclusively.

KEEPING CHRISTMAS

"THERE is a better thing than the observance of Christmas day, and that is, keeping Christmas," says Henry Van Dyke.

"Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow-men are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day?

"Then you can keep Christmas."

PROTECTIVE TARIFF ON BUTTER

THE dairymen of the country are receiving the benefit of the protective tariff on butter. The duty was 8 cents a pound on butter imported. Under that rate millions of pounds were brought to this country from Denmark, and other countries.

The Minnesota delegation, headed by Harold Knutson, presented the need of better protection to President Coolidge, and he increased the duty to 12 cents a pound, which was as high as he had authority to make it. The report is that since last March when the new duty went into effect, importation from Denmark and New Zealand have stopped, leaving the market free to the American producers.—St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press.

THE first of a series of four dairy meetings will be held at Aitkin and Tamarack on December 9 and 10 respectively. A heavy enrollment has been secured from Tamarack.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Dec. 6, 1901

A. L. Wilhelm, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city has tendered his resignation to the boardlike a thunderbolt to his numerous of directors, it has been accepted and he left this afternoon for St. Paul. Mr. Wilhelm has accepted a position as train dispatcher for the Great Western and will enter upon his duties tomorrow morning.

The announcement was made this morning by E. M. Westfall of the firm of Westfall and Georgeson that he had decided to retire from business in the city and the news came friends in Brainerd. Mr. Westfall has been in business in the city for over 20 years and his long connection with the best interests in the city has cemented a friendship which will be lasting. Few men have as many friends as he. He has always been upright and honorable and has won the confidence of the entire city and the step he is about to take is to be deplored. R. L. Georgeson has not decided what he will do but will probably remain in the city.

S. R. Adair has had some very elegant show cases installed in his jewelry emporium on Sixth street and the store is one of the neatest in the city.

Mrs. T. J. Foley passed through the city this afternoon en route to her home at Aitkin from the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Hoffoss, sister of Gil Chadbourne is expected in the city in a few days to make her home here.

F. J. Dunn of Kenyon is in the city visiting with his brother H. P. Dunn. Mr. Dunn is one of the popular young business men of Kenyon. This is his first visit to Brainerd and he expressed himself this morning as agreeably surprised at the thrift and energy displayed in the metropolis of the "pine gardens" of Northern Minnesota.

New Anesthetic

Propylene, a constituent of manufactured gas, has recently been found to possess valuable anesthetic properties, and has been made use of in the case of major operations. This anesthetic is much more powerful than ethylene, employed by dentists, to which propylene is closely related.

Copyright 1926 Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"DON'T TELL THE WIFE," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Ranny Forbes, star polo player, and his beautiful wife, Joan, are temperamental mismates. Joan wants a divorce. Ranny hesitates, loving her, although secretly knowing she loves Abner Gratman. Lacking proof that Joan is faithless he plans to trap her and Abner while they are all on a week-end cruise on the yacht of Stivner, a billionaire lumber king, whom Ranny cultivates for business reasons. Complications multiply. Clare, a widow, vamps Ranny. Stivner, loving Clare, resents Ranny's interest. Loyal to her marriage vows up to now, Joan feels Ranny's flirting releases her. But he, tiring of Clare, is ready to spring his trap.

CHAPTER X.—Continued

The smoking room of the Speedwell, though essentially masculine in tone, was no less beautiful than any other part of that most magnificent of yachts.

In an open fireplace at one end of the room real logs burned. The mantel was wrought out of the oake rib of antique sailing ship, and upon it rested a meticulously pieced model, hand carved by Captain Marty, of the clipper his father used to command in the China trade during Maine's maritime heyday.

The walls of the room were richly panelled in walnut, with tiny sconce lamps in the form of ship's lanterns set on each pilaster. The ceiling was deeply beamed, also in walnut. The whole interior was highly polished to a mirror-like finish that reflected the dancing log flames through the miniature fog diffused from the cigars of the smokers, who were half buried in the comfortable furniture, which was sumptuously upholstered in warm toned leather.

Out stepped Mrs. Clare Clemoneau.

By and large it was an ideal place to lounge, in fair weather as well as foul.

Ranny and Clay, however, were not in the mood for lounging. They had work to do—grim work.

As soon as they could do so without attracting undue attention they slipped out of the smoking room.

The Speedwell was so arranged that most of the living rooms and the owner's apartment were one deck below the bridge superstructure—half a deck down, to be exact, from the lounge and main promenade—while the guest staterooms ranged along the forward three-quarter of the deck below. Aft of these were the crew quarters, and in the hold, still lower, were the engine room, the bunkers and the other necessary though unlovely portions of a great sea-going private yacht.

Ranny and Clay were thus able to make their way down to the Forbes' suite without venturing upon the deck, where they might have encountered Abner and Joan. They did not want to see that precious cad and his misguided consort—just yet!

After assuring themselves that Joan and Abner were not in the suite, nor spooning upon the private sundeck, Clay locked the sitting room door to the passageway while Ranny hastily fetched from his cabin a small package.

This the plotters untied, their expressions an odd mixture of crusading severity and skylarking. Opened, it revealed a bicycle bell attached to a length of electric lamp cord, some miscellaneous non-insulated wires and springs and a small biscuit box.

Like field generals planning a battle, Clay and Ranny surveyed the suite. Specifically, it consisted of a sitting room, off which opened two separate staterooms and the private sundeck. These, added to the main door opening to the corridor and the two doors opening into closets, made six apertures in the wall space besides the double window. The wall scheme, however, was so cunningly devised that there seemed to be only three doors—those to the closets and the hall. The other openings were really inset panels, which slid miraculously open at the lightest touch and fitted prettily into the decorative aspect of the room.

This, indeed, was charming, with furniture of beechwood, Louis XVI in atmosphere, walls in putty grey and the curtains and upholstery of rose-crimson silk. The private staterooms were alike in character, but different in tone, Ranny's in tan and rose English chintz, Joan's with apricot and sea-green taffeta drapes. In each cabin was a single berth, high set over a bank of drawers, and a built-in dresser and mirror, and each had a compact though luxurious bathroom.

Joan's cabin was on the outside, her porthole opening on the sundeck.

"Now," decided Ranny, "the two closets are the key. With escape cut off to either the sundeck or through the corridor, he'll have to hide. He won't dare go into Joan's room nor into mine. There are no beds to crawl under! He'll have to duck into one of the closets. We can't wire both, so I'll lock one and take the key. That'll limit him to the one we shall trap."

Without further ado Ranny locked one of the closets.

Then, while Clay stood guard at the corridor door to listen for footsteps, Ranny worked at top speed to set the "rat trap," as he called it more grimly than facetiously. The bicycle bell and its improvised attachments, prepared before he left home, he concealed on a high shelf, fastening it by a small adjustable spring to the door and running the wire out under the carpet to a baseboard plug.

At length he finished and explained with a grin to Clay, who had watched the proceedings with interest.

"I'll leave the door a bit ajar. When Abner dodges into the closet his instinct will be to close the door after him, of course. Then—the bell will ring incessantly! Fini l'amour!"

The two arch plotters stood in the center of the room, relishing the prospect.

"Now," said Clay, "there's only one thing we haven't thought of."

"What's that?"

"Well, after all, this is Stivner's yacht. He's entitled to know what we're up to, for he could thwart our plan to punish Abner if he's so minded. Besides, taking him into your confidence will serve to ingratiate you into his friendship and make up what you've lost in his estimation by your damphoolery with that blonde."

Ranny agreed, and presently Stivner was seated in the Forbes' suite listening with amazement to the unvarnished tale. It was a pathetic confession, coming clean-breasted from a two-fisted fighting man. In Ranny's straightforward manliness Stivner, who knew how hard the telling was, found much to renew his admiration. There remained but one suspicion:

"For an abused husband you've been rather—er-r, flirtatious!"

Ranny's frankness never faltered. "Only as a means to an end. Mrs. Clemoneau means nothing to me, I swear!"

"Forbes, I believe in you and I'm going to help you. Any man who steals another's wife—or woman—deserves to be punished. What's your plan for punishing Gratman?"

After Ranny explained Stivner found himself sharing the conspirators' glee. "That's rich! Only—we'll have to take Captain Marty into the scheme because it invades his sphere of authority."

Stivner summoned the captain.

The matter was reviewed for the doughty seadog's benefit. Then Ranny explained:

"As a fitting humiliation, I propose to isolate Gratman in a dory to be towed behind the yacht until we get back to port on Monday, shutting him off meanwhile like the moral leper he is from the other guests and from all food except these crackers!"

"You needn't have brought that box of crackers," Captain Marty rumbled. "We've plenty of hardtack!"

"Yes, but not this special kind!"

"What's that?"

"DOG BISCUITS!"

CHAPTER XI

The nocturnal quietude of the sleeping yacht, an hour after midnight, was rudely disturbed by a man's angry yells and the persistent ringing of a bell.

Aroused guests, scantily clad, crowded after Stivner to the Forbes' suite. There they found a strange tableau:

Clay and the captain framed in the sundeck door; Joan, white faced and trembling, in the center of the room staring affrightedly at the closed closet, within which a bell clanged madly, Ranny, the perfect picture of a cheated husband, glowering over her.

"What does this mean?" demanded Stivner as per his rehearsed part.

"It means that a home wrecker has been caught!" thundered Ranny. He strode dramatically to the closet. "Come out, you—you—"

He threw open the closet door.

Out there stepped a smiling, lisping vision of blonde delectability in shell pink pajamas—Mrs. Clare Clemoneau!

(To be continued)

BABY'S COLDS are soon "nipped in the bud" without "dosing" by use of—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

PARK | Tuesday Nite VAUDEVILLE

Virginia Charlott and Boys
In a Revue
"HITS OF SONG AND DANCE HITS"
A Breezy Bit of Entertainment from the Artistic Greenwich Village

Nelson's Katland
With an Intelligent Cast of a Dozen Felines
"CATS AT THEIR BEST"
Introducing the Champion Cat Boxers of the World, Meeting All Comers

CONN & ALBERT
in
"ON THEIR WAY TO SCHOOL"
Bringing back the fond memories of childhood

VERA & EILEEN
those
"TWO GIRLS FROM OLD KENTUCKY"
Songs, Dances, Whistling and Music

John Orren and Lillian Drew
Presenting Their Original Novelty
"THE TOWN CLOWN"
With remarkable impersonations of animals and musical instruments by Vaudeville's foremost Mimic

JACQUELINE LOGAN in "OUT OF THE STORM"

Start Your Christmas Shopping Now

Mr. Merchant

Now is the time to tell the buying public about your wares through the columns of the Dispatch before they shop some other place.

It's NOT CROWDED when you SHOP EARLY

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH CO.
Office in Dispatch Building, Sixth St. So.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

Advertising Rates Made Known on Application

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Daily Dispatch by Carrier—One month, 50c; three months $1.25; 1 year, $5.00.
Daily Dispatch by Mail, Outside of City—Three months $1.00; one year, $4.00
Weekly Dispatch—One year, $1.50.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1926

GETTING ACQUAINTED WITH THE UNITED PRESS

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH has taken the United Press service for many years, in fact it is the only press association news the paper has received and dates back to the time when a short telegram service was received. This was followed by a pony service, when the stenographer at the office took down a 15 minutes telephone call three times a day, and transcribed the call from her notes.

This was succeeded about a year ago by a complete leased wire service recorded on modern printer-telegraph machines, a service starting at 7 a. m each day and continuing to 3 p. m. The Dispatch machines are now housed in a specially built room, making the typewriters' gyrations almost sound proof. You may be able to hear a faint tap-tap, but that is all. Glass encased sides enable you to see the operations of the machines as they record copy. The carriage switches automatically, the spacer works regularly, the machine automatically operates by electric impulse guided by the tape punched at the St. Paul Northwest headquarters of the association.

The United Press service will be explained Tuesday, Dec. 7, at the luncheon of the Rotary club and many of the Rotarians will invite extra guests so that all may have the opportunity to hear the explanation of C. R. Zeininger. The talk will deal with methods of world news gathering and transmission, the chief aim being to impress upon the community the service which the local publisher purchases from a world-wide press association in order to bring up-to-the-minute news from all quarters of the globe to his subscribers.

Mr. Zeininger is a field representative of the United Press and for the past 13 years has been engaged in the newspaper business in Manila, Philippine Islands, the last eight years as managing editor of the Manila Daily Bulletin, the largest paper in English in the Orient and of which he is still part owner.

Mr. Zeininger is acquainted with the aims and aspirations of Rotary, having served as President of the Manila Rotary club. He is a Minnesota boy, born at Owatonna, and educated in this state.

Shortly after Mr. Zeininger's 20 minutes talk, the club and its friends will adjourn across the street to the Park theatre where two reels running approximately 20 minutes will be shown. The films will show how news is gathered in all sections of the globe and eventually transmitted to the Brainerd Dispatch.

Tuesday evening the films will be shown at the second show of the Lyceum theatre. Many theatre parties are being formed to see the film.

THE SMALL TOWN IS NEEDED

THE Aitkin Independent Age prints this defense of the small town and draws the conclusion that farmers and towns people are very shortsighted when they fail to patronize home merchants and their home institutions. The editorial follows:

There is a debt you owe to your home town but whatever the bill is, none will be presented to you for payment. If you do not realize the size of it, nobody will try to tell you. You know what the town has done for you, and you should know better than anybody else what you ought to do for the town.

For instance, what part does this community have in making you a living? Or when you lost your job who gave you credit—not the big city business men—oh, no. Again, it's the growth and prosperity of your town that make it convenient to find a doctor, a bank, amusements, churches, schools, and business houses prepared to meet your every need.

When you find high class public schools located accessible to your children; when you find a community of fine churches; when you find all the conveniences of modern life at your elbow, just stop and think that this is the result of successful home trade which has made it possible to create a splendid center of civilization in your locality. If everybody had decided to trade away from home these things could not exist in your neighborhood. They might exist in some remote city where your welfare is never considered, and you might as well be in the wilds of Africa, for all those who had profited by the money you sent them would care.

The small town is needed, and farmers and townspeople are exceedingly shortsighted when they fail to patronize home merchants and their home institutions. Be a home town man all along the line—patronize home-town business exclusively.

KEEPING CHRISTMAS

"THERE is a better thing than the observance of Christmas day, and that is, keeping Christmas," says Henry Van Dyke.

"Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow-men are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day?

"Then you can keep Christmas."

PROTECTIVE TARIFF ON BUTTER

THE dairymen of the country are receiving the benefit of the protective tariff on butter. The duty was 8 cents a pound on butter imported. Under that rate millions of pounds were brought to this country from Denmark, and other countries.

The Minnesota delegation, headed by Harold Knutson, presented the need of better protection to President Coolidge, and he increased the duty to 12 cents a pound, which was as high as he had authority to make it. The report is that since last March when the new duty went into effect, importation from Denmark and New Zealand have stopped, leaving the market free to the American producers.—St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press.

THE first of a series of four dairy meetings will be held at Aitkin and Tamarack on December 9 and 10 respectively. A heavy enrollment has been secured from Tamarack.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Dec. 6, 1901

A. L. Wilhelm, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city has tendered his resignation to the board of directors, it has been accepted and he left this afternoon for St. Paul. Mr. Wilhelm has accepted a position as train dispatcher for the Great Western and will enter upon his duties tomorrow morning.

The announcement was made this morning by E. M. Westfall of the firm of Westfall and Georgeson that he had decided to retire from business in the city and the news came like a thunderbolt to his numerous friends in Brainerd. Mr. Westfall has been in business in the city for over 20 years and his long connection with the best interests in the city has cemented a friendship which will be lasting. Few men have as many friends as he. He has always been upright and honorable and has won the confidence of the entire city and the step he is about to take is to be deplored. R. L. Georgeson has not decided what he will do but will probably remain in the city.

S. R. Adair has had some very elegant show cases installed in his jewelry emporium on Sixth street and the store is one of the neatest in the city.

Mrs. T. J. Foley passed through the city this afternoon en route to her home at Aitkin from the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Hoffoss, sister of Gil Chadbourne is expected in the city in a few days to make her home here.

F. J. Dunn of Kenyon is in the city visiting with his brother H. P. Dunn. Mr. Dunn is one of the popular young business men of Kenyon. This is his first visit to Brainerd and he expressed himself this morning as agreeably surprised at the thrift and energy displayed in the metropolis of the "pine gardens" of Northern Minnesota.

New Anesthetic

Propylene, a constituent of manufactured gas, has recently been found to possess valuable anesthetic properties, and has been made use of in the case of major operations. This anesthetic is much more powerful than ethylene, employed by dentists, to which propylene is closely related.

Copyright 1926 Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"DON'T TELL THE WIFE," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Ranny Forbes, star polo player, and his beautiful wife, Joan, are temperamental mismates. Joan wants a divorce. Ranny hesitates, loving her, although secretly knowing she loves Abner Gratman. Lacking proof that Joan is faithless he plans to trap her and Abner while they are all on a week-end cruise on the yacht of Stivner, a billionaire lumber king, whom Ranny cultivates for business reasons. Complications multiply. Clare, a widow, vamps Ranny. Stivner, loving Clare, resents Ranny's interest. Loyal to her marriage vows up to now, Joan feels Ranny's flirting releases her. But he, tiring of Clare, is ready to spring his trap.

CHAPTER X.—Continued

The smoking room of the Speedwell, though essentially masculine in tone, was no less beautiful than any other part of that most magnificent of yachts.

In an open fireplace at one end of the room real logs burned. The mantel was wrought out of the oake rib of antique sailing ship, and upon it rested a meticulously pieced model, hand carved by Captain Marty, of the clipper his father used to command in the China trade during Maine's maritihe heyday.

The walls of the room were richly panelled in walnut, with tiny sconce lamps in the form of ship's lanterns set on each pilaster. The ceiling was deeply beamed, also in walnut. The whole interior was highly polished to a mirror-like finish that reflected the dancing log flames through the miniature fog diffused from the cigars of the smokers, who were half buried in the comfortable furniture, which was sumptuously upholstered in warm toned leather.

Out stepped Mrs. Clare Clemoneau.

By and large it was an ideal place to lounge, in fair weather as well as foul.

Ranny and Clay, however, were not in the mood for lounging. They had work to do—grim work.

As soon as they could do so without attracting undue attention they slipped out of the smoking room.

The Speedwell was so arranged that most of the living rooms and the owner's apartment were one deck below the bridge superstructure—half a deck down, to be exact, from the lounge and main promenade—while the guest staterooms ranged along the forward three-quarter of the deck below. Aft of these were the crew quarters, and in the hold, still lower, were the engine room, the bunkers and the other necessary though unlovely portions of a great sea-going private yacht.

Ranny and Clay were thus able to make their way down to the Forbes' suite without venturing upon the deck, where they might have encountered Abner and Joan. They did not want to see that precious cad and his misguided consort—just yet!

After assuring themselves that Joan and Abner were not in the suite, nor spooning upon the private sundeck, Clay locked the sitting room door to the passageway while Ranny hastily fetched from his cabin a small package.

This the plotters untied, their expressions an odd mixture of crusading severity and skylarking. Opened, it revealed a bicycle bell attached to a length of electric lamp cord, some miscellaneous noninsulated wires and springs and a small biscuit box.

Like field generals planning a battle, Clay and Ranny surveyed the suite. Specifically, it consisted of a sitting room, off which opened two separate staterooms and the private sundeck. These, added to the main door opening to the corridor and the two doors opening into closets, made six apertures in the wall space besides the double window. The wall scheme, however, was so cunningly devised that there seemed to be only three doors—those to the closets and the hall. The other openings were really inset panels, which slid miraculously open at the lightest touch and fitted prettily into the decorative aspect of the room.

This, indeed, was charming, with furniture of beechwood, Louis XVI in atmosphere, walls in putty grey and the curtains and upholstery of rose-crimson silk. The private staterooms were alike in character, but different in tone, Ranny's in tan and rose English chintz, Joan's with apricot and sea-green taffeta drapes. In each cabin was a single berth, high set over a bank of drawers, and a built-in dresser and mirror, and each had a compact though luxurious bathroom.

Joan's cabin was on the outside, her porthole opening on the sundeck.

"Now," decided Ranny, "the two closets are the key. With escape cut off to either the sundeck or through the corridor, he'll have to hide. He won't dare go into Joan's room nor into mine. There are no beds to crawl under! He'll have to duck into one of the closets. We can't wire both, so I'll lock one and take the key. That'll limit him to the one we shall trap."

Without further ado Ranny locked one of the closets.

Then, while Clay stood guard at the corridor door to listen for footsteps, Ranny worked at top speed to set the "rat trap," as he called it more grimly than facetiously. The bicycle bell and its improvised attachments, prepared before he left home, he concealed on a high shelf, fastening it by a small adjustable spring to the door and running the wire out under the carpet to a baseboard plug.

At length he finished and explained with a grin to Clay, who had watched the proceedings with interest.

"I'll leave the door a bit ajar. When Abner dodges into the closet his instinct will be to close the door after him, of course. Then—the bell will ring incessantly! Fini l'amour!"

The two arch plotters stood in the center of the room, relishing the prospect.

"Now," said Clay, "there's only one thing we haven't thought of."

"What's that?"

"Well, after all, this is Stivner's yacht. He's entitled to know what we're up to, for he could thwart our plan to punish Abner if he's so minded. Besides, taking him into your confidence will serve to ingratiate you into his friendship and make up what you've lost in his estimation by your damphoolery with that blonde."

Ranny agreed, and presently Stivner was seated in the Forbes' suite listening with amazement to the unvarnished tale. It was a pathetic confession, coming clean-breasted from a two-fisted fighting man. In Ranny's straightforward manliness Stivner, who knew how hard the telling was, found much to renew his admiration. There remained but one suspicion:

"For an abused husband you've been rather—er-r, flirtatious!"

Ranny's frankness never faltered. "Only as a means to an end. Mrs. Clemoneau means nothing to me, I swear!"

"Forbes, I believe in you and I'm going to help you. Any man who steals another's wife—or woman—deserves to be punished. What's your plan for punishing Gratman?"

After Ranny explained Stivner found himself sharing the conspirators' glee. "That's rich! Only—we'll have to take Captain Marty into the scheme because it invades his sphere of authority."

Stivner summoned the captain.

The matter was reviewed for the doughty seadog's benefit. Then Ranny explained:

"As a fitting humiliation, I propose to isolate Gratman in a dory to be towed behind the yacht until we get back to port on Monday, shutting him off meanwhile like the moral leper he is from the other guests and from all food except these crackers!"

"You needn't have brought that box of crackers," Captain Marty rumbled. "We've plenty of hardtack!"

"Yes, but not this special kind!"

"What's that?"

"DOG BISCUITS!"

CHAPTER XI

The nocturnal quietude of the sleeping yacht, an hour after midnight, was rudely disturbed by a man's angry yells and the persistent ringing of a bell.

Aroused guests, scantily clad, crowded after Stivner to the Forbes' suite. There they found a strange tableau:

Clay and the captain framed in the sundeck door; Joan, white faced and trembling, in the center of the room staring affrightedly at the closed closet, within which a bell clanged madly, Ranny, the perfect picture of a cheated husband, glowering over her.

"What does this mean?" demanded Stivner as per his rehearsed part.

"It means that a home wrecker has been caught!" thundered Ranny. He strode dramatically to the closet. "Come out, you—you—"

He threw open the closet door.

Out there stepped a smiling, lisping vision of blonde delectability in shell pink pajamas—Mrs. Clare Clemoneau!

(To be continued)

BABY'S COLDS are soon "nipped in the bud" without "dosing" by use of—
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

PARK | Tuesday Nite VAUDEVILLE

Virginia Charlott and Boys
In a Revue
"HITS OF SONG AND DANCE HITS"
A Breezy Bit of Entertainment from the Artistic Greenwich Village

Nelson's Katland
With an Intelligent Cast of a Dozen Felines
"CATS AT THEIR BEST"
Introducing the Champion Cat Boxers of the World, Meeting All Comers

CONN & ALBERT
in
"ON THEIR WAY TO SCHOOL"
Bringing back the fond memories of childhood

VERA & EILEEN
those
"TWO GIRLS FROM OLD KENTUCKY"
Songs, Dances, Whistling and Music

John Orren and Lillian Drew
Presenting Their Original Novelty
"THE TOWN CLOWN"
With remarkable impersonations of animals and musical instruments by Vaudeville's foremost Mimic

JACQUELINE LOGAN in "OUT OF THE STORM"

Start Your Christmas Shopping Now

Mr. Merchant

Now is the time to tell the buying public about your wares through the columns of the Dispatch before they shop some other place.

It's NOT CROWDED when you SHOP EARLY

His Winning Stenographer

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright.)

"I DON'T mind telling you," confided young Jimmy Dawson to his friend Charley Underwood, as they smoked their post-lunch cigars in the Belmont grill, "that Lesbia Carroll is just about all the brains in our firm. That girl's a marvel!"

"She's an easy creature to look at, also," replied Charley. "I've known her for years."

"Righto!" Then Dawson frowned. "There's something worrying me. The little simpleton has entered this fool contest for the world's best-looking and speediest typist, and I'm scared silly she'll win."

"If she did," finished Charley, "she'd be snapped up by 'movie' men and the firm would lose its brains."

"You've said it," returned his friend gloomily. "But worse even than that, the girl would be utterly spoiled."

"Pardon my inquiry, but have you—er—any personal interest in that matter?" asked Charley gently.

"Certainly not!" retorted the other with apparent sincerity. "Pure altruism alone incites me. If I could think of some scheme by which she could be kept from entering the finals, I would not hesitate to save her from herself."

"You'd stop at nothing?"

"Well, almost nothing!"

"I've got it, then!" and Charley slapped his knee. "You say your sister is at her place on Long Island? Well, listen, here!"

An hour later, Lesbia Carroll looked up from her desk to see her employer striding towards her with an expression of determination on his face.

Looking down into her blue eyes, "Are you still set on being in that contest?" he demanded.

Lesbia tossed her curly bobbed head. "Certainly," she said. "Why not?"

Now young Jimmy had not been altogether sincere about his interest in Lesbia. In spite of himself, it was fast growing personal, but he would not recognize it if Lesbia persisted in advertising herself throughout the country.

Therefore, he now hedged somewhat in his reply. "There are many reasons, Miss Carroll. You are bound to lose interest in your work with us. And—and—oh, hang it—"

Lesbia flushed. "Please, Mr. Dawson. Please!"

"It's no use," he presently telephoned Charley. "She will go into the thing and with her looks and speed, she's bound to win. I'll get hold of my sister—lucky they used to be old friends in school—and we'll carry out that little plan. Means I've got to get in a substitute here, but it's worth the trouble. It's up to you to see that your arrival with Lesbia is quite too late for the final contest."

Now to do Jimmy's sister justice, she was not informed as to just why Lesbia was sent to her for a week-end visit other than that Jimmy thought she needed a rest. But because she had been asked to include Jimmy's old friend, Charley Underwood, in the house party, she suspected a love affair and managed to throw them into each other's company as much as possible.

Therefore, upon that poor man fell the duty of playing Machiavelli at the same time that he was supposed to be enacting the role of an ardent Romeo. And it was probably not the first time that a well-meaning friend cursed his well-meaning friendship for precipitating him into unseen difficulties.

On the morning when the final contest was to be held, Jimmy Dawson's cruiser swung slowly up the East river.

Her owner was pacing the dock at which she was to land, and now and then he glanced nervously at his watch, while a few yards away, a taxicab with its engine still running, quivered on the cobblestones.

As the boat drew near, Jimmy went over to the top of the ladder which led down to the float and, as Lesbia started up, he reached down and grabbed her arm. "Hurry, Lesbia," he cried. "The contest was postponed until eleven, but we've only about fifteen—no, thirteen minutes, in which to make it. Hurry!"

But Lesbia seemed in no great haste, while Charley, now on the scene, was regarding Jimmy with an expression decidedly curious.

"Hurry," said Jimmy. "Only twelve minutes!"

"But I'm not going to enter!" cried Lesbia. "I know that Charley, for some reason or other, doesn't want me to. Ever since we left your sister's, he has been inventing delays and imagining that one thing after another was wrong with the boat. We've stopped twenty times on the way!" Then she slipped an arm through Charley's. "Mr.—er—Dawson, Charley and I—" she paused.

"Sorry, old man," said Charley. "You see—we've gone and fallen in love and now she's won me, she doesn't seem to care about winning anything else!"

Jimmy grabbed their hands. "Congratulations!" he said, and there was no doubting his sincerity.

But later when the two men were alone, Charley could not refrain from just one question. "How come, Jimmy, you made such a right-about-face about Lesbia's going in for that affair?"

Jimmy looked sheepish. "I—I sort of lost interest in what she did," he confessed. "And I didn't want it on my conscience that I'd stood in her way. I—I say, Charley, you ought to see the girl who's taking her place! Gloria, her name is—and, gosh, she's got brains, too!"

RIGHTEOUS REASONING

"Have you any reasons for suspecting that your antagonist purchased votes?"

"Every reason," answered Senator Sorghum. "My close advisers have been telling me for some time that they knew of votes that could be bought cheap and in large quantities. Of course, we didn't get 'em. So any that were sold must have gone to the other fellows."—Washington Star.

Danger Signal

Parson—I am relieved to see you, James. I saw your wife downtown wearing widow's weeds and I thought perhaps—

James—Cripes, what have I done now? She always goes into mourning for her first when I've done something.

The Wrong Spot

Asker—What happened to that valet of yours?

Teller—I fired him for removing a spot from one of my suits.

Asker—But isn't he supposed to do that?

Teller—Yes, but this was a 10-spot. —Pathfinder.

Poor Boy

A man happened to ask the name of a young woman he saw at a concert.

"She is Miss Hobbs; she teaches Mah Jongg," he was told.

He looked puzzled for a moment; then he remarked: "What a strange name for a child!"

Callers

"How about Dintler? Is he popular?"

"Yes, everybody goes to see him the first of the month."

Age of Wonders

Jack—Do you know who that sweet kid is that I've been dancing with all night—the one with the henna bob?

Jill—Oh yeah; that's Mum.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

"Junior, I get so tired of saying 'don't' to you all day long."

"Well, mother, think how hard that is on me."

The Hornet

A humble insect is the hornet,
But for this, though, do not scorn it.
For perseverance it's sublime,
Its point it carries every time.

Neglected Opportunity

"What did you discover in that ancient tomb?"

"Gems and precious metals," replied the explorer.

"Yet the royal inmate was forgotten?"

"He didn't have sense enough to start a jewelry store."—Washington Star.

Once Was Enough

"You have saved my life. How can I thank you?"

"You have said enough! It was in this manner that I got married the first time!"

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

Gold Coast Limited
All-Pullman. Only 54 hours, 40 minutes from Omaha. No extra fare. Open-top observation car thru Southern California. Lv. Omaha 9:50 a. m. daily. Ar. Los Angeles 2:50 p. m. 3d day. Thru standard sleeping cars daily from Minneapolis 7:35 a. m.; St. Paul 8:15 p. m., via C. & N. W.

Continental Limited
With standard and tourist sleepers. Lv. Omaha 4:10 a. m. daily. Ar. Los Angeles 8:30 a. m. 3d day. Thru standard sleepers daily and thru tourist sleepers every Tuesday and Saturday from Minneapolis 9:35 a. m.; St. Paul 10:10 a. m. via C. & N. W.

Los Angeles Limited
Extra fare. Save a day. Only 50½ hours from Omaha. Speed and luxury unsurpassed. Bath, barber, maid, manicure valet. Picked personnel. Lv. Omaha 5:30 a. m. Ar. Los Angeles 9:00 a. m. 3d day.

E. H. Hawley, General Agent, Union Pacific System, 618 Metropolitan Life Bldg., 125 S. Third St., Minneapolis, Minn.
822

UNION PACIFIC

Veteran of a Great Industry to Receive Its Tribute

A striking human testimony to the rapidity of modern industrial development will be presented at the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute at Tulsa, Oklahoma, December 7, 8 and 9. Among the oil men from all parts of the United States and several foreign countries who will be present, will be Samuel B. Smith of Titusville, Pennsylvania, who at the age of 82 is a survivor of the group that drilled the world's first oil well.

SAMUEL B. SMITH

Young Sam Smith was fifteen years old when, back in the summer of 1859, he took a job with his Uncle, Billy Smith, on the gang organized to perform the then brand new experiment of getting oil out of the ground by way of a drilled well. The big idea, which became a popular joke throughout Titusville district, had originated with Edwin L. Drake, a Connecticut Yankee. It was so grotesque that when he started drilling his well the operation became known as "Drake's Folly." Drake, however, clung tenaciously to his notion, and engaged Uncle Billy Smith to manage his drilling crew. Before the well had struck oil, at a depth of 69½ feet, Drake had sunk in it every dollar he owned, or could beg or borrow. To the amazement of the wise-crackers, on the afternoon of August 27, 1859, the well struck oil, and next morning was filled nearly to the surface. "Drake's Folly" had turned to wisdom; his persistence had made him the founder of one of the greatest modern industries.

Drake has long since gone to his reward. Young Sammy Smith alone survives of those who helped bring in that first well. He has lived all his life in the oil regions, and despite his eighty odd years is one of its real characters. He does not drink, smoke, or eat meat; his rule is to go to bed at eight o'clock in the evening; and to this abstemiousness he attributes the remarkable health he enjoys. He rides a bicycle nearly every day and has never lost interest in the industry with whose foundation he was associated. A daughter who lives in Titusville will accompany him to Tulsa, where a fitting reception is being planned for him.

Rules for Pruning Trees

The bureau of plant industry says that pruning an evergreen tree is not recommended, as pruning is likely to spoil the shape of the plant. In choosing plants for any particular position they should be selected with the thought of the ultimate height, so that they will not need pruning. If they must be pruned, do it any time except in the spring, when the tree is making new growth.

South American Pagans

Latest estimates of the population of South America place it at 65,000,000, the number being about equally divided between Indians and whites. The Indians are pagans and missionaries have been at work there for more than 50 years. The continent has all climates from tropical to frigid.

WANT AD CALL IS 74

Meeting the Air Need

The possibilities of a growing need for gasoline and lubricating oil specially made for aviation use was apparent to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) several years ago.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) appreciated then the importance of the aeroplane to commerce and industry and realized that it was only a question of time until the whole country would be knit together by an efficient air service.

The Air Mail was the first pioneering step in this direction. Its success is not yet fully understood by the general public, but business men everywhere appreciate the importance of a mail service that is swifter by hours and even days.

Europe has already shown us what can be done in passenger aviation and we are beginning to comprehend the possibilities.

Much progress has been made in developing the aeroplane as a commercial carrier. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), keeping closely in touch with new developments and working always with thought for the future, foresaw the inevitable expansion and extension of commercial aviation in this country.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) realized that a new gasoline and lubricating oil scientifically adapted to the aeroplane would be needed. Work was begun immediately to meet this new need.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is supplying the major part of the gasoline and lubricating oil used for aviation purposes.

The development of gasoline and lubricating oil for aviation purposes is but one more evidence that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) progresses in step with the best thought and the newest ideas of the time, cooperating at every opportunity for the greater welfare and prosperity of the nation.

By forcing petroleum to yield still more products that are needed for the general good of mankind the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has translated its ideals of service into still larger terms of usefulness.

It is upon the rock of enduring service that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has become one of the great institutions of the world. Truly great because it does a big job in a big way. It renders a comprehensive service, reckoning profits as secondary, firm in the belief that service brings its reward in exact ratio to the sincerity animating such service.

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
General Office: Standard Oil Building
910 So. Michigan Avenue, Chicago
4301

OUR AIM: TO SERVE YOU WELL AND FAITHFULLY —ALWAYS

A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION—

J.C. Penney Co. INC.
DEPARTMENT STORES

WHERE SAVINGS ARE GREATEST THRUOUT THE YEAR

Corner 7th and Laurel — Brainerd, Minn.

SHOP EARLY
While Stocks are Complete.

Fancy Boxed Ties
A Useful Gift
39c to $1.49

Men's Handkerchiefs
Fancy Borders
Some with Initial
49c to 89c Box

Boudoir Caps
Lace and Ribbon Trimmed, Individually Boxed
49c to 98c

Fancy Boxed Lingerie
Stepins, Chemise, Bloomers and Gowns
98c

"Where savings are greatest"

A Pleasing, Satisfying Christmas Gift Store

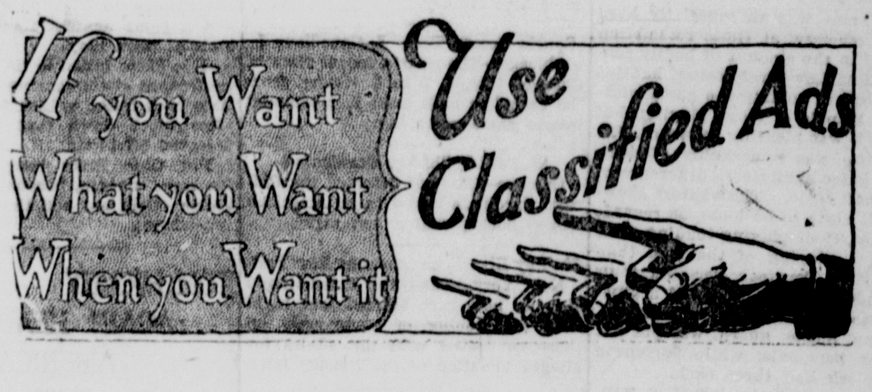

This Store is endeavoring to fulfill the responsibilities which nowadays is rightly expected of one that so happily serves the public throughout the year. The spirit of the approaching Christmas holidays dominates its salesfolk and wares that will carry cheer and happiness into thousands of homes crowd every department.

The J. C. Penney Company is proving its capacity to successfully act as Santa Claus to great numbers of people throughout the United States as is being evinced daily by happy, satisfied customers.

In all the 745 Stores of this countrywide organization adequate preparations have been made that shopping for gifts that are both handsome and useful will be attended by the fullest satisfaction.

The enormous buying and selective power of the Company has been exercised to the end that customers may shop at all our Stores with positive assurance of being able to make satisfying purchases of quality gift goods with a considerable saving of money.

J. C. Penney Co.

TO GET RESULTS, STATE CLEARLY WHAT YOU WANT, TO SELL OR TO BUY. Give correct address—phone number, if any—so that interested parties may communicate with you without a lot of trouble. Ads are 1c a word each issue.

Write Your Ad Here—Bring It to Our "Want Ad" Desk

DATE_____

Number of times_____ Number of Words_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

NAME_____ ADDRESS_____

BRAINERD DISPATCH

Read the Ads Before Shopping

His Winning Stenographer

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright.)

"I DON'T mind telling you," confided young Jimmy Dawson to his friend Charley Underwood, as they smoked their post-lunch cigars in the Belmont grill, "that Lesbia Carroll is just about all the brains in our firm. That girl's a marvel!"

"She's an easy creature to look at, also," replied Charley. "I've known her for years."

"Righto!" Then Dawson frowned. "There's something worrying me. The little simpleton has entered this fool contest for the world's best-looking and speediest typist, and I'm scared silly she'll win."

"If she did," finished Charley, "she'd be snapped up by 'movie' men and the firm would lose its brains."

"You've said it," returned his friend gloomily. "But worse even than that, the girl would be utterly spoiled."

"Pardon my inquiry, but have you—er—any personal interest in that matter?" asked Charley gently.

"Certainly not!" retorted the other with apparent sincerity. "Pure altruism alone incites me. If I could think of some scheme by which she could be kept from entering the finals, I would not hesitate to save her from herself."

"You'd stop at nothing?"

"Well, almost nothing!"

"I've got it, then!" and Charley slapped his knee. "You say your sister is at her place on Long Island? Well, listen, here!"

An hour later, Lesbia Carroll looked up from her desk to see her employer striding towards her with an expression of determination on his face.

Looking down into her blue eyes, "Are you still set on being in that contest?" he demanded.

Lesbia tossed her curly bobbed head. "Certainly," she said. "Why not?"

Now young Jimmy had not been altogether sincere about his interest in Lesbia. In spite of himself, it was fast growing personal, but he would not recognize it if Lesbia persisted in advertising herself throughout the country.

Therefore, he now hedged somewhat in his reply. "There are many reasons, Miss Carroll. You are bound to lose interest in your work with us. And—and—oh, hang it—"

Lesbia flushed. "Please, Mr. Dawson. Please!"

"It's no use," he presently telephoned Charley. "She will go into the thing and with her looks and speed, she's bound to win. I'll get hold of my sister—lucky they used to be old friends in school—and we'll carry out that little plan. Means I've got to get in a substitute here, but it's worth the trouble. It's up to you to see that your arrival with Lesbia is quite too late for the final contest."

Now to do Jimmy's sister justice, she was not informed as to just why Lesbia was sent to her for a week-end visit other than that Jimmy thought she needed a rest. But because she had been asked to include Jimmy's old friend, Charley Underwood, in the house party, she suspected a love affair and managed to throw them into each other's company as much as possible.

Therefore, upon that poor man fell the duty of playing Machiavelli at the same time that he was supposed to be enacting the role of an ardent Romeo. And it was probably not the first time that a well-meaning friend cursed his well-meaning friendship for precipitating him into unseen difficulties.

On the morning when the final contest was to be held, Jimmy Dawson's cruiser swung slowly up the East river.

Her owner was pacing the dock at which she was to land, and now and then he glanced nervously at his watch, while a few yards away, a taxicab with its engine still running, quivered on the cobblestones.

As the boat drew near, Jimmy went over to the top of the ladder which led down to the float and, as Lesbia started up, he reached down and grabbed her arm. "Hurry, Lesbia," he cried. "The contest was postponed until eleven, but we've only about fifteen—no, thirteen minutes, in which to make it. Hurry!"

But Lesbia seemed in no great haste, while Charley, now on the scene, was regarding Jimmy with an expression decidedly curious.

"Hurry," said Jimmy. "Only twelve minutes!"

"But I'm not going to enter!" cried Lesbia. "I know that Charley, for some reason or other, doesn't want me to. Ever since we left your sister's, he has been inventing delays and imagining that one thing after another was wrong with the boat. We've stopped twenty times on the way!" Then she slipped an arm through Charley's. "Mr.—er—Dawson, Charley and I—" she paused.

"Sorry, old man," said Charley. "You see—we've gone and fallen in love and now she's won me, she doesn't seem to care about winning anything else!"

Jimmy grabbed their hands. "Congratulations!" he said, and there was no doubting his sincerity.

But later when the two men were alone, Charley could not refrain from just one question. "How come, Jimmy, you made such a right-about-face about Lesbia's going in for that affair?"

Jimmy looked sheepish. "I—I sort of lost interest in what she did," he confessed. "And I didn't want it on my conscience that I'd stood in her way. I—I say, Charley, you ought to see the girl who's taking her place! Gloria, her name is—and, gosh, she's got brains, too!"

RIGHTEOUS REASONING

"Have you any reasons for suspecting that your antagonist purchased votes?"

"Every reason," answered Senator Sorghum. "My close advisers have been telling me for some time that they knew of votes that could be bought cheap and in large quantities. Of course, we didn't get 'em. So any that were sold must have gone to the other fellows."—Washington Star.

Danger Signal

Parson—I am relieved to see you, James. I saw your wife downtown wearing widow's weeds and I thought perhaps—

James—Cripes, what have I done now? She always goes into mourning for her first when I've done something.

The Wrong Spot

Asker—What happened to that valet of yours?

Teller—I fired him for removing a spot from one of my suits.

Asker—But isn't he supposed to do that?

Teller—Yes, but this was a 10-spot.—Pathfinder.

Poor Boy

A man happened to ask the name of a young woman he saw at a concert.

"She is Miss Hobbs; she teaches Mah Jongg," he was told.

He looked puzzled for a moment; then he remarked: "What a strange name for a child!"

Callers

"How about Dintler? Is he popular?"

"Yes, everybody goes to see him the first of the month."

Age of Wonders

Jack—Do you know who that sweet kid is that I've been dancing with all night—the one with the henna bob?

Jill—Oh yeah; that's Mum.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

"Junior, I get so tired of saying 'don't' to you all day long."

"Well, mother, think how hard that is on me."

The Hornet

A humble insect is the hornet,
But for this, though, do not scorn it.
For perseverance it's sublime,
Its point it carries every time.

Neglected Opportunity

"What did you discover in that ancient tomb?"

"Gems and precious metals," replied the explorer.

"Yet the royal inmate was forgotten?"

"He didn't have sense enough to start a jewelry store."—Washington Star.

Once Was Enough

"You have saved my life. How can I thank you?"

"You have said enough! It was in this manner that I got married the first time!"

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

Through STANDARD AND TOURIST SLEEPERS direct to California

Gold Coast Limited
All-Pullman. Only 54 hours, 40 minutes from Omaha. No extra fare. Open-top observation car thru Southern California. Lv. Omaha 9:50 a. m. daily. Ar. Los Angeles 2:30 p. m. 3d day. Thru standard sleeping cars daily from Minneapolis 7:35 p. m.; St. Paul 8:15 p. m., via C. & N. W.

Continental Limited
With standard and tourist sleepers. Lv. Omaha 4:10 a. m. daily. Ar. Los Angeles 8:30a. m. 3d day. Thru standard sleepers daily and thru tourist sleepers every Tuesday and Saturday from Minneapolis 9:35 a. m.; St. Paul 10:10 a. m. via C. & N. W.

Los Angeles Limited
Extra fare. Save a day. Only 50½ hours from Omaha. Speed and luxury unsurpassed. Bath, barber, maid, manicure, valet. Picked personnel. Lv. Omaha 8:30a.m. Ar. Los Angeles 9:00a.m. 3d day.

E. H. Hawley, General Agent, Union Pacific System, 618 Metropolitan Life Bldg., 125 S. Third St., Minneapolis, Minn.

UNION PACIFIC

Veteran of a Great Industry to Receive Its Tribute

A striking human testimony to the rapidity of modern industrial development will be presented at the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute at Tulsa, Oklahoma, December 7, 8 and 9. Among the oil men from all parts of the United States and several foreign countries who will be present, will be Samuel B. Smith of Titusville, Pennsylvania, who at the age of 82 is a survivor of the group that drilled the world's first oil well.

SAMUEL B. SMITH

Young Sam Smith was fifteen years old when, back in the summer of 1859, he took a job with his Uncle, Billy Smith, on the gang organized to perform the then brand new experiment of getting oil out of the ground by way of a drilled well. The big idea, which became a popular joke throughout Titusville district, had originated with Edwin L. Drake, a Connecticut Yankee. It was so grotesque that when he started drilling his well the operation became known as "Drake's Folly." Drake, however, clung tenaciously to his notion, and engaged Uncle Billy Smith to manage his drilling crew. Before the well had struck oil, at a depth of 69½ feet, Drake had sunk in it every dollar he owned, or could beg or borrow. To the amazement of the wise-crackers, on the afternoon of August 27, 1859, the well struck oil, and next morning was filled nearly to the surface. "Drake's Folly" had turned to wisdom; his persistence had made him the founder of one of the greatest modern industries.

Drake has long since gone to his reward. Young Sammy Smith alone survives of those who helped bring in that first well. He has lived all his life in the oil regions, and despite his eighty odd years is one of its real characters. He does not drink, smoke, or eat meat; his rule is to go to bed at eight o'clock in the evening; and to this abstemiousness he attributes the remarkable health he enjoys. He rides a bicycle nearly every day and has never lost interest in the industry with whose foundation he was associated. A daughter who lives in Titusville will accompany him to Tulsa, where a fitting reception is being planned for him.

Rules for Pruning Trees

The bureau of plant industry says that pruning an evergreen tree is not recommended, as pruning is likely to spoil the shape of the plant. In choosing plants for any particular position they should be selected with the thought of the ultimate height, so that they will not need pruning. If they must be pruned, do it any time except in the spring, when the tree is making new growth.

South American Pagans

Latest estimates of the population of South America place it at 65,000,000, the number being about equally divided between Indians and whites. The Indians are pagans and missionaries have been at work there for more than 50 years. The continent has all climates from tropical to frigid.

WANT AD CALL IS 74

Meeting the Air Need

The possibilities of a growing need for gasoline and lubricating oil specially made for aviation use was apparent to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) several years ago.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) appreciated then the importance of the aeroplane to commerce and industry and realized that it was only a question of time until the whole country would be knit together by an efficient air service.

The Air Mail was the first pioneering step in this direction. Its success is not yet fully understood by the general public, but business men everywhere appreciate the importance of a mail service that is swifter by hours and even days.

Europe has already shown us what can be done in passenger aviation and we are beginning to comprehend the possibilities.

Much progress has been made in developing the aeroplane as a commercial carrier. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), keeping closely in touch with new developments and working always with thought for the future, foresaw the inevitable expansion and extension of commercial aviation in this country.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) realized that a new gasoline and lubricating oil scientifically adapted to the aeroplane would be needed. Work was begun immediately to meet this new need.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is supplying the major part of the gasoline and lubricating oil used for aviation purposes.

The development of gasoline and lubricating oil for aviation purposes is but one more evidence that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) progresses in step with the best thought and the newest ideas of the time, cooperating at every opportunity for the greater welfare and prosperity of the nation.

By forcing petroleum to yield still more products that are needed for the general good of mankind the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has translated its ideals of service into still larger terms of usefulness.

It is upon the rock of enduring service that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has become one of the great institutions of the world. Truly great because it does a big job in a big way. It renders a comprehensive service, reckoning profits as secondary, firm in the belief that service brings its reward in exact ratio to the sincerity animating such service.

Standard Oil Company
(Indiana)
General Office: Standard Oil Building
910 So. Michigan Avenue, Chicago

4301

OUR AIM: TO SERVE YOU WELL AND FAITHFULLY —ALWAYS

A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION—

J.C. Penney Co. INC.

DEPARTMENT STORES

WHERE SAVINGS ARE GREATEST THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Corner 7th and Laurel Brainerd, Minn.

SHOP EARLY
While Stocks are Complete.

Fancy Boxed Ties
A Useful Gift
39c to $1.49

Men's Handkerchiefs
Fancy Borders
Some with Initial
49c to 89c Box

Boudoir Caps
Lace and Ribbon Trimmed, Individually Boxed
49c to 98c

Fancy Boxed Lingerie
Stepins, Chemise, Bloomers and Gowns
98c

"Where savings are greatest"

A Pleasing, Satisfying Christmas Gift Store

This Store is endeavoring to fulfill the responsibilities which nowadays is rightly expected of one that so happily serves the public throughout the year. The spirit of the approaching Christmas holidays dominates its salesfolk and wares that will carry cheer and happiness into thousands of homes crowd every department.

The J. C. Penney Company is proving its capacity to successfully act as Santa Claus to great numbers of people throughout the United States as is being evinced daily by happy, satisfied customers.

In all the 745 Stores of this countrywide organization adequate preparations have been made that shopping for gifts that are both handsome and useful will be attended by the fullest satisfaction.

The enormous buying and selective power of the Company has been exercised to the end that customers may shop at all our Stores with positive assurance of being able to make satisfying purchases of quality gift goods with a considerable saving of money.

J. C. Penney Co.

TO GET RESULTS, STATE CLEARLY WHAT YOU WANT, TO SELL OR TO BUY. Give correct address—phone number, if any—so that interested parties may communicate with you without a lot of trouble. Ads are 1c a word each issue.

Write Your Ad Here—Bring It to Our "Want Ad" Desk

DATE_____

Number of times_____ Number of Words_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

NAME_____ ADDRESS_____

BRAINERD DISPATCH

Read the Ads Before Shopping

GREAT LAST HALF RALLY IN CAGE GAME

RAINBOWS COME FROM BEHIND TO WIN GAME 25-22

SUPERIOR HELPLESS IN FACE OF TERRIFIC 2ND HALF ONSLAUGHT

ENGBRETSON LEADS HIS MATES WITH 14 POINTS IN LAST HALF ATTACK

Staging one of the greatest last half rallies seen on the local floor for a long time, the Rainbows emerged brilliant victors over the Superior five Saturday night, the score being 25 to 22. At the half the count was 16 to 8 in the visitor's favor. During the second half, the Rainbows scored 17 points to Superior's 6.

Engbretson was the chief gunner of the locals, netting 17 points for his team, 14 of which came in the second half when Brainerd was running wild. The opposition early learned that Engbretson was a man that would bear watching, so two men were detailed for that duty. The ex-high school star of two years ago lived up to his reputation, however, by eluding his guardians, and sunk six field goals in the game. Five of these were in the second half.

How well the Rainbows worked after the intermission is seen by a glance at the score book, showing that only two field goals were made against them in this half. One of these was a tip-up by their center Kernan, who touched the ball out of Beresford's hands for a basket. This Kernan, by the way, gave a fine exhibition of center play. He was shorter than his opponent, but a remarkable spring gave him control of the tip-off almost throughout the game. His floor playing was excellent.

The combination that seemed to work most effectively for the locals was composed of Engbretson and Ericsson at forwards, Beresford at center, and Orth and Welsh at guard. All men who played gave a fine showing, however, Nutting especially working with his mates in a fast display of teamwork, breaking up opposing plays well.

The game was an especially hard one to officiate, at times resembling football in the amount of bodily contact. Bus Lowe, refereeing, had his hands full in holding the game within the bounds of clean playing, but his work was pleasing to watch. His officiating was remarkably efficient.

The game exhibited a difference of basketball style. The visitors showed their style to be loose, as regards the rules, their playing tending more toward a playing of the man than the ball. Fourteen personal fouls were called on Superior, and a number more might have been called. One man, Sloem, guard, was put out on four personals, while Sorrenson and Pesork had three each.

Excitement in the last few minutes mounted high, as Brainerd kept forging to the front. They steadily closed the gap between the teams, with nine points to the visitors' four during the third quarter, making the count 20 to 17, and then counting 8 points in the last period to the visiting team's 2. The last play of the game was good to see. With the score 23 to 22 in the Rainbows' favor, and the visitors getting a number of close-in shots which seemed to loop in and then out of the basket, Engbretson and Welsh staged the prettiest play of the game. Welsh took the ball out of the hands of the visitors after a bank shot, and passed the length of the court to Engbretson, who sprinted past the back guard, who was playing up toward the center of the floor, and slipped the ball into the hoop, making the score 25, just as the whistle blew signalling the end of the game.

The Rainbows exhibited a fast, clean attack, and a stonewall defense, and fans who follow the team in their home games this year will be well repaid. The players on the squad are worthy representatives of independent basketball in Brainerd.

The line-ups:

Superior—Johnson, rf; Sorrenson, lf; Kernan, c; Solem, rg; Roome, lg.

Brainerd—Engbretson, rf; Nutting, lf; Beresford, c; Lawrenz, rg; Orth, lg.

Substitutes—F. Kernan for Johnson, Johnson for F. Kernan, Pesork for Sorrenson, Sorrenson for Pesork, Eddelstein for Solem; Larson for Nutting, Ericsson for Larson, Welsh for Lawrenz, Nutting for Ericsson, Ericsson for Nutting.

Referee—Lowe. Timekeeper—Fitzharris.

Scoring—Field goals: Johnson 1, Sorrenson 2, Kernan 2, Solem 1, Roome 2; Engbretson 6, Beresford 3. Free throws: Johnson, 0 in 2; Sorrenson, 1 in 1; Kernan, 2 in 4; Solem, 1 in 2; Engbretson, 5 in 9; Nutting, 0 in 3; Ericsson, 0 in 1; Beresford, 1 in 4; Lawrenz, 0 in 1; Orth, 1 in 1.

Personal fouls—Johnson 1, Sorrenson 3, Pesork 3, Kernan 1, Solem 4, Rome 2, Nutting 1, Larson 2, Beresford 1, Welsh 1, Orth 3.

Flying Aces 21, All-Stars 8

In the preliminary game, the Flying Aces won their second game in two nights when they downed the All-Stars 21 to 8. The night previous, the Flying Aces traveled to Backus, playing the city team there and winning by a top-heavy score.

For the Flying Aces, Heikkinen, Laitala and Kukko did the best offensive work, with Gabiou playing a fine guarding game. Avery worked best for the All-Stars, but that team did not get going as well as they should. Whitlock refereed the game.

The line-ups:

All-Stars—LaCourse, rf; Avery, lf; Boyd, c; Gruenhagen, rg; Tribur, lg.

Flying Aces—Heikkinen, rf; Laitala, lf; Swanson, c; Gabious, rg; Fitzharris, lg.

Substitutes—Rofidal for LaCourse, Kukko for Heikkinen.

Field goals—Heikkinen 4, Laitala 2, Kukko 2, Swanson 1, Avery 2, Gruenhagen 1. Free throws—Heikkinen 1, Kukko 2, Avery 1, Boyd 1.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Vincent Richards Honored

New York—In spite of his turning professional Vincent Richards has been given the head of the ranking of the Metropolitan Lawn Tennis association for 1926.

Dickerson Resigns as President of Michigan Baseball League

Grand Haven, Mich.—Resignation as president of the Michigan Baseball League has been announced by Emerson W. Dickerson, local sports writer, who said there was some question as to whether the league could start next season.

Kansas City 7, Los Angeles 3

Kansas City, Mo.—The Los Angeles National league professional football team was turned back by Kansas City 7 to 3.

Wilson Wildcats 5, Chicago Bulls 0

Chicago—The Wilson Wildcats defeated Chicago's Bulls 5 to 0 in an American league professional football game here Sunday.

Sparta Soccer Team 7, Canadians 1

Chicago—The Sparta soccer team of Chicago took a 7 to 1 victory from the Canadian club team in a Midwest league game yesterday.

St. Paul 2, Chicago Cardinals 0

Chicago—St. Paul defeated the Chicago Cardinals 2 to 0 in an American league hockey match last night.

Six Day Bike Race Starts at New York

New York—The 41st international six day bike race started last night with the issuing of summonses on those connected with the affairs for alleged violation of the Sunday laws.

Ohio's "Knifing Guard"

Edwin A. Hess (shown in the photograph) of the powerful Ohio State team claims more than the distinction of being one of the best guards in conference grid circles. His fondness for cutting through his opponent's line has caused him to be named the "Knifing Guard." Last fall he was chosen on some of the mythical All-American elevens.

The Obvious

"Doc," growled the man who had been put on a diet, "why do you always order a fellow to cut out the things he likes?"

"Because," snapped the doctor, "he never eats or drinks the things he doesn't like, so it stands to reason it must be the things he does like that are disagreeing with him."

Tribulations of Childhood

"How old is that boy?" the conductor asked.

"Four," said the father.

"Four? Huh, he looks eight," replied the conductor.

"Well," came back the fond parent, "can I help it if he worries?"

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

NOTRE DAME'S SLIM VICTORY

ROCKNE MAN KICKS GOAL AFTER TOUCHDOWN

ONE OF U. S. C. PLAYERS COULD NOT KICK THE SAME KIND OF A GOAL

COACHES START ARGUMENT THAT RESEMBLES MICHIGAN-MINNESOTA GAME

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 6.—Notre Dame's slim victory over Southern California in the first big intersectional game of the season spots the New Year's day game in Pasadena between Alabama and Stanford is one that will give the victor the best claim to the mythical national championship.

Of all the great teams of the season, Navy, Army, Notre Dame, Michigan, Northwestern, Ohio State, Brown, Southern Methodist, Oregon Aggies—it would seem that the two best undefeated teams of the year are Stanford and Alabama.

If the big post season game on the coast results in a definite and convincing victory, the winner will have to be accepted as the national champion even if a good argument might be advanced from Annapolis that the Navy could beat either one.

Stanford and Alabama looked to be evenly matched, although Stanford on account of Pop Warner, will start as the favorite.

Notre Dame and Southern California seemed even in their game Saturday. Notre Dame won because one of Knute Rockne's four thousand horsemen kicked a goal for a point after touchdown and because one of the U. S. C. players could not kick the same goal for the points that would have tied or won the game.

And that arms the coaches with arguments for the next meeting of the football rules committee that the advantage given to an individual in the chance to kick point that will win a game against football's principle of team play.

Ohio State failed to tie for western conference championship because an Ohio back failed to kick for the point after touch down that would have defeated Michigan.

But Ohio State beat Illinois by the same margin, because an Illinois kicker could not add the point after touchdown.

TOM HICKEY AGAIN HEADS AMERICAN ASSN.

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Tom Hickey today was reelected president of the American association for a period of three years and his salary was increased from $8,000 to $10,000 per year.

Although he had another year to serve, the league directors voted to give him a three year term and an increase in salary effective immediately.

WESTERN FOOTBALL STARS PREDOMINATE

New York, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Western football stars predominate on the 1926 all-American team picked by Grantland Rice, New York expert, which appears in Collier's Weekly today.

The team, which Rice explained, was picked with the help of a number of prominent coaches, is as follows:

Hanfon, Syracuse, left end.
Wickhorst, Navy, left tackle.
Boeringer, Notre Dame, center.
Shively, Illinois, right guard.
Smith, Brown, right tackle.
Oosterbaan, Michigan right end.
Friedman, Michigan, quarterback.
Baker, Northwestern, left halfback.
Kaer, Southern California, right halfback.
Joesting, Minnesota, fullback.

Michigan is the only team to place two players and Friedman and Oosterbaan are the only players who were on he team last year.

Tilden Plays Indoor Tennis

Philadelphia — William T. Tilden took part in four tennis matches on the indoor courts of the Penn A. C. club yesterday and, in two doubles and two singles, disposed of his opponents in straight sets.

ANNUAL DOG DERBY TO BE HELD FEB. 12

BOYS ARE REQUESTED TO START TRAINING DOGS FOR BIG EVENT

DERBY SPONSORED BY AMERICAN LEGION; SPECIAL PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Brainerd's amateur dog derby to be contested by boys and their dog teams will take place in the city on February 12, 1927 it is announced today by Basil T. Heath, chairman of the committee of the American Legion who are sponsoring the derby.

While the derby does not take place until two months, the boys are urged at this time to get their dogs in training for the big event.

The derby last year was held very successfully.

Special prizes will be given for the winners. The derby will likely be held on South Broadway.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Today
WCCO (416)

5:15 p. m.—Children's hour.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert—Dick Long's St. Paul hotel orchestra; Harriet Casady, soprano; Corinne Jordan, accompanist.
7:30 p. m.—Farm lecture.
7:45 p. m.—Musical program—Reginald Price, baritone; Eckert's studio male quartet.
8:00 p. m.—University of Minnesota program.
9:00 p. m.—Orchestral program—Pence Motor Co., Walter Mallory, tenor.
10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets.
10:10 p. m.—Dance program—Dick Long's St. Paul hotel orchestra; Sidney Williams, pianist; Corinne Jordan, contralto.
11:30 p. m.—Organ recital—Arthur Hays.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1926 by United Press

WEAF Hookup, 9 stations, 9 p. m.—Delibes opera "Lakmae."

WJZ, New York (454), 6:55 p. m.—Grantland Rice's All-American football selection, John B. Kennedy.

WHA, Madison, Wis. (535), 8 p. m.—Music and educational features.

CNRO, Ottawa (435), 8 p. m.—Footguards band.

KDKA, Pittsburgh (309), 7 p. m.—KDKA Little Symphony orchestra assisted by Howard Greene, composer-pianist.

Tuesday
WCCO (416)

9:30 a. m.—Program for the day.
9:35 a. m.—News bulletin.
9:45 a. m.—Weather and market reports.
10:30 a. m.—Market reports.
11:30 a. m.—Market reports.
12:00 m.—Farm hour—Dick Long's trio and farm flashes.
1:30 p. m.—Weather and market reports.
2:00 p. m.—Woman's hour—Women's Republican club, St. Paul—"Our Big Responsibilities"—Mrs. L. P. Wolff.
3:00 p. m.—Market reports.
4:00 p. m.—Readers' club.
5:15 p. m.—Children's hour.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
7:00 p. m. New York program.
7:00-7:30—Norse program—Scott Vikings.
7:30-8:00—Male quartet—Jolly Buckeye Bakers.
8:00-9:00—Musical and dramatic program—Eveready hour.
9:00-9:30—Auction bridge game.
9:30 p. m.—Musical Comedy—Garrott's Chocolate Soldiers.
10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets.
10:05 p. m.—"Outdoors in Minnesota"—Izaak Walton league.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1926 by United Press

WMAQ, Chicago (448), 8 p. m.—Women's Symphony orchestra.

WEAF Hookup, 14 stations, 7 p. m.—Greta Torpadio, soprano; Samuel L. Jungkvist, tenor.

WJZ, New York (454), and WGY, WRC, 9 p. m.—A day in Berlin.

WBZ, Springfield (333), 7:15 p. m.—Hockey game.

WSAI, Cincinnati (326), 6 p. m.—WSAI String quartet.

We Are Direct Factory Distributors On the

New and Improved FRESHMAN MASTERPIECE

No Wholesalers Profit
No Jobbers Profit
You Save 33⅓%

Quality Workmanship Performance

$69.50

The World's Greatest Radio Value

Hear the Freshman Radio Open Evenings

BRAINERD ELECTRIC CO.
306 S. 6th St., Tel. 179

Hear the New

Mohawk Radio Receiver

Single Dial Control

6 Tubes

$65.00

Pioneer Single Dial Radio Receiver

TAYLOR SALES SERVICE
708 Laurel Street
Phone 544-W for Day or Night Radio Service

You don't have to think another minute---give him a Bath Robe!

The gift that never fails to produce that happy Christmas grin.

For his nights away when he is paddling his canoe up a. m. for a look at the ice box—and the radio.

Fo rhis nights away when he is paddling his canoe up and down a drafty hotel room.

You don't have to shop for the most beautiful of Robes—we've done that for you—

From $6.00 to $18.50.
Belts Sweaters Gloves
Handkerchiefs Mufflers

New Christmas gifts—beautiful, practical and desirable. Shopping made easy here—no trouble to show goods. Come often, look over the large assortment of gifts, and buy when you feel like it.

John M. Bye Clothing Co.

when in a hurry

use a

Want Ad for Results

When time is short and there's lots to be done—that's when you'll appreciate the wonderful results of a Dispatch Want Ad.

Whatever is on your mind, try a Want Ad for relief.

THE DAILY DISPATCH
Telephone 74

GREAT LAST HALF RALLY IN CAGE GAME

RAINBOWS COME FROM BEHIND TO WIN GAME 25-22

SUPERIOR HELPLESS IN FACE OF TERRIFIC 2ND HALF ONSLAUGHT

ENGBRETSON LEADS HIS MATES WITH 14 POINTS IN LAST HALF ATTACK

Staging one of the greatest last half rallies seen on the local floor for a long time, the Rainbows emerged brilliant victors over the Superior five Saturday night, the score being 25 to 22. At the half the count was 16 to 8 in the visitor's favor. During the second half, the Rainbows scored 17 points to Superior's 6.

Engbretson was the chief gunner of the locals, netting 17 points for his team, 14 of which came in the second half when Brainerd was running wild. The opposition early learned that Engbretson was a man that would bear watching, so two men were detailed for that duty. The ex-high school star of two years ago lived up to his reputation, however, by eluding his guardians, and sunk six field goals in the game. Five of these were in the second half.

How well the Rainbows worked after the intermission is seen by a glance at the score book, showing that only two field goals were made against them in this half. One of these was a tip-up by their center Kernan, who touched the ball out of Beresford's hands for a basket. This Kernan, by the way, gave a fine exhibition of center play. He was shorter than his opponent, but a remarkable spring gave him control of the tip-off almost throughout the game. His floor playing was excellent.

The combination that seemed to work most effectively for the locals was composed of Engbretson and Ericsson at forwards, Beresford at center, and Orth and Welsh at guard. All men who played gave a fine showing, however, Nutting especially working with his mates in a fast display of teamwork, breaking up opposing plays well.

The game was an especially hard one to officiate, at times resembling football in the amount of bodily contact. Bus Lowe, refereeing, had his hands full in holding the game within the bounds of clean playing, but his work was pleasing to watch. His officiating was remarkably efficient.

The game exhibited a difference of basketball style. The visitors showed their style to be loose, as regards the rules, their playing tending more toward a playing of the man than the ball. Fourteen personal fouls were called on Superior, and a number more might have been called. One man, Sloem, guard, was put out on four personals, while Sorrenson and Pesork had three each.

Excitement in the last few minutes mounted high, as Brainerd kept forging to the front. They steadily closed the gap between the teams, with nine points to the visitors' four during the third quarter, making the count 20 to 17, and then counting 8 points in the last period to the visiting team's 2. The last play of the game was good to see. With the score 23 to 22 in the Rainbows' favor, and the visitors getting a number of close-in shots which seemed to loop in and then out of the basket, Engbretson and Welsh staged the prettiest play of the game. Welsh took the ball out of the hands of the visitors after a bank shot, and passed the length of the court to Engbretson, who sprinted past the back guard, who was playing up toward the center of the floor, and slipped the ball into the hoop, making the score 25, just as the whistle blew signalling the end of the game.

The Rainbows exhibited a fast, clean attack, and a stonewall defense, and fans who follow the team in their home games this year will be well repaid. The players on the squad are worthy representatives of independent basketball in Brainerd.

The line-ups:

Superior—Johnson, rf; Sorrenson, lf; Kernan, c; Solem, rg; Roome, lg.

Brainerd—Engbretson, rf; Nutting, lf; Beresford, c; Lawrenz, rg; Orth, lg.

Substitutes—F. Kernan for Johnson, Johnson for F. Kernan, Pesork for Sorrenson, Sorrenson for Pesork, Eddelstein for Solem; Larson for Nutting, Ericsson for Larson, Welsh for Lawrenz, Nutting for Ericsson, Ericsson for Nutting.

Referee—Lowe. Timekeeper—Fitzharris.

Scoring—Field goals: Johnson 1, Sorrenson 3, Kernan 2, Solem 1, Roome 2; Engbretson 6, Beresford 3. Free throws: Johnson, 0 in 2; Sorrenson, 1 in 1; Kernan, 2 in 4; Solem, 1 in 2; Engbretson, 5 in 9; Nutting, 0 in 3; Ericsson, 0 in 1; Beresford, 1 in 4; Lawrenz, 0 in 1; Orth, 1 in 1.

Personal fouls—Johnson 1, Sorrenson 3, Pesork 3, Kernan 1, Solem 4, Rome 2, Nutting 1, Larson 2, Beresford 1, Welsh 1, Orth 3.

Flying Aces 21, All-Stars 8

In the preliminary game, the Flying Aces won their second game in two nights when they downed the All-Stars 21 to 8. The night previous, the Flying Aces traveled to Backus, playing the city team there and winning by a top-heavy score.

For the Flying Aces, Heikkinen, Laitala and Kukko did the best offensive work, with Gabiou playing a fine guarding game. Avery worked best for the All-Stars, but that team did not get going as well as they should. Whitlock refereed the game.

The line-ups:

All-Stars—LaCourse, rf; Avery, lf; Boyd, c; Gruenhagen, rg; Tribur, lg.

Flying Aces—Heikkinen, rf; Laitala, lf; Swanson, c; Gabious, rg; Fitzharris, lg.

Substitutes—Rofidal for LaCourse, Kukko for Heikkinen.

Field goals—Heikkinen 4, Laitala 2, Kukko 2, Swanson 1, Avery 2, Gruenhagen 1. Free throws—Heikkinen 1, Kukko 2, Avery 1, Boyd 1.

SPORT TABLOIDS

Vincent Richards Honored

New York—In spite of his turning professional Vincent Richards has been given the head of the ranking of the Metropolitan Lawn Tennis association for 1926.

Dickerson Resigns as President of Michigan Baseball League

Grand Haven, Mich.—Resignation as president of the Michigan Baseball League has been announced by Emerson W. Dickerson, local sports writer, who said there was some question as to whether the league could start next season.

Kansas City 7, Los Angeles 3

Kansas City, Mo.—The Los Angeles National league professional football team was turned back by Kansas City 7 to 3.

Wilson Wildcats 5, Chicago Bulls 0

Chicago—The Wilson Wildcats defeated Chicago's Bulls 5 to 0 in an American league professional football game here Sunday.

Sparta Soccer Team 7, Canadians 1

Chicago—The Sparta soccer team of Chicago took a 7 to 1 victory from the Canadian club team in a Midwest league game yesterday.

St. Paul 2, Chicago Cardinals 0

Chicago—St. Paul defeated the Chicago Cardinals 2 to 0 in an American league hockey match last night.

Six Day Bike Race Starts at New York

New York—The 41st international six day bike race started last night with the issuing of summonses on those connected with the affairs for alleged violation of the Sunday laws.

Ohio's "Knifing Guard"

Edwin A. Hess (shown in the photograph) of the powerful Ohio State team claims more than the distinction of being one of the best guards in conference grid circles. His fondness for cutting through his opponent's lines has caused him to be named the "Knifing Guard." Last fall he was chosen on some of the mythical All-American elevens.

The Obvious

"Doc," growled the man who had been put on a diet, "why do you always order a fellow to cut out the things he likes?"

"Because," snapped the doctor, "he never eats or drinks the things he doesn't like, so it stands to reason it must be the things he does like that are disagreeing with him."

Tribulations of Childhood

"How old is that boy?" the conductor asked.

"Four," said the father.

"Four? Huh, he looks eight," replied the conductor.

"Well," came back the fond parent, "can I help it if he worries?"

READ THE WANT ADS DAILY

NOTRE DAME'S SLIM VICTORY

ROCKNE MAN KICKS GOAL AFTER TOUCHDOWN

ONE OF U. S. C. PLAYERS COULD NOT KICK THE SAME KIND OF A GOAL

COACHES START ARGUMENT THAT RESEMBLES MICHIGAN-MINNESOTA GAME

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 6.—Notre Dame's slim victory over Southern California in the first big intersectional game of the season spots the New Year's day game in Pasadena between Alabama and Stanford is one that will give the victor the best claim to the mythical national championship.

Of all the great teams of the season, Navy, Army, Notre Dame, Michigan, Northwestern, Ohio State, Brown, Southern Methodist, Oregon Aggies—it would seem that the two best undefeated teams of the year are Stanford and Alabama.

If the big post season game on the coast results in a definite and convincing victory, the winner will have to be accepted as the national champion even if a good argument might be advanced from Annapolis that the Navy could beat either one.

Stanford and Alabama looked to be evenly matched, although Stanford on account of Pop Warner, will start as the favorite.

Notre Dame and Southern California seemed even in their game Saturday. Notre Dame won because one of Knute Rockne's four thousand horsemen kicked a goal for a point after touchdown and because one of the U. S. C. players could not kick the same goal for the points that would have tied or won the game.

And that arms the coaches with arguments for the next meeting of the football rules committee that the advantage given to an individual in the chance to kick point that will win a game against football's principle of team play.

Ohio State failed to tie for western conference championship because an Ohio back failed to kick for the point after touch down that would have defeated Michigan.

But Ohio State beat Illinois by the same margin, because an Illinois kicker could not add the point after touchdown.

TOM HICKEY AGAIN HEADS AMERICAN ASSN.

Asheville, N. C., Dec. 6.—(UP)—Tom Hickey today was reelected president of the American association for a period of three years and his salary was increased from $8,000 to $10,000 per year.

Although he had another year to serve, the league directors voted to give him a three year term and an increase in salary effective immediately.

WESTERN FOOTBALL STARS PREDOMINATE

New York, Dec. 6.—(UP)—Western football stars predominate on the 1926 all-American team picked by Grantland Rice, New York expert, which appears in Collier's Weekly today.

The team, which Rice explained, was picked with the help of a number of prominent coaches, is as follows:

Hanfon, Syracuse, left end.
Wickhorst, Navy, left tackle.
Boeringer, Notre Dame, center.
Shively, Illinois, right guard.
Smith, Brown, right tackle.
Oosterbaan, Michigan right end.
Friedman, Michigan, quarterback.
Baker, Northwestern, left halfback.
Kaer, Southern California, right halfback.
Joesting, Minnesota, fullback.

Michigan is the only team to place two players and Friedman and Oosterbaan are the only players who were on he team last year.

Tilden Plays Indoor Tennis

Philadelphia — William T. Tilden took part in four tennis matches on the indoor courts of the Penn A. C. club yesterday and, in two doubles and two singles, disposed of his opponents in straight sets.

ANNUAL DOG DERBY TO BE HELD FEB. 12

BOYS ARE REQUESTED TO START TRAINING DOGS FOR BIG EVENT

DERBY SPONSORED BY AMERICAN LEGION; SPECIAL PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Brainerd's amateur dog derby to be contested by boys and their dog teams will take place in the city on February 12, 1927 it is announced today by Basil T. Heath, chairman of the committee of the American Legion who are sponsoring the derby.

While the derby does not take place until two months, the boys are urged at this time to get their dogs in training for the big event.

The derby last year was held very successfully.

Special prizes will be given for the winners. The derby will likely be held on South Broadway.

RADIO PROGRAMS

Today
WCCO (416)

5:15 p. m.—Children's hour.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert—Dick Long's St. Paul hotel orchestra; Harriet Casady, soprano; Corinne Jordan, accompanist.
7:30 p. m.—Farm lecture.
7:45 p. m.—Musical program—Reginald Price, baritone; Eckert's studio male quartet.
8:00 p. m.—University of Minnesota program.
9:00 p. m.—Orchestral program—Pence Motor Co., Walter Mallory, tenor.
10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets.
10:10 p. m.—Dance program—Dick Long's St. Paul hotel orchestra; Sidney Williams, pianist; Corinne Jordan, contralto.
11:30 p. m.—Organ recital—Arthur Hays.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1926 by United Press

WEAF Hookup, 9 stations, 9 p. m.—Delibes opera "Lakmae."

WJZ, New York (454), 6:55 p. m.—Grantland Rice's All-American football selection, John B. Kennedy.

WHA, Madison, Wis. (535), 8 p. m.—Music and educational features.

CNRO, Ottawa (435), 8 p. m.—Footguards band.

KDKA, Pittsburgh (309), 7 p. m.—KDKA Little Symphony orchestra assisted by Howard Greene, composer-pianist.

Tuesday
WCCO (416)

9:30 a. m.—Program for the day.
9:35 a. m.—News bulletin.
9:45 a. m.—Weather and market reports.
10:30 a. m.—Market reports.
11:30 a. m.—Market reports.
12:00 m.—Farm hour—Dick Long's trio and farm flashes.
1:30 p. m.—Weather and market reports.
2:00 p. m.—Woman's hour—Women's Republican club, St. Paul—"Our Big Responsibilities"—Mrs. L. P. Wolff.
3:00 p. m.—Market reports.
4:00 p. m.—Readers' club.
5:15 p. m.—Children's hour.
5:45 p. m.—Livestock market summary.
7:00 p. m. New York program.
7:00-7:30—Norse program—Scott Vikings.
7:30-8:00—Male quartet—Jolly Buckeye Bakers.
8:00-9:00—Musical and dramatic program—Eveready hour.
9:00-9:30—Auction bridge game.
9:30 p. m.—Musical Comedy—Garrott's Chocolate Soldiers.
10:00 p. m.—Weather report and closing grain markets.
10:05 p. m.—"Outdoors in Minnesota"—Izaak Walton league.

Five Best Features
Copyright 1926 by United Press

WMAQ, Chicago (448), 8 p. m.—Women's Symphony orchestra.

WEAF Hookup, 14 stations, 7 p. m.—Greta Torpadio, soprano; Samuel L. Jungkvist, tenor.

WJZ, New York (454), and WGY, WRC, 9 p. m.—A day in Berlin.

WBZ, Springfield (333), 7:15 p. m.—Hockey game.

WSAI, Cincinnati (326), 6 p. m.—WSAI String quartet.

We Are Direct Factory Distributors On the

New and Improved FRESHMAN MASTERPIECE

No Wholesalers Profit
No Jobbers Profit
You Save 33⅓%

Quality Workmanship Performance

$69.50

The World's Greatest Radio Value

Hear the Freshman Radio Open Evenings

BRAINERD ELECTRIC CO.
306 S. 6th St., Tel. 179

Hear the New

Mohawk Radio Receiver

Single Dial Control

6 Tubes

$65.00

Pioneer Single Dial Radio Receiver

TAYLOR SALES SERVICE
708 Laurel Street
Phone 544-W for Day or Night Radio Service

You don't have to think another minute---give him a Bath Robe!

The gift that never fails to produce that happy Christmas grin.

For his nights away when he is paddling his canoe up a. m. for a look at the ice box—and the radio.

Fo rhis nights away when he is paddling his canoe up and down a drafty hotel room.

You don't have to shop for the most beautiful of Robes—we've done that for you—

From $6.00 to $18.50.

Belts Sweaters Gloves
Handkerchiefs Mufflers

New Christmas gifts—beautiful, practical and desirable. Shopping made easy here—no trouble to show goods. Come often, look over the large assortment of gifts, and buy when you feel like it.

John M. Bye Clothing Co.

when in a hurry use a

Want Ad for Results

When time is short and there's lots to be done—that's when you'll appreciate the wonderful results of a Dispatch Want Ad.

Whatever is on your mind, try a Want Ad for relief.

THE DAILY DISPATCH
Telephone 74

ELKS' LODGE HONORS DECEASED BROTHERS

Impressive Ceremonies Held Yesterday Afternoon at Memorial Services

EULOGIES FOR SIX MEMBERS

Hon. F. F. Ellsworth Gave Touching Memorial Oration

Impressive ceremonies were carried out yesterday afternoon at the Park theatre for the memorial services taken part by the Brainerd Lodge No. 615, Elks, when eulogies were expressed for six members of the lodge who had died during 1926.

Great moral forces operating through kindly, simple, and charitable experiences were brought out by the speakers for the deceased members.

The death harvest for 1926 follows:

R. E. Stephenson, died Feb. 8, eulogy by John A. Hoffbauer, substituting for Edward Anderson, who was unable to appear.

B. H. O'Brien, died March 20, eulogy by J. J. Nolan.

J. E. Provost, died July 16, eulogy by D. B. McAlpine.

F. M. Koop, died July 17, eulogy by John A. Hoffbauer.

T. R. Foley, died Sept. 12, eulogy by Walter F. Wieland.

A. L. Hoffman, died Oct. 3, eulogy by Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Other numbers on the program follow:

Processional—Organ.

Opening ceremonies—By the lodge.

Opening ode—Air, "Auld Lang Syne."

Prayer—Chaplain Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Vocal solo—Mrs. Mal D. Clark.

Memorial address—Hon F. F. Ellsworth, Minneapolis.

Vocal solo—A. C. Mraz.

Closing ceremonies—By the lodge.

Closing ode—Air, "Home, Sweet Home."

Benediction—Chaplain Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Recessional—Organ.

Hon. Franklin F. Ellsworth's memorial address follows, in part:

"Man can not contemplate the flowers and trees, the hills and valleys, the sun and stars without awakening in his breast the fervid hope of the life beyond.

"We are not philosophers; the mazes of theology and the processes of theosophy are to us a mystery; but we can discern beyond the twilight zone which separates the existence here from that beyond the spirit of the teachings of the Nazarene.

"We feel an intuitive sense of mighty power, of exalted ideals, of an inexplicable grandeur in nature, and we soliloquize.

"Ah, we think, surely if the Power above breathes into the rosebuds the bloom which fills the winds of the valley with richest fragrance, it is more than chance that the assembled thoughts and hopes and aspirations of men should furnish the hidden motive power that drives the turbine and builds a city.

"If nature's alchemy, in the first biting frosts of late summer will change the mountain forest into a variegated screen for the curious and reflective to ponder o'er, surely the triumph of this same master hands is the marvelous blend of the babel of the human race.

"And when the autumn is come and the sear and yellow leaves of the mountain wood glide through the chill November air to light upon the polished steel railroad rails at the mountain's foot to be crushed to bare and sapless skeletons, if the oak and the poplar and the pine will live to reproduce their wonder panorama for generations yet unborn, will the Divine Father leave neglected the souls of men when in their autumn time they shake off the barren hulks that form the biding places for their short sojourns here?

"And when the blasts of winter come, if the Father of Fathers in His all-wise and omnipotent power will cuddle the willow and the rosebush and the palm in nature's protecting robe, and holds forth the prospect of returning summers, will He withhold the promise of the life beyond to the still soul waiting in the grave?

"Ah, no! Let us rather believe that the beneficent Creator who fixes the seasons and the stars, who dispenses the rainfall and the dew, who scatters the pollen to perpetuate the green verdure of mother earth will find some sweet haven of rest for the tired soul whose earthly span has been devoted to the guardianship of the Master's creation.

"Death but marks the terminal of earth's journey and is the transition state to prepare the neophite for initiation into the etherial splendor of the never-ending day. The finite mind can not comprehend its metaphysical state or encompass its boundless sphere.

"Earth's milestones are but weak and linkless chains with which the mortal mind is impotent to reach through the cavern of eternity's fugitive goal. Our day's fleeting sunshine and night's dazzling incandescence are but the glow and flickering of uncertain beacons on the way to the perpetual radiance of the ...lace in the skies. Earth's broken ...s and shrill flageolets can only form the listening ear to drink the perfect harmony of the celestial choir.

"We reach for salvation; it moves away. We grope for understanding; the mind fails. We build by the rule and guide of the prophets and philosophers, and when we would crown the superstructure it crumbles and is gone.

"Men whose dominant life's note is accomplishment of salvation for their own souls are but self-serving ambassadors, who treat in a language unspoken by the Creator; but he who holds self as an infinitesimal being save as he may commingle his impulses and aspirations with the universal scheme must become an indispensable part of the general plan.

VAUDEVILLE AT PARK THEATRE

Only Two More Showings Before the Park Theatre Closes for Season

CLOSES ON DECEMBER 14

Virginia Carlott and Boys Will Headline Bill Tomorrow Night

Two more vaudeville performance nights at the Park theatre will be given before the theatre is closed for the season, announcement has been made by W. R. Hiller, manager of local F. and R. theatres.

The dates are Tuesday, Dec. 7, and Friday, Dec. 14.

The picture policy of week end features has been discontinued until the holiday season at the Park theatre. As a result of this, the Lyceum theatre last evening was packed to the doors.

Heading the list of all star acts at the Park theatre tomorrow evening come Virginia Carlott and boys in a revue of "Bits of Song and Dance Hits," an offering that is bright and snappy and a breezy bit of Greenwich Village life, colorfully staged.

"Nelson's Catland," is a unique offering presented by a dozen feline performers who display remarkable intelligence and provoke abundant laughter with their clever comedy, finishing with a bout between the champion cat boxers of the world.

Conn and Albert, a boy and girl, present a novelty song and dance melange entitled "On their way to school," which hits a popular vein with a heart interest which brings back happy childhood.

"The Town Clown," featuring John Orren, vaudeville's foremost mimic and assisted by Lillian Drew, an accomplished musician is a unique comedy classic bound to please those who appreciate real ability.

Vera and Eileen, those "Two girls from old Kentucky," have a versatile offering of songs, dances, whistling and music, together with the latest sensation, the "black bottom," danced in the real fashion as it is in the Black Bottoms, of Mississippi.

The picture will be Jacqueline Logan in "Out of the Storm."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to friends and neighbors and especially to D. E. Whitney for the kindness shown during the sickness and death of our husband and father.

MRS. JOHN YLINEN,
and children.

1tp

Clothes Expenditure

According to an inquiry made by the United States Department of Labor, the average American housewife has a total yearly expenditure for clothes of $63.55. The annual total for the average husband is $71.38.

Same Price
FOR OVER 35 YEARS
25 ounces for 25¢
KC
BAKING POWDER
Guaranteed Pure
Use KC for finer texture and larger volume in your bakings
Millions of pounds used by our Government

TEMPERATURE SET LOW MINIMUM

Mercury Dropped to Low Point of Season, 19 Degrees Below Zero

ROADS ARE PASSABLE

Sun Brings Rise in Thermometer to Three Degrees Below Zero This A. M.

The low temperature of the season to date was reached last night when the thermometor registered as the minimum 19 degrees below zero.

Rising temperature with the appearance of the sun was noted this morning, the temperature rising to three degrees below zero at 8 o'clock this morning.

Four inches of snowfall was recorded over the week end.

All state highways in the district were open for traffic, was the statement given out this morning from the district office of the State Highway Department. However, this was made possible by the use of snow plows on Highway 27 where the snow had drifted and on Highways 19 and No. 2 where the snow plows are being put to good use today.

Cold weather is reported all over the northwest. The weather has particularly handicapped Lake Superior where press dispatches report that a large number of vessels are marooned in the ice and there is worry felt that they may have to remain imprisoned over the winter.

Cold weather appears to be a boon for Brainerd garages for the majority report they are overloaded with work and in many cases unable to take care of all their business.

E. G. HALL, HERE

President of State Federation of Labor to Address Meeting

E. G. Hall, president of the State Federation of Labor, will address a meeting of Trades and Labor councils in the Webb block, Front street, on Tuesday evening, December 7.

MASQUERADE BALL

Annual Affair Given by Brotherhood of American Yeomen on December 15

...hood of the American ...men will give their annual masquerade ball on December 15 at Elks hall. The annual balls have always been very popular judging from past attendances and the Yeomen have given them at this time of the season for a number of years.

The committee has procured the best of music obtainable and assure the public that this ball will even supersede the previous ones. A very large attendance is expected and the committee have perfected a system wherein they will be more able to handle the large crowds than they have in the past.

WHY should I burn Lampert's Peerless Coal?

Here are the six good reasons why you and every buyer of coal should burn it:

1. Because it contains less ash.
2. Because it is free from Rock, Slate or Bone Coal—it's clean.
3. Because it will not clinker.
4. Because it is a firm, hard coal.
5. Because it burns without objectionable smoke and soot.
6. Because we guarantee it.

Once more we invite you to check our statements in your own heating plant by trying a ton of Lampert's Peerless.

Sold exclusively by

LAMPERT BROS. LUMBER CO.

Phone 84 J. A. KRAUS, Mgr.

NORTHWEST HEALTH SERVICE SOCIETY

Will Meet Tomorrow Afternoon for Regular Meeting in the City Hall

LADIES TO AID IN SEWING

Clothing to be Mended and Distributed to the Poor of the City

The Northwest eHalth Service society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the city hall. Ladies should come prepared to sew as the society has clothing to be mended which has been collected by the city nurse, Miss Eula Michael and school children. After the clothing, which has been fumigated and aired, has been mended, Miss Michael will distribute it to the poor of the city. All members and anyone who has a few hours to spend in helping this most worthy cause are invited to come and bring a plate and cup as there will be lunch served at the close of the afternoon's work.

The society was organized to furnish a free bed fund for the Northwestern hospital in 1921. This was accomplished and the members, not content that the work should end with the fund, branched out in other methods of helping the needy. Although the hospital is closed, Brainerd is fortunate in still having this association of workers who claim to take great pleasure in their work.

Mrs. W. C. Rasch was president for 2½ years and Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus has been president for the past two years. Much credit is due them for their splendid leadership and untiring efforts.

TWIN LAKES FARMERS CLUB

Held Noon Day Meeting Today at O. M. Olson Residence, Pequot

The Twin Lakes Farmers club held a luncheon and meeting today at the O. M. Olson residence at Pequot.

FORMER COACH ARRESTED

Fred L. Sanborn Held Here for Authorities of Hennepin County

Fred L. Sanborn, former track coach and assistant athletic director at St. Thomas, was held by county sheriff forces today on request of the sheriff's department of Hennepin county, where Sanborn is charged with checking on a bank, no funds.

Sanborn will be taken this afternoon by authorities from Hennepin county to Minneapolis where he will face charges.

Hand Bags Make Beautiful Gifts
You Will Find Many Here to Choose From

Leather Bags
Beaded Bags

Pouch Shapes
Purse Shapes

A new hand bag for Christmas would delight the heart of many a woman, and we feel sure that you will find a variety here which will make a selection an easy matter.

Genuine hand tooled leather bags with hand laced edges, making one of the best looking and most durable of all hand bags. Made up in styles which are very attractive and stylish, some in pouch shapes, others in underarm styles, each one a beautiful bag. Priced from $5.00 to $10.00 and $15.00.

Splendid values in bags which are in new and popular shapes, made in a manner which assures one of service and satisfaction. Several colors and many styles to choose from. Priced from $1.00 to $2.00 and up to $4.50.

E. F. GATES
The Store With the Christmas Spirit

Charter Number 116

Although the southern part of Minnesota developed before the northern part, only 115 State Banks had been chartered in the entire state before this bank was chartered in Brainerd.

The Citizens State Bank was therefore a real pioneer in the north—and its sturdiness is shown by the fact that today, 37 years later, it is the largest as well as the oldest State Bank in its territory.

CITIZENS STATE BANK
OF BRAINERD
Oldest and Largest State Bank in Crow Wing Co.
1889 - - - - - - - - 1926

The HOOVER
It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

How do you reach the out-of-the-way places in your home, where dust collects? It's easy when you own a Hoover and its remarkably efficient and convenient home-cleaning attachments.

A Hoover complete only $6.25 down

BRAINERD ELECTRIC CO.
Telephone 179 BEN DUNHAM, Prop. 306 S. 6th St.

Would You Have Your Own Car Re-Finished with anything but
"DUCO"
The Enduring Pyroxolin Enamel
It is indeed a pleasure to recommend a finish which we know will completely satisfy you.
Brainerd Auto Enameling Shop
"Near the Water Tower"

These Improvements are Important

There are two general classes of motor car improvements. Those made primarily for their effect on the public—and those made primarily for their effect upon the car.

You will perceive at once that Dodge Brothers new five-bearing crankshaft, two-unit starting and lighting system, air cleaner and other recent improvements, are the sort that represent genuine value.

They are sound and substantial betterments, producing definite and marked results, and as such they are typical of Dodge Brothers methods and product.

ROSKO BROS.
Ninth and Laurel Sts.

We Also Sell Dependable Used Cars

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

On January 3, 1927
We Start Our
Mid-Winter Classes
Time to Think About Enrolling
BRAINERD COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

NOT ORIGINAL

We do not claim credit for originating the slogan "Dodge Brothers Dealers Sell Good Used Cars." But we do claim to be doing our part to impress the world with its truthfulness.

ROSKO BROTHERS
Ninth and Laurel

A USED CAR IS ONLY AS DEPENDABLE AS THE DEALER WHO SELLS IT

ELKS' LODGE HONORS DECEASED BROTHERS

Impressive Ceremonies Held Yesterday Afternoon at Memorial Services

EULOGIES FOR SIX MEMBERS

Hon. F. F. Ellsworth Gave Touching Memorial Oration

Impressive ceremonies were carried out yesterday afternoon at the Park theatre for the memorial services taken part by the Brainerd Lodge No. 615, Elks, when eulogies were expressed for six members of the lodge who had died during 1926.

Great moral forces operating through kindly, simple, and charitable experiences were brought out by the speakers for the deceased members.

The death harvest for 1926 follows:

R. E. Stephenson, died Feb. 8, eulogy by John A. Hoffbauer, substituting for Edward Anderson, who was unable to appear.

B. H. O'Brien, died March 20, eulogy by J. J. Nolan.

J. E. Provost, died July 16, eulogy by D. B. McAlpine.

F. M. Koop, died July 17, eulogy by John A. Hoffbauer.

T. R. Foley, died Sept. 12, eulogy by Walter F. Wieland.

A. L. Hoffman, died Oct. 3, eulogy by Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Other numbers on the program follow:

Processional—Organ.

Opening ceremonies—By the lodge.

Opening ode—Air, "Auld Lang Syne."

Prayer—Chaplain Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Vocal solo—Mrs. Mal D. Clark.

Memorial address—Hon F. F. Ellsworth, Minneapolis.

Vocal solo—A. C. Mraz.

Closing ceremonies—By the lodge.

Closing ode—Air, "Home, Sweet Home."

Benediction—Chaplain Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Recessional—Organ.

Hon. Franklin F. Ellsworth's memorial address follows, in part:

"Man can not contemplate the flowers and trees, the hills and valleys, the sun and stars without awakening in his breast the fervid hope of the life beyond.

"We are not philosophers; the mazes of theology and the processes of theosophy are to us a mystery; but we can discern beyond the twilight zone which separates the existence here from that beyond the spirit of the teachings of the Nazarene.

"We feel an intuitive sense of mighty power, of exalted ideals, of an inexplicable grandeur in nature, and we soliloquize.

"Ah, we think, surely if the Power above breathes into the rosebuds the bloom which fills the winds of the valley with richest fragrance, it is more than chance that the assembled thoughts and hopes and aspirations of men should furnish the hidden motive power that drives the turbine and builds a city.

"If nature's alchemy, in the first biting frosts of late summer will change the mountain forest into a variegated screen for the curious and reflective to ponder o'er, surely the triumph of this same master hands is the marvelous blend of the babel of the human race.

"And when the autumn is come and the sear and yellow leaves of the mountain wood glide through the chill November air to light upon the polished steel railroad rails at the mountain's foot to be crushed to bare and sapless skeletons, if the oak and the poplar and the pine will live to reproduce their wonder panorama for generations yet unborn, will the Divine Father leave neglected the souls of men when in their autumn time they shake off the barren hulks that form the biding places for their short sojourns here?

"And when the blasts of winter come, if the Father of Fathers in His all-wise and omnipotent power will cuddle the willow and the rosebush and the palm in nature's protecting robe, and holds forth the prospect of returning summers, will He withhold the promise of the life beyond to the still soul waiting in the grave?

"Ah, no! Let us rather believe that the beneficent Creator who fixes the seasons and the stars, who dispenses the rainfall and the dew, who scatters the pollen to perpetuate the green verdure of mother earth will find some sweet haven of rest for the tired soul whose earthly span has been devoted to the guardianship of the Master's creation.

"Death but marks the terminal of earth's journey and is the transition state to prepare the neophite for initiation into the etherial splendor of the never-ending day. The finite mind can not comprehend its metaphysical state or encompass its boundless sphere.

"Earth's milestones are but weak and linkless chains with which the mortal mind is impotent to reach through the cavern of eternity's fugitive goal. Our day's fleeting sunshine and night's dazzling incandescence are but the glow and flickering of uncertain beacons on the way to the perpetual radiance of the ...ace in the skies. Earth's broken ...s and shrill flageolets can only form the listening ear to drink the perfect harmony of the celestial choir.

"We reach for salvation; it moves away. We grope for understanding; the mind fails. We build by the rule and guide of the prophets and philosophers, and when we would crown the superstructure it crumbles and is gone.

"Men whose dominant life's note is accomplishment of salvation for their own souls are but self-serving ambassadors, who treat in a language unspoken by the Creator; but he who holds self as an infinitesimal being save as he may commingle his impulses and aspirations with the universal scheme must become an indispensable part of the general plan.

VAUDEVILLE AT PARK THEATRE

Only Two More Showings Before the Park Theatre Closes for Season

CLOSES ON DECEMBER 14

Virginia Carlott and Boys Will Headline Bill Tomorrow Night

Two more vaudeville performance nights at the Park theatre will be given before the theatre is closed for the season, announcement has been made by W. R. Hiller, manager of local F. and R. theatres.

The dates are Tuesday, Dec. 7, and Tuesday, Dec. 14.

The picture policy of week end features has been discontinuel until the holiday season at the Park theatre. As a result of this, the Lyceum theatre last evening was packed to the doors.

Heading the list of all star acts at the Park theatre tomorrow evening come Virginia Carlott and boys in a revue of "Bits of Song and Dance Hits," an offering that is bright and snappy and a breezy bit of Greenwich Village life, colorfully staged.

"Nelson's Catland," is a unique offering presented by a dozen feline performers who display remarkable intelligence and provoke abundant laughter with their clever comedy, finishing with a bout between the champion cat boxers of the world.

Conn and Albert, a boy and girl, present a novelty song and dance melange entitled "On their way to school," which hits a popular vein with a heart interest which brings back happy childhood.

"The Town Clown," featuring John Orren, vaudeville's foremost mimic and assisted by Lillian Drew, an accomplished musician is a unique comedy classic bound to please those who appreciate real ability.

Vera and Eileen, those "Two girls from old Kentucky," have a versatile offering of songs, dances, whistling and music, together with the latest sensation, the "black bottom," danced in the real fashion as it is in the Black Bottoms, of Mississippi.

The picture will be Jacqueline Logan in "Out of the Storm."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to friends and neighbors and especially to D. E. Whitney for the kindness shown during the sickness and death of our husband and father.

MRS. JOHN YLINEN,
and children.

1tp

Clothes Expenditure

According to an inquiry made by the United States Department of Labor, the average American housewife has a total yearly expenditure for clothes of $63.55. The annual total for the average husband is $71.38.

Same Price
FOR OVER 35 YEARS
25 ounces for 25¢
KC
BAKING POWDER
Guaranteed Pure
Use KC for finer texture and larger volume in your bakings
Millions of pounds used by our Government

TEMPERATURE SET LOW MINIMUM

Mercury Dropped to Low Point of Season, 19 Degrees Below Zero

ROADS ARE PASSABLE

Sun Brings Rise in Thermometer to Three Degrees Below Zero This A. M.

The low temperature of the season to date was reached last night when the thermometor registered as the minimum 19 degrees below zero.

Rising temperature with the appearance of the sun was noted this morning, the temperature rising to three degrees below zero at 8 o'clock this morning.

Four inches of snowfall was recorded over the week end.

All state highways in the district were open for traffic, was the statement given out this morning from the district office of the State Highway Department. However, this was made possible by the use of snow plows on Highway 27 where the snow had drifted and on Highways 19 and No.2 where the snow plows are being put to good use today.

Cold weather is reported all over the northwest. The weather has particularly handicapped Lake Superior where press dispatches report that a large number of vessels are marooned in the ice and there is worry felt that they may have to remain imprisoned over the winter.

Cold weather appears to be a boon for Brainerd garages for the majority report they are overloaded with work and in many cases unable to take care of all their business.

E. G. HALL, HERE

President of State Federation of Labor to Address Meeting

E. G. Hall, president of the State Federation of Labor, will address a meeting of Trades and Labor councils in the Webb block, Front street, on Tuesday evening, December 7.

MASQUERADE BALL

Annual Affair Given by Brotherhood of American Yeomen on December 15

...od of the American Yeomen ... give their annual masquerade ball on December 15 at Elks hall. The annual balls have always been very popular judging from past attendances and the Yeomen have given them at this time of the season for a number of years.

The committee has procured the best of music obtainable and assure the public that this ball will even supersede the previous ones. A very large attendance is expected and the committee have perfected a system wherein they will be more able to handle the large crowds than they have in the past.

WHY should I burn
Lampert's Peerless Coal?

Here are the six good reasons why you and every buyer of coal should burn it:

1. Because it contains less ash.
2. Because it is free from Rock, Slate or Bone Coal—it's clean.
3. Because it will not clinker.
4. Because it is a firm, hard coal.
5. Because it burns without objectionable smoke and soot.
6. Because we guarantee it.

Once more we invite you to check our statements in your own heating plant by trying a ton of Lampert's Peerless.

Sold exclusively by
LAMPERT BROS. LUMBER CO.
Phone 84 J. A. KRAUS, Mgr.

NORTHWEST HEALTH SERVICE SOCIETY

Will Meet Tomorrow Afternoon for Regular Meeting in the City Hall

LADIES TO AID IN SEWING

Clothing to be Mended and Distributed to the Poor of the City

The Northwest eHalth Service society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the city hall. Ladies should come prepared to sew as the society has clothing to be mended which has been collected by the city nurse, Miss Eula Michael and school children. After the clothing, which has been fumigated and aired, has been mended, Miss Michael will distribute it to the poor of the city. All members and anyone who has a few hours to spend in helping this most worthy cause are invited to come and bring a plate and cup as there will be lunch served at the close of the afternoon's work.

The society was organized to furnish a free bed fund for the Northwestern hospital in 1921. This was accomplished and the members, not content that the work should end with the fund, branched out in other methods of helping the needy. Although the hospital is closed, Brainerd is fortunate in still having this association of workers who claim to take great pleasure in their work.

Mrs. W. C. Rasch was president for 2½ years and Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus has been president for the past two years. Much credit is due them for their splendid leadership and untiring efforts.

TWIN LAKES FARMERS CLUB

Held Noon Day Meeting Today at O. M. Olson Residence, Pequot

The Twin Lakes Farmers club held a luncheon and meeting today at the O. M. Olson residence at Pequot.

FORMER COACH ARRESTED

Fred L. Sanborn Held Here for Authorities of Hennepin County

Fred L. Sanborn, former track coach and assistant athletic director at St. Thomas, was held by county sheriff forces today on request of the sheriff's department of Hennepin county, where Sanborn is charged with checking on a bank, no funds.

Sanborn will be taken this afternoon by authorities from Hennepin county to Minneapolis where he will face charges.

Hand Bags Make Beautiful Gifts
You Will Find Many Here to Choose From

Leather Bags
Beaded Bags

Pouch Shapes
Purse Shapes

A new hand bag for Christmas would delight the heart of many a woman, and we feel sure that you will find a variety here which will make a selection an easy matter.

Genuine hand tooled leather bags with hand laced edges, making one of the best looking and most durable of all hand bags. Made up in styles which are very attractive and stylish, some in pouch shapes, others in underarm styles, each one a beautiful bag. Priced from $5.00 to $10.00 and $15.00.

Splendid values in bags which are in new and popular shapes, made in a manner which assures one of service and satisfaction. Several colors and many styles to choose from. Priced from $1.00 to $2.00 and up to $4.50.

E. F. GATES
The Store With the Christmas Spirit

Charter Number 116

Although the southern part of Minnesota developed before the northern part, only 115 State Banks had been chartered in the entire state before this bank was chartered in Brainerd.

The Citizens State Bank was therefore a real pioneer in the north—and its sturdiness is shown by the fact that today, 37 years later, it is the largest as well as the oldest State Bank in its territory.

CITIZENS STATE BANK
OF BRAINERD
Oldest and Largest State Bank in Crow Wing Co.
1889 - - - - - - - - 1926

The HOOVER
It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

How do you reach the out-of-the-way places in your home, where dust collects? It's easy when you own a Hoover and its remarkably efficient and convenient home-cleaning attachments.

A Hoover complete only $6.25 down

BRAINERD ELECTRIC CO.
Telephone 179 BEN DUNHAM, Prop. 306 S. 6th St.

Would You Have Your Own Car Re-Finished
with anything but
"DUCO"
The Enduring Pyroxolin Enamel
It is indeed a pleasure to recommend a finish which we know will completely satisfy you.
Brainerd Auto Enameling Shop
"Near the Water Tower"

These Improvements are Important

There are two general classes of motor car improvements. Those made primarily for their effect on the public—and those made primarily for their effect upon the car.

You will perceive at once that Dodge Brothers new five-bearing crankshaft, two-unit starting and lighting system, air cleaner and other recent improvements, are the sort that represent genuine value.

They are sound and substantial betterments, producing definite and marked results, and as such they are typical of Dodge Brothers methods and product.

ROSKO BROS.
Ninth and Laurel Sts.

We Also Sell Dependable Used Cars

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CARS

On January 3, 1927
We Start Our
Mid-Winter Classes
Time to Think About Enrolling
BRAINERD COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

NOT ORIGINAL

We do not claim credit for originating the slogan "Dodge Brothers Dealers Sell Good Used Cars." But we do claim to be doing our part to impress the world with its truthfulness.

ROSKO BROTHERS
Ninth and Laurel

A USED CAR IS ONLY AS DEPENDABLE AS THE DEALER WHO SELLS IT

EDITORS GATHER IN GRAND RAPIDS

NORTHERN MINNESOTA ASS'N TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING JANUARY 20-22

Bemidji, Minn., Dec. 6.—"Devils" will serve luncheon and lefthanded monkey wrenches will have their day with type lice when the Northern Minnesota Editorial association conducts its annual business meeting at Grand Rapids, January 20 to 22.

Prelimnary plans for the meeting have been completed by Grove Wills of Eveleth, president; A. G. Rutledge of Bemidji, secretary and treasurer, and L. A. Rossman and A. L. La Freniere, Grand Rapids publishers.

Will Review Industry

The newspaper industry in the Northwest, from its pioneer days to the present, will be reviewed by speakers who will address sessions of the meeting. C. W. Hillman of the Two Harbors Chronicle will discuss "From Locomotive to Printshop;" Rudolph Lee, Long Prairie Leader, "Newspaper Bookkeeping;" Fay Cravens, Milaca Times, "The Independent Newspaper," and Marion Johnson, director of the University of Minnesota school of journalism, "The University and the Country Press." Herman Roe, Northfield News, president of the National Editorial association, will speak on a subject to be selected, and Marion Johnson, publisher of the Duluth Evening Herald, and several others also will speak.

Visiting editors will be taken thru the Itasca Paper company's mill and the J. J. Nartzik company's veneer plant and will spend one session in the shop of the Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

Business Men to Entertain

Grand Rapids business men will entertain the editors at a banquet in the North Central Minnesota Agricultural School and Experiment station.

Organized in 1908, the Northern Minnesota Editorial association's membership includes editors of newspapers throughout the range and come from North Dakota. Its officials are Grove Wills, Eveleth Clarion, president; Paul Kinney, Alexandria Citizen-News, vice president; A. G. Rutledge, Bemidji Pioneer-Sentinel, secretary and treasurer, and E. M. LaFond, Little Falls Transcript, L. Benshoof, Detroit Record and Keith Rogers, Park Rapids Enterprise, members of the executive committee.

The association has more than 200 members representing 44 counties in Minnesota and two in North Dakota. Governor Theodore Christianson is a member as a representative of the Dawson Standard and several Twin Cities men are members.

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Dec. 6.—(By Department of Agriculture)—CATTLE—Receipts, 25,000. Yearlings and light heifers steady to strong; early top yearlings $13.25; weighty steers uneven, steady to weak; best heavies $10.75; killing quality plain; light and medium predominate, steady to strong; stockers and feeders scarce; some easiness in fat cows and heifers; bidding lower on cutters; bulls scarce, active and stronger; vealers 50c lower, mostly $10@10.50; strictly choice $11.50 to outsiders.

SHEEP—Receipts, 24,000. Market: Very slow; fat lambs opened weak to 25c lower; early bulk wooled lambs $13@13.50; holding choice medium weights and fed westerns around $13.65; few culls around 25c lower at $8.50@9; sheep steady; bulk fat ewes $5@6.50; best held above $6.75; feeding lambs scarce; no early trading; indications about steady; choice feeding lambs absent.

HOGS—(Soft or oily hogs and roasting pigs excluded)—Receipts, 52,000. Market steady to 10c lower. Top $12.95. Bulk $11.60@12. Heavyweight (250-350 lbs) $11.65@12.95; medium weight (200-250 lbs) $11.60@12.05; lightweight (160-200 lbs) $11.50@11.95; light lights (130-160 lbs) $11.40@11.85; packing sows, smooth and rough, $10.40@11.25; slaughter pigs (90-130 lbs) $11.40@12.

Slaughter Cattle and Calves—Steers (1500 lbs up) $9@11. Steers (1100-1500 lbs) choice $10.50@13; good $9.35@12.50; medium $8.25@10.25. Steers (1100 lbs down) choice $12.50@13.25; good $10.50@12.75; medium $8.50@10.75; common $6.50@8.50. Light yearling steers and heifers, good and choice (850 lbs down) $9.75@12.75. Heifers, good and choice (850 lbs up) $7.15@12.75; common and medium (all weights) $6@8.50. Cows, good and choice, $5.15@7.50; common and medium, $4.50@4.65; canners and cutters, $3.85@4.50. Calves, medium to choice, $6@8.50. Vealers, cull to choice, $6.50@12. Feeder and stocker steers, common to choice, $5.50@8.25.

Slaughter Sheep and Lambs—Lambs, light and handyweight (84 lbs down) $11.25@13.75; cull and common (all weights) $7.75@11.25. Ewes, common to choice, $4.50@7; canners and cutters, $1.50@4.50. Feeding lambs, range stock, medium and choice, full wooled, $11@12.50.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Dec. 6.—(By Department of Agriculture)—HOGS—Receipts, 33,000. Market steady. 250-350 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 200-250 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 160-200 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 130-160 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 90-130 lbs, $11.50@12; packing sows, $10@10.50.

CATTLE—Receipts, 8,500. Market: All classes fully steady; spots strong to higher on better grade she stock. Calves, receipts, 1,500. Market: Vealers, quality considered, steady. Bulk: Beef steers, $6.50@8; beef cows, $4.25@5.25; low cutter and cutter cows, $3.50@3.75; vealers, $9.50; heavy calves, $4.50@6; stock and feeder steers, $5.25@6.50.

SHEEP—Receipts, 16,500. Market: Bidding lower on fat lambs; sheep steady. Bulk fat ewes, $4.50@6.50.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTER—Creamery: Extras, 55c; standards, 49c. Dairy: Firsts, 42@45c; seconds, 37@40c.

EGGS—Ordinaries, 42@46c; firsts, 47@51c.

CHEESE—Twins, 23¼@23¾c; Young Americas, 24½c.

LIVE POULTRY—Fowls, 24c; ducks, 25c; geese, 20@21c; turkeys, 34c; roosters, 18c.

POTATOES—Arrivals 107 cars; cars on track 267; cars in transit 601. Wisconsin sacked Round Whites, $2.20@2.35; fancy stock shade higher; ordinary quality and conditions stocks, $2@2.15. Minnesota sacked Round Whites, $2@2.25; occasional higher. Idaho sacked Russets, $2.50@2.75, with occasional higher.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTERFAT—Per lb., 52@54c.

MINNEAPOLIS CLOSING CASH PRICES

SPRING WHEAT—No. 1 Dark Northern, $1.43⅞@1.47⅞; No. 1 Dark Northern, to arrive, $1.43⅞. No. 1 Northern, $1.42⅞@1.44⅞; No. 1 Northern, to arrive, $1.42⅞. No. 2 Dark Northern, $1.39⅞@1.45⅞. No. 2 Northern, $1.38⅞@1.40⅞. No. 3 Dark Northern, $1.35⅞@1.42⅞. No. 3 Northern, $1.34⅞@1.36⅞.

CORN—No. 2 Yellow, 79½@80½c. No. 3 Yellow, 77½@79½c; No. 3 Yellow, to arrive, 72½c. No. 4 Yellow, 73½@76½c. No. 5 Yellow, 66½@70½c. No. 3 Mixed, 73½@75½c. No. 4 Mixed, 69½@71½c. No. 5 Mixed, 62½@66½c.

OATS—No. 2 White, 45¾@46¼c. No. 3 White, 44¼@45¼c; No. 3 White, to arrive, 43¾c. No. 4 White, 40¾@43¾c.

BARLEY—Choice to fancy, 66@68c; medium to good, 60@65c; lower grades, 50@59c.

RYE—No. 2, 92½@95½c; No. 2, to arrive, 91½c.

FLAXSEED—No. 2, $2.16¾@2.26¾; No. 1, to arrive, $2.16¾@2.21¾.

Language Change

"Inflammable" in its usual sense implies explosiveness of a character that will burn readily, and "flammable" has the same meaning. So much confusion has resulted that the former term has been abandoned, "flammable" now being used to indicate ready combustibility and "nonflammable" the opposite.

At Beginning and End

All men are born free and equal; then their equality takes a vacation until the undertaker gets busy with them.

"The Northwestern Bell" Employee Magazine Wins First Place in Nationwide Contest

Left, Miss Agnes Carlson, associate editor; right, Sig. U. Bergh, editor. In the background are representative covers of "The Northwestern Bell".

In a field of 290 entries, "The Northwestern Bell," employees' magazine of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company was declared the best all around employee magazine in America in a contest just concluded by the National Safety Council. The award was made at the annual meeting of the National Safety Congress at Detroit, Mich. Sig U. Bergh of Omaha is editor, and Miss Agnes Carlson, also of Omaha, is associate editor of the magazine.

Magazines submitted for the contest were judged on the following points: General character, educational features, safety features, make-up and art, and unusual features.

"The Northwestern Bell" has 88 employee correspondents covering Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and North and South Dakota, the five states in which the company operates. These correspondents report news and supply pictures for the magazine that is distributed monthly to the 10,000 employees of the company.

Only Way Little Gray Man Could Figure It

The big blue car, driven by the big red man with the big black cigar, hurtled round the turn at a dizzy clip. The little gray car was meandering along in the hands of the little gray man, who glanced around only in time to shrink from the menacing radiator and a great windshield sticker which bellowed genially:

"Howdy! Half the road's yours!"

Wildly he spun the wheel, but too late. With a neat, crunching "swish" the big blue car sliced off his rear wheel, mudguards and running boards. The poor remains floundered crazily to a dusty flop. The little gray man crept forth, peering after the rapidly vanishing juggernaut. Shading his eyes, he made out another cordial sticker which flaunted its message of cheer from the shining rear window. This, too, beamed:

"Howdy! Half the road's yours!"

The little gray man pondered as he surveyed his machine. It looked like a busted birdcage. At length he nodded, reassured.

"I reckon," he observed slowly, "that I was just on the wrong half."—Kansas City Times.

Origin of Buttercup, According to Legend

The buttercup is said to have its name from the old belief that cows which had fed on the flower gave the best milk for butter making.

This is obviously a fallacy, however—at least, so far as the early variety, known as the bulbous buttercup, is concerned—as cattle, in consequence of a bitter juice which is supposed to serve as a protection against animals, leave the plant severely alone. In the days when legends were woven around many of our flowers, the existence of the buttercup was ascribed to elfin vengeance on a miser. It happened, supposedly, in this way, says Mrs. Vivian Thompson:

The miser was carrying a sack of gold across a field, when fairies stopped him and asked for alms. He refused, of course, and the mischievous little folk then secretly cut a hole in his sack. As he walked on the coins fell one by one to the ground, and were thus scattered over the field. Under fairy influence they were immediately transformed into golden flowers we call buttercups.

Collateral Will Help

"A man who looks for helpful sympathy in financial misfortune," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is likely to be disappointed unless he has a little something to put up for collateral."—Washington Star.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves the congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile Sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee. —Advt

RED PEPPER FOR COLDS IN CHEST

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

Red Pepper Rub is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. —Advt.

Lodges and Their Names

A writer in the Nation has collected some astonishing particulars of American fraternal secret societies. He reports that their membership exceeds 23,000,000. They have almost exhausted the animal kingdom in their search for titles. There are Orders of Bears, Beavers, Blue Geese, Buffaloes, Bugs, Camels, Cooties, Deer, Dogs, Eagles (Red and Golden), Elks, Fleas, Goats, Go-Hawks, Larks, Lions, Monkeys, Moose, Mules, Orioles, Owls, Red Roosters, Reindeer, Serpents, Shrimps, Stags, Western Bees, White Rabbits and White Rats.

It is mentioned that the order of the Elks would have been the Moose if some of its founders had been better versed in nature lore. They received their name from a large moose head in Barnum's museum, which some of the members mistook for that of an elk.

View 17-Year Locust

The so-called "seventeen-year" locust is not a special kind of locust at all, but the common variety which changes its form under certain conditions. The fact has been discovered by a scientist at work in Egypt, where the locust pest has been a problem for years.

to work off the Cold and to fortify the system against Grip, Influenza and other serious ills resulting from a Cold. The Safe and Proven Remedy. Price 30c.

The box bears this signature

E. W. Grove

Since 1889

WANT ADS

Only 1c a word each issue

in the

Daily Dispatch

GET RESULTS

Just Telephone 74

Dispatch Want Ads

PRICE—One cent a word for each insertion

HELP WANTED

WOMEN—Make money sewing Children's Dresses, Bungalow Aprons. Experience unnecessary. Materials cut, instructions furnished. Ragfield Mfg. Co. 140 W. 42nd St., New York. 7635-157t2ms

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Good cow, fresh this month. 416 12th St., S. E. 7614-155t3p

FOR SALE—Pair girl's shoe hockey skates in good condition, size 4. Phone 962. 7632-157t2

SUPPOSE you had an ad, even no larger than this. Don't you think people would read it? You did.

FOR SALE — Peninsular range, piano, cheap. 410 South 9th. 7634-157t3

FOR SALE—Household goods, also piano. Everything at your own price. Apartment over Park theatre. 7594-152tf

FOR SALE—Full blood R. C., R. I. Red cockerels, $1.75. Clinton Wheeler. Phone 16-F-30. Rt. 2, Fort Ripley. 7618-155t3

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—House, 605 South 9th St. 7605-153t3peod

FOR RENT—3 unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 219 N. 8th St. 7627-156t3p

FOR RENT—All modern furnished, hot water heat, sitting room, bedroom, kitchenette and large porch. Front entrance. Phone 648-J. 7626-156t2

FOR RENT—Garage for two cars at Kingwood and 8th street. Brainerd State Bank. 7617-155t3

FOR RENT—3 housekeeping rooms furnished. Call 35-M. 223 N. 8th St. 7611-155t3p

GOOD rooms at National Hotel by day or week. Prices reasonable. 6031-308tf

FOR RENT — Large bedroom, hot water heat. 311 N. 8th St. 7633-157t6

FOR RENT — House at 1709 Oak street, modern except heat, four rooms and bath. Brainerd State Bank. 7616-155t3

If We Say It, It's So.
If It's So, We Say It

FLIT

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

DESTROYS

Moths, Roaches
Bedbugs, Flies

STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY)

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Attractive apartments, steam heated, electric lighted, with gas and bath. Also desirable store, centrally located R. R. Gould, phone 197. 2058-220tf

FOR RENT—4 room house, 3 blocks south of high school, 1009 South Broadway, water, lights, full basement, good condition, warm, $8.00. Nettleton, Gardner Block. 7636-157t2p

MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED — To do home nursing. Phone 635. 7637-157tf

WANTED TO RENT — All modern house. Close in. Write P. O. box 434. 7631-157t3

LOST—Pair of glasses in case. Reward. Call 1186-W. 7612-155t3

WANTED—Wood sawing. Phone 31-F-3. 7548-146t26p

LOST—Spaniel puppy, 4 white feet, white tip on tail. Call 272-M. 7638-157t2p

WOOD hauling and selling, jack pine wood. Phone 490-W. 7628-156t6p

EXPERIENCED typist, stenographer would like position. Address K-21 Dispatch. 7630-156t2p

YOUNG girl would like to assist with housework. 513 3rd Ave. 7624-156t2p

LOST—Ring of keys at Finnish hall Friday evening. Reward. Phone 970. 7639-157t2p

DRINK WATER IF BACK OR KIDNEYS HURT

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water — you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Advt

Hitt and Runn—None of Us Realize the "Nerve" We Have Until the Dentist Touches It: BY HITT

EDITORS GATHER IN GRAND RAPIDS

NORTHERN MINNESOTA ASS'N TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING JANUARY 20-22

Bemidji, Minn., Dec. 6.—"Devils" will serve luncheon and lefthanded monkey wrenches will have their day with type lice when the Northern Minnesota Editorial association conducts its annual business meeting at Grand Rapids, January 20 to 22.

Prelimnary plans for the meeting have been completed by Grove Wills of Eveleth, president; A. G. Rutledge of Bemidji, secretary and treasurer, and L. A. Rossman and A. L. LaFreniere, Grand Rapids publishers.

Will Review Industry

The newspaper industry in the Northwest, from its pioneer days to the present, will be reviewed by speakers who will address sessions of the meeting. C. W. Hillman of the Two Harbors Chronicle will discuss "From Locomotive to Printshop;" Rudolph Lee, Long Prairie Leader, "Newspaper Bookkeeping;" Fay Cravens, Milaca Times, "The Independent Newspaper," and Marion Johnson, director of the University of Minnesota school of journalism, "The University and the Country Press." Herman Roe, Northfield News, president of the National Editorial association, will speak on a subject to be selected, and Marion Johnson, publisher of the Duluth Evening Herald, and several others also will speak.

Visiting editors will be taken thru the Itasca Paper company's mill and the J. J. Nartzik company's veneer plant and will spend one session in the shop of the Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

Business Men to Entertain

Grand Rapids business men will entertain the editors at a banquet in the North Central Minnesota Agricultural School and Experiment station.

Organized in 1908, the Northern Minnesota Editorial association's membership includes editors of newspapers throughout the range and some from North Dakota. Its officials are Grove Wills, Eveleth Clarion, president; Paul Kinney, Alexandria Citizen-News, vice president; A. G. Rutledge, Bemidji Pioneer-Sentinel, secretary and treasurer, and E. M. LaFond, Little Falls Transcript, L. Benshoof, Detroit Record and Keith Rogers, Park Rapids Enterprise, members of the executive committee.

The association has more than 200 members representing 44 counties in Minnesota and two in North Dakota. Governor Theodore Christianson is a member as a representative of the Dawson Standard and several Twin Cities men are members.

LIVESTOCK, PRODUCE AND GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Dec. 6.—(By Department of Agriculture)—CATTLE—Receipts, 25,000. Yearlings and light heifers steady to strong; early top yearlings $13.25; weighty steers uneven, steady to weak; best heavies $10.75; killing quality plain; light and medium predominate, steady to strong; stockers and feeders scarce; some easiness in fat cows and heifers; bidding lower on cutters; bulls scarce, active and stronger; vealers 50c lower, mostly $10@10.50; strictly choice $11.50 to outsiders.

SHEEP—Receipts, 24,000. Market: Very slow; fat lambs opened weak to 25c lower; early bulk wooled lambs $13@13.50; holding choice medium weights and fed westerns around $13.65; few culls around 25c lower at $8.50@9; sheep steady; bulk fat ewes $5@6.50; best held above $6.75; feeding lambs scarce; no early trading; indications about steady; choice feeding lambs absent.

HOGS—(Soft or oily hogs and roasting pigs excluded)—Receipts, 52,000. Market steady to 10c lower. Top $12.95. Bulk $11.60@12. Heavyweight (250-350 lbs) $11.65@12.95; medium weight (200-250 lbs) $11.60@12.05; lightweight (160-200 lbs) $11.50@11.95; light lights (130-160 lbs) $11.40@11.85; packing sows, smooth and rough, $10.40@11.25; slaughter pigs (90-130 lbs) $11.40@12.

Slaughter Cattle and Calves—Steers (1500 lbs up) $9@11. Steers (1100-1500 lbs) choice $10.50@13; good $9.35@12.50; medium $8.25@10.25. Steers (1100 lbs down) choice $12.50@13.25; good $10.50@12.75; medium $8.50@10.75; common $6.50@8.50. Light yearling steers and heifers, good and choice (850 lbs down) $9.75@12.75. Heifers, good and choice (850 lbs up) $7.15@12.75; common and medium (all weights) $6@8.50. Cows, good and choice, $5.15@7.50; common and medium, $4.50@4.65; canners and cutters, $3.85@4.50. Calves, medium to choice, $6@8.50. Vealers, cull to choice, $6.50@12. Feeder and stocker steers, common to choice, $5.50@8.25.

Slaughter Sheep and Lambs—Lambs, light and handyweight (84 lbs down) $11.25@13.75; cull and common (all weights) $7.75@11.25. Ewes, common to choice, $4.50@7; canners and cutters, $1.50@4.50. Feeding lambs, range stock, medium and choice, full wooled, $11@12.50.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Dec. 6.—(By Department of Agriculture)—HOGS—Receipts, 33,000. Market steady. 250-350 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 200-250 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 160-200 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 130-160 lbs, $11.25@11.35; 90-130 lbs, $11.50@12; packing sows, $10@10.50.

CATTLE—Receipts, 8,500. Market: All classes fully steady; spots strong to higher on better grade she stock. Calves, receipts, 1,500. Market: Vealers, quality considered, steady. Bulk: Beef steers, $6.50@8; beef cows, $4.25@5.25; low cutter and cutter cows, $3.50@3.75; vealers, $9.50; heavy calves, $4.50@6; stock and feeder steers, $5.25@6.50.

SHEEP—Receipts, 16,500. Market: Bidding lower on fat lambs; sheep steady. Bulk fat ewes, $4.50@6.50.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTER—Creamery: Extras, 55c; standards, 49c. Dairy: Firsts, 42@45c; seconds, 37@40c.

EGGS—Ordinaries, 42@46c; firsts, 47@51c.

CHEESE—Twins, 23¼@23¾c; Young Americas, 24½c.

LIVE POULTRY—Fowls, 24c; ducks, 25c; geese, 20@21c; turkeys, 34c; roosters, 18c.

POTATOES—Arrivals 107 cars; cars on track 267; cars in transit 601. Wisconsin sacked Round Whites, $2.20@2.35; fancy stock shade higher; ordinary quality and conditions stocks, $2@2.15. Minnesota sacked Round Whites, $2@2.25; occasional higher. Idaho sacked Russets, $2.50@2.75, with occasional higher.

ST. PAUL PRODUCE MARKET

BUTTERFAT—Per lb., 52@54c.

MINNEAPOLIS CLOSING CASH PRICES

SPRING WHEAT—No. 1 Dark Northern, $1.43⅞@1.47⅞; No. 1 Dark Northern, to arrive, $1.43⅞. No. 1 Northern, $1.42⅞@1.44⅞; No. 1 Northern, to arrive, $1.42⅞. No. 2 Dark Northern, $1.39⅞@1.45⅞. No. 2 Northern, $1.38⅞@1.40⅞. No. 3 Dark Northern, $1.35⅞@1.42⅞. No. 3 Northern, $1.34⅞@1.36⅞.

CORN—No. 2 Yellow, 79½@80½c. No. 3 Yellow, 77½@79½c; No. 3 Yellow, to arrive, 72½c. No. 4 Yellow, 73½@76½c. No. 5 Yellow, 66½@70½c. No. 3 Mixed, 73½@75½c. No. 4 Mixed, 69½@71½c. No. 5 Mixed, 62½@66½c.

OATS—No. 2 White, 45¾@46¼c. No. 3 White, 44¼@45¼c; No. 3 White, to arrive, 43¾c. No. 4 White, 40¾@43¾c.

BARLEY—Choice to fancy, 66@68c; medium to good, 60@65c; lower grades, 50@59c.

RYE—No. 2, 92½@95½c; No. 2, to arrive, 91½c.

FLAXSEED—No. 2, $2.16¾@2.26¾; No. 1, to arrive, $2.16¾@2.21¾.

Language Change

"Inflammable" in its usual sense implies explosiveness of a character that will burn readily, and "flammable" has the same meaning. So much confusion has resulted that the former term has been abandoned, "flammable" now being used to indicate ready combustibility and "nonflammable" the opposite.

At Beginning and End

All men are born free and equal; then their equality takes a vacation until the undertaker gets busy with them.

"The Northwestern Bell" Employee Magazine Wins First Place in Nationwide Contest

Left, Miss Agnes Carlson, associate editor; right, Sig. U. Bergh, editor. In the background are representative covers of "The Northwestern Bell".

In a field of 290 entries, "The Northwestern Bell," employees' magazine of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company was declared the best all around employee magazine in America in a contest just concluded by the National Safety Council. The award was made at the annual meeting of the National Safety Congress at Detroit, Mich. Sig U. Bergh of Omaha is editor, and Miss Agnes Carlson, also of Omaha, is associate editor of the magazine.

Magazines submitted for the contest were judged on the following points: General character, educational features, safety features, make-up and art, and unusual features.

"The Northwestern Bell" has 88 employee correspondents covering Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and North and South Dakota, the five states in which the company operates. These correspondents report news and supply pictures for the magazine that is distributed monthly to the 10,000 employees of the company.

Only Way Little Gray Man Could Figure It

The big blue car, driven by the big red man with the big black cigar, hurtled round the turn at a dizzy clip. The little gray car was meandering along in the hands of the little gray man, who glanced around only in time to shrink from the menacing radiator and a great windshield sticker which bellowed genially:

"Howdy! Half the road's yours!"

Wildly he spun the wheel, but too late. With a neat, crunching "swish" the big blue car sliced off his rear wheel, mudguards and running boards. The poor remains floundered crazily to a dusty flop. The little gray man crept forth, peering after the rapidly vanishing juggernaut. Shading his eyes, he made out another cordial sticker which flaunted its message of cheer from the shining rear window. This, too, beamed:

"Howdy! Half the road's yours!"

The little gray man pondered as he surveyed his machine. It looked like a busted birdcage. At length he nodded, reassured.

"I reckon," he observed slowly, "that I was just on the wrong half."—Kansas City Times.

Origin of Buttercup, According to Legend

The buttercup is said to have its name from the old belief that cows which had fed on the flower gave the best milk for butter making.

This is obviously a fallacy, however—at least, so far as the early variety, known as the bulbous buttercup, is concerned—as cattle, in consequence of a bitter juice which is supposed to serve as a protection against animals, leave the plant severely alone. In the days when legends were woven around many of our flowers, the existence of the buttercup was ascribed to elfin vengeance on a miser. It happened, supposedly, in this way, says Mrs. Vivian Thompson:

The miser was carrying a sack of gold across a field, when fairies stopped him and asked for alms. He refused, of course, and the mischievous little folk then secretly cut a hole in his sack. As he walked on the coins fell one by one to the ground, and were thus scattered over the field. Under fairy influence they were immediately transformed into golden flowers we call buttercups.

RED PEPPER FOR COLDS IN CHEST

Ease your tight, aching chest. Stop the pain. Break up the congestion. Feel a bad cold loosen up in just a short time.

Red Pepper Rub is the cold remedy that brings quickest relief. It cannot hurt you and it certainly seems to end the tightness and drive the congestion and soreness right out.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates right down into colds, congestion, aching muscles and sore, stiff joints relief comes at once.

The moment you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the congested spot is warmed through and through. When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. —Advt.

Collateral Will Help

"A man who looks for helpful sympathy in financial misfortune," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is likely to be disappointed unless he has a little something to put up for collateral."—Washington Star.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves the congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile Sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee. —Advt

Lodges and Their Names

A writer in the Nation has collected some astonishing particulars of American fraternal secret societies. He reports that their membership exceeds 23,000,000. They have almost exhausted the animal kingdom in their search for titles. There are Orders of Bears, Beavers, Blue Geese, Buffaloes, Bugs, Camels, Cooties, Deer, Dogs, Eagles (Red and Golden), Elks, Fleas, Goats, Go-Hawks, Larks, Lions, Monkeys, Moose, Mules, Orioles, Owls, Red Roosters, Reindeer, Serpents, Shrimps, Stags, Western Bees, White Rabbits and White Rats.

It is mentioned that the order of the Elks would have been the Moose if some of its founders had been better versed in nature lore. They received their name from a large moose head in Barnum's museum, which some of the members mistook for that of an elk.

View 17-Year Locust

The so-called "seventeen-year" locust is not a special kind of locust at all, but the common variety which changes its form under certain conditions. The fact has been discovered by a scientist at work in Egypt, where the locust pest has been a problem for years.

to work off the Cold and to fortify the system against Grip, Influenza and other serious ills resulting from a Cold. The Safe and Proven Remedy. Price 30c.

The box bears this signature

E. W. Grove

Since 1889

WANT ADS

Only 1c a word each issue

in the

Daily Dispatch

GET RESULTS

Just Telephone 74

Dispatch Want Ads

PRICE—One cent a word for each insertion

HELP WANTED

WOMEN—Make money sewing Children's Dresses, Bungalow Aprons. Experience unnecessary. Materials cut, instructions furnished. Radfield Mfg. Co. 140 W. 42nd St., New York. 7635-157t2ms

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Good cow, fresh this month. 416 12th St., S. E. 7614-155t3p

FOR SALE—Pair girl's shoe hockey skates in good condition, size 4. Phone 962. 7632-157t2

SUPPOSE you had an ad, even no larger than this. Don't you think people would read it? You did.

FOR SALE — Peninsular range, piano, cheap. 410 South 9th. 7634-157t3

FOR SALE—Household goods, also piano. Everything at your own price. Apartment over Park theatre. 7594-152tf

FOR SALE—Full blood R. C., R. I. Red cockerels, $1.75. Clinton Wheeler. Phone 16-F-30. Rt. 2, Fort Ripley. 7618-155t3

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—House, 605 South 9th St. 7605-153t3peod

FOR RENT — 3 unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. 219 N. 8th St. 7627-156t3p

FOR RENT—All modern furnished, hot water heat, sitting room, bedroom, kitchenette and large porch. Front entrance. Phone 648-J. 7626-156t2

FOR RENT—Garage for two cars at Kingwood and 8th street. Brainerd State Bank. 7617-155t3

FOR RENT—3 housekeeping rooms furnished. Call 35-M. 223 N. 8th St. 7611-155t3p

GOOD rooms at National Hotel by day or week. Prices reasonable. 6031-308tf

FOR RENT — Large bedroom, hot water heat. 311 N. 8th St. 7633-157t6

FOR RENT — House at 1709 Oak street, modern except heat, four rooms and bath. Brainerd State Bank. 7616-155t3

If We Say It, It's So.
If It's So, We Say It

FLIT
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
DESTROYS
Moths, Roaches
Bedbugs, Flies
STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY)

FOR RENT—Attractive apartments, steam heated, electric lighted, with gas and bath. Also desirable store, centrally located R. R. Gould, phone 197. 2058-220tf

FOR RENT—4 room house, 3 blocks south of high school, 1009 South Broadway, water, lights, full basement, good condition, warm, $8.00. Nettleton, Gardner Block. 7636-157t2p

MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED — To do home nursing. Phone 635. 7637-157tf

WANTED TO RENT — All modern house. Close in. Write P. O. box 434. 7631-157t3

LOST—Pair of glasses in case. Reward. Call 1186-W. 7612-155t3

WANTED—Wood sawing. Phone 31-F-3. 7548-146t26p

LOST—Spaniel puppy, 4 white feet, white tip on tail. Call 272-M. 7638-157t2p

WOOD hauling and selling, jack pine wood. Phone 490-W. 7628-156t6p

EXPERIENCED typist, stenographer would like position. Address K-21 Dispatch. 7630-156t2p

YOUNG girl would like to assist with housework. 513 3rd Ave. 7624-156t2p

LOST—Ring of keys at Finnish hall Friday evening. Reward. Phone 970. 7639-157t2p

DRINK WATER IF BACK OR KIDNEYS HURT

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water — you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Advt

Hitt and Runn—None of Us Realize the "Nerve" We Have Until the Dentist Touches It: BY HITT

